WHO IS ROGERS?

Concise Statement of the Man and What He Represents

Leon B. Rogers, the Citizens' Committee candidate for Mayor, is—

A man of integrity, high ideals, business experience and efficiency, and chock-full of energy;

A loyal and enthusiastic believer in Newton;

42 years of age, married, and has three children in our public schools;

A member of the Newton Board of Aldermen; and has served for two years on the Finance Committee;

Treasurer of the Rogers Fibre Co., a director and on the executive committee of the Market Trust Co., of Boston;

Director of the Welfare Bureau, Director of the Red Cross and Trustee and member of Executive Committee of the Newton Hospital;

Chairman of the last two Red Cross roll-call campaigns in Newton;

President of the Newton Hospital Association; which raised $80,000 this year for the Hospital;

One of the Captains of the Newton Constabulary Unit of the Massachusetts State Guard and did duty during the Boston police strike;

Not a politician and knows nothing about politics;

Not seeking office and if elected will serve but one term;

Keenly interested in our school problem and in securing adequate school facilities;

Firm in the belief that the Mayor, as ex-officio member of the school committee, should attend all meetings of that Committee and insists on co-operation between Mayor and Board of Aldermen;

In favor of appointing women to library, health, and playground departments;

In favor of a tax rate which will not discourage home-builders;

Opposed to excessive valuation of real estate;

Demanding, and if elected will insist on greater efficiency of City Departments and all City employees;

Opposed to political favors and rewards;

Subordinating success of his own candidacy to election of best possible members on Board of Aldermen.

As a $90,000,000 corporation (of which you as a taxpayer are a stockholder) with $3,000,000 of taxpayers' funds to be expended annually by the Mayor, the City of Newton demands a fearless, efficient, and progressive Business Executive, a man tested by experience and one whom you would be glad to see as a director of your bank, your business or your investment corporations.

Such a man is LEON B. ROGERS.

You are welcome to the Showrooms of Messrs. McKenney & Waterbury Co., Inc., 181 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, Mass., to the exhibition of the largest display of Electric, Gas and Oil Lighting Fixtures in this country.

ALDERMAN BLAKE ANSWERED

To the Editor of the Graphic:

In your issue of November 25 appeared a letter over the signature of Mr. Percy M. Blake in reference to myself and in simple justice it seems to call for a reply.

While I believe the gross misrepresentation of facts contained in Mr. Blake's letter will in no way influence the voters of Ward 2, yet I must say that if being the founder of a business and its active head since its start over 19 years ago and having this business today a going, dividend-paying concern, whose devices are in use in countries all over the world, does not indicate that I am a successful business man, then Mr. Blake's idea of what constitutes one is different from the popular conception. The Collins Switch & Signal Company entered into a contract with a plant in West Newton in 1913 to manufacture its devices and this contract is still in force and labor is furnished employment continuously in the manufacturing of its devices.

Mr. Blake's collector of "information" has cunningly juggled certain figures in reference to my other newly formed company, the Collins Development Company, in his effort to distort the facts. He mentions $300 in such a way as to try to indicate that that was the working capital of the company and that $37.12 was representative of the company's cash on hand. The facts are that while $60,000.00 of stock was issued to me for plants, that $40,000.00 of stock was placed in the treasury and every cent of it was subscribed for by a few financially responsible men for cash and at par and this action of these men who know me intimately speaks much louder of my standing as a successful business man than does the hasty opinion of Mr. Blake who has never met me. If the voters of Ward 2 are interested in so petty a matter as the cash balance of this company, I can say that just once, have I varied from my usual rule of keeping cash on hand of four figures. This was for a few days only and it is this short period that Mr. Blake's informer picks out. What is more important however is that every cent has been gotten honestly and every bill is paid promptly in 30 days.

It has been my ambition to conduct a clean, wholesome, man like campaign. I have so conducted it and I shall continue to so conduct it. In charity to Mr. Blake I shall assume he wrote his letter on an improper presentation of the case to him. It is impossible for me to believe that a man of the standing of my opponent could have approved of going into my intimate personal affairs in the public press. When Mr. Blake concluded to do this discourteous thing, could he not at least have gotten his information from accurate sources and presented it in a fair manner? The only one he could (Continued on Page 2)

THE DICKINSON TESTIMONIAL

The "A. W. Dickinson Testimonial Fund Committee," in spite of being handicapped by the inclement weather, is functioning at top speed.

The village Captains, acting under the Chairman of the Fund Committee, Henry J. Nichols, are:

Newtonville, H. R. Bankart, Newton, C. Cunningham, Newton Centre, Richard Cook, Newton Highlands, Harry Skelton, Waban, Harry Matthews, Chestnut Hill, George Martin, Upper Falls, Thomas W. White, Auburndale, William T. Halliday, West Newton, Henry J. Nichols, Nonantum, Edwin O. Childs, Lower Falls, Thomas J. Sullivan.

A great many others have put their shoulders to the wheel and are working to make this testimonial to the best school boy coach a complete success, are: Wm. F. Garcelon, G. B. H. Macomber, Oliver M. Fisher, Louis K. Liggett, Charles H. Simons, Joseph A. Bryant, Fred E. Mann, Edgar S. Barker, John L. McKee, George Mills, Wm. S. Osborne, Charles Brady, Fred Woodcock, W. H. LaMond, Francis McGill, Leland Powers, W. M. Cahill, George A. Bacon, Horace M. Walton, Miss Margaret McGill, George Edmands, Howard Tuttle, E. F. Quinlan, Robert Bishop, George Haynes.

Committees have been appointed to handle the proposed banquet which will follow as a fitting climax to the drive. It is planned to finance the banquet for the players from the sale of tickets to the banquet and not from funds contributed to the Testimonial Fund.

Volunteer workers should communicate with W. T. Halliday, Secretary and Treasurer, care of Newton Trust Co., or with any of the Village Captains. Contributions may be sent direct to the same persons.

MEETING OF AUXILIARY

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Auxiliary to Newton Post, 48, American Legion, will be held on next Monday night, December 5th, in Legion Hall, West Newton, at 8 o'clock. Owing to the fact that there are several matters of importance to be brought up for discussion, in addition to the election, every member is urged to be present. There will be no contests for any of the offices, the nominating committee having decided upon one slate. The matter of conducting activities for the purpose of assisting the service men now in hospitals on Christmas will be discussed and some definite action taken. Reports of the various offices will be read and plans for the coming administration will be considered at some length.

LODGES

Dalhousie Lodge of Masons held an interesting meeting on Wednesday night when it had as a candidate for membership a grandson of the first master of the lodge. The chairs were filled by past masters of the lodge and it was a memorable occasion.

THE CITY ELECTION

The time for filing nomination papers for the coming city election on December 13th, expired on Wednesday afternoon and unless there are withdrawals before 5 o'clock this afternoon there will be a city-wide contest for mayor, and for six aldermen-at-large, besides local ward contests in three wards.

The preferential election law in force in this city will only affect the election of ward aldermen in ward 2, where there are three candidates. In this ward the voters will be allowed to express a first and a second choice.

COLBY-HAYNES

Miss Eva M. A. Haynes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Haynes of Maple street, Newton, was married on Thanksgiving Day to Mr. Walter J. Colby of Bristol, R. I. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., of the Immanuel Baptist Church.

The bridesmaid was Miss Thelma Cunningham of Newtonville, and the best man, Mr. Arthur Haynes, brother of the bride.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle with a train of white tulle and a veil of white tulle caught with orange blossoms. The bridesmaid's gown was of pink tulle with a train of white tulle.

A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony, the bride's sister, Mrs. Ernest Brown of Newtonville, played the wedding march.

The groom is a graduate of the Physical Training School of Indianapolis and is Director of the Bristol Y. M. C. A.

On their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Colby will live in Bristol, R. I.

A DESTRUCTIVE STORM

Tremendous Damage Done to Trees, Poles and Wires

Newton, in common with other suburbs of Boston, was hard hit by the storm of sleet and ice which began on Sunday and continued until Tuesday night.

The full effect of the storm was not realized until late Monday afternoon and continued through that night and all day Tuesday. The trees suffered the most, the ice encasing the trunks and larger limbs while every twig was an icicle of an inch or more in diameter. The weight of the ice broke down limbs and branches and even large trees were overcome. The electric light and telephone poles were not strong enough to carry the weight of the ice on the wires and were also burdened with the falling trees and branches. Many streets were made impassable by the fallen poles and trees and remained so until Wednesday. On account of the many broken wires, the electric power was shut off on Monday and the city was in darkness, save for its gas lights on Monday and Tuesday nights.

The absence of the street lights, the unusual appearance of the trees, shrouded in garments of ice, the frequent crash of falling branches and trees, the streets littered with sprawling limbs, through which one had to pick a way, and the imminent danger of being struck by falling timber, made a weird experience, never to be forgotten, for all who had to be out on Monday or Tuesday nights.

Thousands of trees in the city were absolutely ruined and thousands more are so mutilated and torn that years will be required to restore their natural beauty. The damage to poles and wires, while expensive, can be repaired, but it is impossible to replace the many handsome trees which have adorned our streets and homes for many years. Some idea of the extent of the destruction can be gathered from the fact that Newton has over 32,000 trees on its streets or near enough to shade them.

Half the fire alarm, telephone system was put out of commission and the department had to depend upon the telephone for notices of the few fires which occurred.

Telephone service at a distance from the various exchanges was very much affected. Street railway service along the main streets was fairly well maintained, but the cross country lines ran only at irregular intervals. The steam trains ran practically on time, although the signal systems were out of commission and had to be replaced by men.

The absence of light made the railroad stations and platforms rather gloomy places at night, the only illumination coming from lanterns and candles.

Only those stores and residences which were supplied with gas were able to present a cheerful appearance, candles, lamps, and lanterns being requisitioned in places which depended wholly on electricity.

Many social events and meetings had to be postponed on account of the lack of lighting facilities and for some hours our people returned to something like the primitive customs of our forefathers.

Street Commissioner Stuart had every available man at work clearing the streets of obstructions and debris, while the Edison and Telephone companies were equally busy. The city's pay roll alone run to nearly $1,500 a day, and there was a special meeting of the city government on Wednesday evening to authorize additional funds for the continuation of the work.

Schools were closed on Monday and Tuesday on account of the dangerous condition of travel as well as for the lack of light.

The rays of the sun on Wednesday morning on the ice-coated trees and shrubs made a wonderful and most beautiful sight. The sun made rapid work of the ice, however, most of it being gone by noon time.

On Tuesday afternoon, residents of West Newton and Auburndale were startled by a crash and a roar when the entire line of telegraph poles between the Washington street railroad bridge at West Newton and the Auburndale station, fell to the ground carrying a huge mass of wires. Railroad traffic on the two north tracks was discontinued until the debris could be cleared away. Fully 50 poles were in the wreck.

As the wires that pass over the Rowe street bridge fell, they came in contact with the Middlesex and Boston car wires, immediately charging the other lines. Officer Maurice Kiley, who was near the Auburndale station when the wires came down, noted that they had crossed the live wires and he stood guard on the bridge until an emergency crew of railroad men reached the scene. The officer warned all people away from the bridge until the wires had been cut at Rowe street.

All in all it was a storm which will linger in the memory, like that of 1898 when the steamer Portland was lost at sea.

At a special meeting of the aldermen Wednesday night $10,000 was unanimously voted the Street Commissioner to clear up the city after the big storm.

Herbert E. Locke of Newton Upper Falls and Irving J. French of Newton Centre were drawn as jurors for service at Cambridge Dec. 7th.

CITY ELECTION

December 13, 1921

Notice is hereby given of the following order (No. 50105) adopted by the Board of Aldermen on October 17, 1921, and approved by the Mayor on October 19, 1921, for the City Election, Tuesday, Dec. 13, 1921.

ORDERED: That the citizens of this city, qualified to vote for city officers, assemble in the several precincts in which they are entitled to vote, at the several polling places designated for the purpose by the Board of Aldermen, on Tuesday, the 13th day of December next, to give in their votes for a Mayor, Seven Aldermen-at-Large, being one from each ward, to serve for terms of two years, Two Members of the School Committee, being one each from Wards Four and Five, to serve for terms of three years, Seven Aldermen-by-Wards, being one from each ward, to serve for terms of one year. The Mayor, Aldermen-at-Large, and Members of the School Committee to be elected by the voters of the city at large, and the Aldermen-by-Wards elected by and from the voters of each of the seven wards.

Also to give in their votes "Yes" or "No" in answer to the following question: "Shall licenses be granted for the sale of certain non-intoxicating beverages in this city?"

All terms of office to commence on the first regular day of January, 1922. It is hereby further ORDERED, That the polling places at said meetings be opened at six o'clock A. M., and closed at four-thirty o'clock P. M., and the City Clerk is hereby directed to give notice thereof.

Attest:

FRANK M. GRANT, City Clerk.

PROPOSED PARKWAY AROUND NONANTUM SQUARE

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The first round of the bowling tournament resulted in team 7 coming out in the lead. This team is made up of Drisko, Harwood, Norris, Stevens, and Bosworth. Mr. Haynes' team is one point behind. Others follow along closely so the race from now until the finish will be interesting.

The Newton Methodist and the Watertown Congregational sent groups last week to use the alleys.

The Fellowship Club will hold its first meeting of the season on Monday evening, December 5th. Supper will be served at 6:30, and the speaker and guest of the evening will be Rev. Charles W. Brashares of Newton.

A public speaking class will be started soon after the last of the year. Anyone interested in such a course whether a member of the Newton Association or not, please call up for particulars.

A group of business men, at Mr. Loren D. Towle's invitation, met at the Hunnewell Club to hear Arthur E. Roberts and Fred D. Freeman tell the story of the Home Work of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The Chess Club meets every Friday evening at the Association and anyone interested in playing this game is invited to attend. In the future it is proposed to pick out a team and play matches with other clubs in surrounding cities.

Boys' Notes

On Saturday afternoon the Boys' Tournament in Pool and Ping-Pong took place. In the finals both events were closely contested. A real surprise was in store on the finals in Pool which brought Freddie Becker and Abbot Gotshall together. Most of the on-lookers had conceded the match to Gotshall on the showing he made in tournaments last year, he having won the individual championship with ease, but Saturday he met a worthy opponent in Becker who won out 25 to 22.

George Van Buskirk, playing his first series, defeated Robert Thompson, thereby winning third place, and Thompson fourth.

In the ping-pong Gotshall proved too strong for his opponent who was Maynard Moody. Both boys put up a great exhibition, Moody taking the first set 6-1. Gotshall coming back in the second set 6-1, then Gotshall kept up his winning streak taking the third and deciding set 6-4. The final results were Gotshall 1st, Moody 2nd, Becker 3rd, McCassey 4th. Cups were presented to the winners and ribbons for 2nd, 3rd and 4th places.

On Thanksgiving morning the Boys' Division ran off a Hare and Hound chase over the hills of Newton, covering a distance of about four miles.

The Hares in charge of Wilson Weidner led the Hounds in charge of Ray Van Buskirk a merry chase. The Hounds proved good following the trail but were not quite swift enough to tag any of the Hares, who returned home safe and sound about two minutes ahead of the Hounds, thereby winning the race. The Boys' Division is laying plans for a bigger and better chase during the Christmas vacation with the leaders reversed.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON BAZAAR obtain accurate information from is myself, the head of the concerns attacked by him but he did not bother to obtain his information accurately and present it fairly.

Mr. Blake says in his letter that a fundamental rule of politics is that facts should not be stated which are in any way misleading but he fails to follow his rule. However he did not mention also that airing a man's private affairs in the public press is not clean politics.

MR. COLLINS ENDORSED

Editor of Newton Graphic,

Dear sir: Referring to the "Political Advertisement" over Alderman Percy M. Blake's signature, in your issue of Nov. 25th, assailing Mr. Roy V. Collins' candidacy for alderman from this ward, and his claim as a successful business man, manufacturer, etc., let me say that I am very much surprised that such political tactics have been resorted to in order to "knock" one candidate in favor of another in this ward.

A very good reason for not expecting such a style of campaign literature is because a gentleman, who apparently considers himself political leader in ward 2, said to the writer recently, that for the past eleven years he has been interested in, and closely identified with politics and had never used, nor countenanced, anything but the cleanest kind of politics in our ward.

Alderman Blake I have known for 20 years, and my acquaintance with and respect for him lead me to believe that he never would have written such an article had he not been influenced into doing so by others and accepted their statement as facts, when it is generally known that the article is very misleading.

I have known Mr. Collins for several years and know him to be just what he and his friends claim for him; an honest, capable business man in Newton, and I am glad to add my endorsement of him for alderman from ward 2, and recommend him as being worthy of recognition by the voters at the election, December 13th.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN H. EDDY,

ALICE IN WONDERLAND

There will be a performance of this well-known play at the Hunnewell Club House, Newton, tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30 for the benefit of the endowment fund of the Emerson College of Oratory. Miss Mildred Taylor will accompany the children in their singing, and I am glad to add my endorsement of her for alderman from ward 2, and recommend him as being worthy of recognition by the voters at the election, December 13th.

NEAR EAST RELIEF

Mrs. Charles Wood Bond, representing the Massachusetts Committee on Near East Relief, was a recent caller to discuss plans for raising the $100,000 that must be sent from this state before the first of the year.

The Committee, of which Hon. Augustus P. Loring is chairman and Dr. W. A. Bartlett of Boston State Director, is a part of the national organization that has rescued more than 100,000 children from starvation. Just at present it is concerned over the fact that 150,000 Armenians in Cilicia are in danger of new massacre when the French troops evacuate that territory, as they are about to do.

Mrs. Bond stated that while the Massachusetts Committee will not have an organized drive, it will ask for the whole $100,000 as a Christmas offering.

Lorimer Hall in Tremont Temple, Boston, has been engaged from December 10 to 17 inclusive for public performances of the three-reel movie "Alice in Wonderland" which was screened in the Near East during the past summer. One hundred tickets have been reserved for this city.

Many Towns Named Chicago.

In addition to the big city on Lake Michigan, there are three Chicagos and two New Chicagos. One Chicago is in the mountains of Marion county, Kentucky. Another is quite a town in Huron county, Ohio; and the other is in Dawson county, Texas. The New Chicagos are in Indiana and Montana.

Oratory of Small Importance.

Jud Tunkins says oratory seems to have a backset, because a man who has eloquence and magnetism can make more money out of some kind of salesmanship.

HOSPITAL AID BRIDGE

The Newton Hospital Aid Association has sent out invitations to an Auction Bridge to be given at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday afternoon, December 5th. Cards at two o'clock will be followed by music at four, when Mrs. Geo. B. Rice of Boston will sing, after which tea will be served. Miss Riddle, matron of the Newton Hospital will be the guest of the afternoon.

Mrs. G. H. Talbot, president of the Hospital Aid Association, is chairman of the Committee and is assisted by Mrs. F. E. Anderson, Mrs. W. H. Lucas, Mrs. C. P. Hall, Mrs. G. W. St. Amant, Miss Florence Tower, Miss Rose Loring, Mrs. F. H. Williams, Mrs. W. M. Flanders, and Mrs. J. N. Lovell.

Mrs. H. D. Lloyd, Mrs. W. S. Carleton and the younger set of Newton will assist on Monday.

INSURANCE

Reasons why every person should insure while they may. 85 Per Cent of all adults at age of 80 years are dependent upon charity, 33 1/3 Per Cent of all widows are left without necessities of life, 75 Per Cent without the comforts, 1,000,000 women are left in their advanced years without adequate protection. 82 Per Cent of the children are forced to leave school before completing the eighth grade to aid in making a living for the family. All of these conditions may be overcome by a reasonable amount of proper insurance at a very slight cost.

REAL ESTATE SOLD

Several important real estate sales have taken place in the Newton Corner section of Newton in the last few days. Mrs. H. W. Kendall has sold her estate at 91 Park street, comprising a large, modern, frame house of 15 rooms and two baths together with about 12,000 square feet of land. Mrs. Helen Coughlin, of Boston, was the purchaser. After extensive improvements, Mrs. Coughlin will occupy as a permanent home. The location is a beautiful one. The sale price was far in excess of the tax valuation.

Mr. John F. Cahill has sold his three-apartment house at 34 Channing street. The house is of frame construction, comprising three apartments of six rooms and bath each, together with about 6,000 feet of land. The particular significance of the sale is that the estate is one of the very few three apartments to be found in the City of Newton, its exclusive location central to all transportation makes the property a very desirable purchase. The tax value is $10,000. The purchase price was much in excess of these figures. Mr. George W. Macgregor purchased for an investment.

Mr. James Casey has sold his two-apartment frame house at 31 Jefferson street. The house comprises two apartments of 7 and 8 rooms and bath each, together with about 6,000 feet of land. The property is modern, occupying a corner lot with a tax value of $6,000. The purchase price being far in excess of the valuation. The special feature of this sale is that the property is located on a direct line of approach to the Metropolitan Boulevard and Charles River, and also in line with the extensive improvements soon to take place along Jefferson street to the Boulevard. Mr. Batolo Iacono, of Boston, purchases for a home.

The estate of Mary A. Brackett has sold to Mrs. Joseph J. Reser, of Cambridge, Mass., two of the most desirable building lots fronting on the Metropolitan Boulevard in the Newton section. The lots are numbered 7 and 8 on the plan of the above estate, and comprise about 11,000 feet. The land enjoys a most picturesque elevation, overlooking the Metropolitan Boulevard Park system and Charles River. The purchase price was far in excess of the tax valuation. It is the purchaser's intention to improve the land in the near future by building a handsome bungalow-typed cottage house for her family use. The above sales were consummated through the office of M. O'Connor, 277 Washington street, Newton, Mass. Newton North 1446.

EDWARD G. LOWRY

A Writer of Recognized Authority on National Government's Business Methods.

No Washington correspondent is better known or more highly esteemed than Edward G. Lowry. That in itself means that he has broad and deep knowledge of national and world affairs; that he is skillful in getting the news and tactful in writing it, and that he has the confidence of the public men with whom he comes in contact. But Mr. Lowry has more than that. He has the really patriotic feeling that the intimate knowledge of the nation's affairs, which he acquires through his work in Washington, should be imparted to the people of the country who have not his privileges, in such a way that they will be led to take that personal interest in the doings of the government, which alone will result in good government. He wants the people to realize that it is their government, answerable to them only, and that they only are responsible for its good qualities and its bad qualities. It is this feeling that has inspired much of Mr. Lowry's best work.

Born in Atlanta in 1876, Mr. Lowry was educated in private schools, the Georgia Military Institute and by private tutors, and began his journalistic career at the age of twenty-four. In 1904 he was sent to Washington and has been there almost continuously ever since. He has been the political correspondent of Harper's Weekly, has written many articles for the periodical press and since 1913 has been the Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post, and for a considerable time the managing editor of that paper. When Germany started the World war the government naturally found important work for Mr. Lowry. For two years he was attached to the American embassy in London, and then he returned to become a captain in the aviation section of the signal corps. Then he was assistant military attaché at London and on the British front in Flanders, and was with the American Army of Occupation in Germany. For his valuable work he was awarded the British Military Cross. Recently he wrote "Washington Close-Ups," a series of character sketches of eminent figures in the national capital, which the country is reading with vast enjoyment. For two years Mr. Lowry has been making a close study of the business of the government. He is given credit in congress for his aid in passing the budget bill and in bringing about the naming of the joint committee of the house and senate to investigate and report upon the administration and organization of the government executive departments. He now wants the people of the United States to know the details of the United States government, which is their business. He believes the knowledge of these details will make of them better Americans and give them a better government.

No man not imbued with Mr. Lowry's high ideal could have carried out this study of the government business so exhaustively and painstakingly as has he. Probably he now knows more about it than any other man in the world. With extraordinary perseverance and dogged persistence he went after hidden facts and multifarious details—and got them. Nothing was too big for his comprehension or too small for his attention. At one time he went to a member of the cabinet with the statement that the government had, on its payrolls, exclusive of the officers and men of the army and navy, one employee for each 68 people of the United States ten years of age and over engaged in gainful occupations. It took that cabinet officer, with the assistants he had at his command, a considerable time, and considerable effort to verify Mr. Lowry's statement, but he found it to be true.

As the result of his careful studies Mr. Lowry has written a series of articles on the business of government income and expense; where the money comes from, and how and for what it is spent; whether the organization of the business side of government is efficient or inefficient; whether the government wastes the money we give it. The series is not in any sense polemical. It is not an attack, not a muck-raking expedition. It recites facts, conceded, acknowledged facts. These facts come from the men in the government—from the government itself—and they are all facts that every American citizen is entitled to know and should know.

The series of articles on this subject of "Where Your Taxes Go" will be carried in these columns. They should be read by every American who is interested in the welfare of the nation.

DISARMMENTS AND PACIFIC PROBLEMS

The December, 1921, issue of the World's Work contains an article by Lindsay Rogers on "Books on Disarmament and Pacific Problems." He gives this information as suggestions to readers who wish to obtain a full historical and technical background of the subjects discussed at the Washington Conference. Of the books which he mentions, the Newton Free Library has many.

Mr. Rogers states "Thus, Mr. F. S. Oliver's 'Ordeal by Battle' (F079-048)—called by Mr. Roosevelt the best book produced by the war—argued for conscription and asserted the criminal negligence of the English Liberal Party leaders in having an army totally inadequate to uphold their continental policy. Admiral Mahan, America's most distinguished naval strategist, complained in a volume of essays published in 1912—'Armaments and Arbitration: The Place of Force in the International Relations of States' (JQ-M27)—that 'the naval policy of the country as regards the power of the fleet will not be properly ordered until an arrangement is made by which the foreign relations and naval factors are co-ordinated in some procedure in which both are considered; not only separately, but in connection one with the other.' On the pacifist side, to mention only one example, Mr. Norman Angell has devoted a book to 'The Dangers of Half-Preparedness.' (JQ-A58 e)

There is a very extensive literature dealing with the limitation of armaments. In 1817 the United States and Great Britain agreed not to fortify the Canadian frontier. The consideration and personalities concerned in this agreement are well described by former Secretary of State John W. Foster, in 'A Century of American Diplomacy' (JZ83-F81c). The other successful attempt was the treaty of 1902-1903 between Argentina and Chile relating to naval armaments. 'The Christ of the Andes' was erected to commemorate the signing of this treaty. Both agreements were permitted because permitted by the policies of the countries concerned.

"Assuming the foreign policy of the United States to demand the retention and defense of the Philippines and the maintenance of the open door in China, what armament will be required? For such matters Americans must go to a recently published book by an English naval critic, Hector C. Bywater, 'Sea Power in the Pacific: A Study of the American-Japanese Naval Problem' (UN-B99). The volume, as its title indicates, deals with the naval resources of the two powers, and the strategic problems likely to arise in the unhappy event of an armed conflict for the mastery of the Pacific."

"On the question of Japan's industrial resources, her dependence on, yet great strength, from China's iron and coal; on the export of capital, the open door, and economic factors in general, Bywater has very little to say. These matters have been dealt with by many serious writers, and unfortunately, by many propagandists. The whole question of economic factors in international relations has been brilliantly treated by an American and by an Englishman, in works of lasting importance: Walter Lippmann, 'The Stakes of Diplomacy' (JZ-L66) and H. N. Brailsford, 'The War of Steel and Gold' (JQ-B73). Neither wrote with particular reference to China, but their conclusions as to the inevitability of steel to protect or prevent exploitation for gold in backward areas—the stakes of diplomacy—are as applicable to China as they were to Morocco or Persia. The formulation of the American attitude toward the open door is adequately outlined in Thayer's 'Life of John Hay' (EH322-T) and for the story of Japan's expansion in and penetration of China, several good books are available: Hornbeck's 'Contemporary Politics in the Far East' (JG60-H78), Putnam-Weale's 'The Fight for the Republic in China' (F85-W37) and Millard's 'Democracy and the Eastern Question' (F86-M61d). They draw up a rather impressive indictment. The other side of the case is very fairly stated in Kawakami's 'Japan in World Politics.' (JU67-K17) Newton Free Library.

SCHOOL NOTES

Newton High School

As the trolley service was so irregular on Wednesday, November 30th, the attendance at the Newton High School was exceedingly low.

Preparations for the "Dynamo," the Technical High School paper, are well under way and it is expected that the first issue will be out about Dec. 19. There are a great many candidates out for hockey this year, and if things turn out we ought to have a leading team this winter.

Mason School

The Mason School had its usual Thanksgiving hall gathering, consisting of recitations and songs. These pupils took part: Simon Shain, Frances Purple, Elizabeth Barrett, Caroline Lewis, Catherine Barry, Parker Williams, Albert Scott.

The repairs on the Mason third floor are finished so that Mrs. Leary's fifth grade are back in their pleasant room. Wednesday morning, a goodly number were in attendance in all the rooms in spite of the dangerous walking.

Containers Expensive

It is computed that from a tenth to a quarter of the cost of foodstuffs in the United States goes to pay for crates and other containers that are thrown away instead of being used a second time.—Brooklyn Eagle.

EDITORIAL

The editor of the Graphic has been frequently asked his reasons for opposing the re-election of Mr. Childs as mayor of this city, and it may be wise at this time to attempt to answer that question.

In the first place, let us make a clear distinction between "Ned" Childs, the man, and Mr. Childs, as Mayor of Newton, and have it understood that we shall confine ourselves wholly to his official acts as our chief executive. In order that our readers may better appreciate our view point, let us say in the beginning, that the editor has served at City Hall under fourteen different mayors, beginning as a young man under Mayor Kimball in 1885 and continuing until the present time. We therefore understand and possibly appreciate more than the average citizen, the high standard of service which most of these gentlemen gave to the city and it is not to be wondered at that any lessening of that standard causes us disappointment and regret.

While personally a likeable and lovable man even his most intimate friends admit that Mr. Childs lacks executive ability.

During his eight years of service he has developed no striking qualities of leadership, refuses to accept any responsibility for his official acts and has utterly failed to provide or to even suggest plans for the future of this rapidly growing city.

In one of the most important duties of the mayor—that of preparing and submitting the annual budget—a matter now involving around $2,500,000 he has presented such poorly considered measures that the aldermen have had to curtail his recommendations thousands of dollars, the cut this year being $165,000. This should be compared with the budgets of former mayors, where the changes made by the aldermen were few and slight.

He has neglected his duty as an ex officio member of the school committee, having attended but one meeting in eight years and during the three years of his service prior to the outbreak of the war, failed to note the rapidly increasing school population and the crying need of more school buildings.

With the exception of the police and street departments, he has (apparently) left the other city officials to run their own affairs and it is said that his principal interest in the police department has been to interfere and thus destroy all discipline, and in the street department to allow as much time off and as many vacations as the employees desired.

On the other hand, Alderman Rogers, in the two years he has served in the city government, has shown a broad grasp of city affairs, and his executive ability has been proved on several public occasions as well as in the management of his own business. If elected mayor of our city, he will endeavor to restore the high standard of discipline and efficiency in city work and will rank with the best of our mayors of the past.

Alderman Henry I. Harriman has undoubtedly pointed the way to a solution of the traffic problem of Nonantum square. On next Monday evening the aldermen will give a hearing on Mr. Harriman's plan for a parkway from Centre street at Williams street, crossing diagonally on private property to the corner of Channing and Washington streets, and a further extension across the Centre place railroad bridge and over private property to the junction of Church and Centre streets. This plan also contemplates some action either by the town of Watertown or the Middlesex County Commissioners for a connection with this parkway at Centre and Williams streets and the boulevard, now on the south side of the Charles River at the corner of Maple and Jefferson streets.

Such a parkway would take the traffic from the Charles River boulevard around Nonantum square either for Newtonville or Newton Centre, in broad, easy curves, and at the same time would open up some excellent property for business purposes.

The relief of Nonantum square has been studied for years by engineers and by the Planning Board, and several schemes suggested, all of which would entail considerable expense and none of which would wholly solve the problem. It is fair to say for the Planning Board that they have considered their study of the matter to strictly Newton property, while Mr. Harriman's scheme runs into the Town of Watertown—a fact which may complicate the situation.

Viewed in the abstract the Harriman plan is undoubtedly the best yet suggested and, if the co-operation of Watertown can be secured, seems to be both feasible and practicable.

It is rather funny to see how the members of the board of aldermen try to side step the Junior High School proposition, when everyone knows that in voting the money to build the new school building at Newtonville, they are giving the school committee just what it wanted to establish this plan. The one favorable aspect of the matter as we see it, is the undoubted relief it will give the present congested conditions at the High Schools.

The storm this week, with its curtailment of electric light and power, makes us realize how dependent we have become on what were once considered as mere luxuries.

Where Your Taxes Go

How Uncle Sam Spends Your Money in Conducting Your Business

WHY YOU'RE INTERESTED

I wish you would take what is written here as a personal report addressed directly to you from me about your business. Don't think of it or read it as an article about "politics," or remote public affairs at Washington. It is not that at all. It is what I ask you to think it, a personal business report to you relating to your individual concerns, your pocketbook and your welfare. I have no other interest than to tell you the exact truth.

Assume that you have sent me to Washington to find out for you what your agents are doing, how they are managing your affairs and spending your money. I call them your agents for that is all they are—the President, the members of the cabinet, the senators and all the members of the house of representatives. You hire them, you pay them, and you can fire them.

You may think of them in deference and awe as a group of eminent statesmen, or you may call them in flippancy and too hasty contempt "a lot of politicians." But whatever you call them, they are your hired men. They attend to your collective business, which is called the public business.

Query: Are they doing it efficiently and with a single-minded devotion to your interests?

Perhaps the largest item in the high cost of living is the high cost of government. And far and away the largest item in the high cost of government is the high cost of armament; preparation for war. About 90 per cent of all government revenues, and that means the money taken from you as taxes, goes to pay for wars, past, present and future.

Before I have concluded this series of articles I expect to show you conclusively that the impelling motive that induced President Harding to call the present conference in Washington to consider limitation of armaments was financial. The pressing need of considering a proposal for a reduction or limitation by agreement of war expenditure was not made entirely on the ground of morality or righteousness, but as a plan for cutting down the operating expenses of the government.

If the United States government were an individual we would say that it was broke, for its expenses exceed its income.

Your interest is simply this: that whatever decision is made you will have to pay the bill. If today we didn't have these army and navy expenses you would have to pay in taxes less than $1,000,000,000 a year instead of $5,000,000,000. That means we would have about $4,000,000,000 more a year to spend on our private needs and pleasures. I frankly confess that I would enjoy having four-fifths of my taxes knocked off. Wouldn't you?

Secretary Weeks of the War department gave public warning a little while ago that the government would require of us about $17,000,000 in the next thirty months to meet current expenses and other obligations. Persons who have given close study to that possibility say that the need will be nearer $20,000,000, than $17,000,000. The great bulk of that is for past and prospective war expenditures.

For this, you and congress and the Executive departments at Washington are responsible. You more than anybody else, for it is your money that is being spent and you can stop it. In its simplest terms the procedure is this: You earn the money, congress takes it away from you in the form of taxes, and then congress and the Executive departments spend it.

A great part of it is wasted. This is established, conceded, confessed, and acknowledged by congress, which authorizes the expenditures, and by the executive officers of the government, who do the actual spending. It is your money that you have earned in your business, on your farm, or by the labor of your hands, that is being expended and wasted at Washington. Every cent that is extravagantly or needlessly expended by the government you could have in your pocket to meet the increased cost of food, lodging and clothing, doctors' bills and amusements, or to put away and save against a rainy day. If you only demanded determinedly and unitedly that governmental extravagance should cease.

I can tell you some of the conditions of governmental spending and how your money is chucked about, and I can tell you how you can stop it. The power is yours, and until you exercise it waste and extravagance will not stop.

Man Must Have Mustache.

To be without a mustache is a disgrace in many parts of North, or High, Albania. The Albanian mother tells her child stories in which, unlike our stage melodrama, it always is the hairless man who figures as the villain.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

A Y. W. C. A. FOR NEWTON

Last spring Miss Speare brought before the Woman's Association of Elliot Church the urgent need in Newton of a Y. W. C. A. A committee, with Mrs. Arthur Kendrick as chairman, was appointed to investigate and became thoroughly convinced that there was undoubtedly a genuine need. The various societies of Newton, including the churches, the Community Club, the Social Science Club, the Newton Circle, the Stearns School Center, and the Newton Welfare Bureau, were invited to send delegates to discuss the matter. The subject appealed. Conferences were continued. At the beginning of the summer a provisional committee of seven was chosen to carry further the investigation as to the need and to formulate plans as to how the undertaking should be launched. Meetings were held during the summer. Various groups of girls were reached. It was found that among them there was much interest in the project.

All the committees met and elected Mrs. Arthur Kendrick as permanent chairman. The committee had been given power of self-enlargement, so some new names were added. At present it consists of the following: Mrs. Arthur Kendrick, chairman; Miss Emma E. Walker, treasurer; Miss Woodman, secretary; Mrs. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., Miss Edith Jamieson, Miss Mabel Riley, Mrs. Arthur E. Holt, Miss Gertrude McCollum, Mrs. Louis D. Gibbs, Mrs. Leslie R. Moore.

The committee, after considering the subject from all sides, voted to start a Y. W. C. A. in Newton. Mr. Charles Haskell consented to take the chairmanship of the finance committee, which consists of Mr. William T. Rich and the committee already named. Two rooms have been secured where the Y. W. C. A. began its existence, and a young woman of much charm found to commence the club work among the girls. Mrs. Schuyler, the travelling secretary of the national society is expected to be in Newton soon to complete the organization of our local Y. W. C. A.

The one need now is funds. Thirty-five hundred dollars is wanted to cover the expenses of the first year's work. It is hoped that there will be many who will be glad to give the undertaking substantial financial support, for the committee is convinced that if any one will take pains to investigate he will be in no doubt as to Newton's need of the service which a Y. W. C. A. is so splendidly fitted to render. It is believed that a large number of our women will give the new organization the support of their membership. All sums, large or small, should be sent to Miss Emma E. Walker, 638 Centre street.

MR. FLANAGAN BURIED

The funeral of Joseph F. Flanagan took place last Friday morning with services in the Church of Our Lady. A solemn requiem high mass was celebrated by Fr. Slattery, assisted by Frs. Quinich, Mantle, Roach, Lynch and Cronin.

The bearers were Christopher Fitzgerald and Matthew Lorrain of New York and John O'Connor, Edward Brady, John Quinlan and William Flanagan of Boston.

Burial was in Holyhood Cemetery, Chestnut Hill. His will contained one public bequest, in which he leaves, with but one exception, all of his Newton real estate to the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph of the Roman Catholic diocese of Boston. The one exception is the property at 189 Jackson road, occupied at the present time by Pierre Vuilleumier. The bequest to the Sisters of St. Joseph includes Mr. Flanagan's beautiful home at Walnut Park, but not the furnishings.

The will further provides that his wife and family occupy the home at Walnut Park for one year after the appointment of executors of the will. To his wife, Mrs. Mary A. Flanagan, Mr. Flanagan left the sum of $1250 a month, and to his sister, Mrs. Marie F. O'Shea, $250 a month. The entire estate, outside of the bequests to Mrs. O'Shea and to the Sisters of St. Joseph, is left to his wife and six children.

Mr. Flanagan provided in his will that the executors of his estate purchase for his grave a lot in either Holyhood, St. Joseph's or Mt. Benedict Cemetery, and a tombstone which is not to cost more than $1000. He names his wife and the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company as executors.

West Newton

—Mr. Carl Pickhardt is on business trip to Chicago.

—Mr. Robert A. Whidden is ill at his home on Temple street.

—Miss Edith Thomas of 36 Regent street has returned from four months trip abroad.

—Mrs. Glover Hastings of Otis street entertained friends from Connecticut over the holiday.

—Mr. R. W. Pillsbury and family have moved to the George Hutchinson Estate, which he recently purchased. An auction bridge party will be held at the Northgate Club tomorrow night in charge of Mrs. J. L. MacDonald.

—A still alarm was rung last Friday for a fire in the chimney of the house owned by Mrs. Benjamin S. Palmer of Chestnut street.

—Miss Nella J. Pearson of Otis street has been entertaining Capt. and Mrs. L. A. Dale and children of Cold Springs on the Hudson, N. Y.

NARROW ESCAPE

Prompt work on the part of Lieut. Oscar Colby of Engine Two in seizing the wheel of the heavy truck as it was responding to a fire on Monday afternoon, after Driver William Jones had been struck heavily by the branch of a tree, probably prevented a serious accident on Chestnut street, with resultant injury to the members of the department riding on the machine.

The fire truck was responding to a still alarm for a fire in the Charles Thomas house at 36 Regent street. The machine had reached the foot of Chestnut street and the driver applied the full power. As the speeding machine passed under some low hanging branches, the driver swung his head to avoid one limb and as he did his face crashed into another limb. For the moment, he was stunned and released his grip on the wheel, involuntarily. The machine started to swerve from its course, when Lt. Colby, who was riding on the seat, beside the driver, reached over and grabbed the wheel, holding it steady until Jones had recovered his faculties.

The fire was caused by an overheated furnace and was stopped before it had done any material damage.

DEATH OF MRS. BURRISON

Mrs. Harry Child Burrison, wife of Prof. Henry K. Burrison, of Lincoln Park, West Newton, died suddenly on Monday evening, in her sixty-eighth year.

Mrs. Burrison was a member of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, and an active member of several Women's Clubs. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

She is survived by her husband, her daughter, Miss Olive K. Burrison, and her son, Ralph L. Burrison, formerly member of "B" Company, 101st Artillery, now in business in New York City.

Services were held on Thursday at Lincoln Park Baptist Church, Rev. Fred W. Peakes officiating, assisted by the Rev. Robert W. Van Kirk, a former pastor. Miss Dorothy Sprague was at the organ. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

RECOVER STOLEN PROPERTY

Mrs. E. M. Richards of 350 Chestnut street, West Newton, recovered a part of the $4500 worth of jewelry stolen from her home on Thanksgiving afternoon. Entrance was gained thru a porch window.

The articles, including a wrist watch, necklaces, pendants, barrettes and rings, were found Saturday by three boys, John Fitzgerald and Earle and Joseph Farley, all of Lexington, behind some shrubbery on Bedford street near Hill street in this town. The boys showed the jewelry to their parents, and they in turn communicated with the police.

These articles, all silver, had evidently been thrown from an automobile in which the burglars were riding.

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

'All Newton mourns the damage to the beautiful trees of our city, but a word of caution as to caring for what remains is timely, when all sorts and conditions of efficient and inefficient persons are clamoring to fix them up. The great need today should serve to arouse the dormant interest in scientific forestry, for only through strict application of these principles can our trees be saved to us. The appeal issued by Governor Cox is reprinted below at the request of the chairman of Conservation of the Newton Federation, Mrs. Fred H. Tucker:

"Gov. Cox yesterday appealed to citizens of Massachusetts not to cut down the shade trees dismembered by the sleet storm, but to make every effort to save them. He advised owners of the trees to consult local tree wardens as to the best methods of repairing the damage.

"In order to make the loss as small as possible, the Governor has asked Commissioner of Conservation William A. L. Brazeley to place the resources of his department at the disposal of the public and issue immediately helpful instructions."

Newton Hospital Aid Association

A Bridge Party will be held on Monday, December 5th, at 2 P. M., at the Brae Burn Country Club for the benefit of the Newton Hospital Aid Association. Miss Mary M. Riddle, superintendent of the hospital, will be the guest of the afternoon, and there will be music and tea at four o'clock. Mrs. W. M. Flanders, 12 Lake terrace, Newton Centre, has charge of the tickets.

Local Announcements

The meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C., postponed from last week on account of the storm, will be held at the home of Miss Mary E. Hyde next Monday afternoon. Miss Webster and Mrs. Hardy will present a study of Dante's "Paradiso."

The members of the Waban Woman's Club are looking forward to the meeting on Monday, December 5th, when Mary Parker Dunning will give her talk on "Through Syrian Streets and Doorways."

Mrs. C. H. Kattelle of Grove street will be hostess for the meeting of the Christian Era Study Club on Monday afternoon. "Cromwell," "The Commonwealth," and "Affairs in Ireland," are the topics for study. Mrs. Kattelle, Mrs. Grover and Miss Hall being in charge.

On Monday evening in Emerson School hall the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls will have a musical, the artists being Mrs. Agnes Newey Leighton, soprano; Miss Gladys Irene Billings, pianist; and Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald, reader. This will be an open meeting with no restriction upon guests.

Mrs. H. M. Cole of Somerset road, West Newton, will be the hostess for the Guest Night of the Newton Mothers' Club on Monday, December 5, at 8 P. M. Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, principal of Phillips Andover Academy, will speak upon "Youth and its Present-Day Problems."

The Dramatic Committee of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, under the direction of Mrs. Lawson W. Oakes, will present Piner's "The Amazons" at the next club meeting on Tuesday, December 6th, at 2.15 P. M. Membership tickets will admit club members for the afternoon. The play will be repeated on Wednesday, the following evening. Tickets may be obtained from members of the Dramatic and Hospitality committees. Candy will be on sale. All proceeds of the evening will be added to the Building Fund.

"Folk Songs, Art Songs, and Christmas Chimes" is the attractive title given to the program for the meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on the afternoon of Tuesday, the sixth of December, at the Methodist Parish House. Henry and Constantine Ramsay Gideon are so well known and appreciated as to need no introduction to an Auburndale audience. The Hospitality Committee, with Mrs. Rufus Estabrook as chairman, will serve tea.

Monday, December the twelfth, will be observed as "Auburndale Day" at the Children's Hospital. All residents of the village will be welcome as guests—the officers of the Auburndale Woman's Club being hostesses for afternoon tea.

On Tuesday afternoon the program for the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club is in charge of the Home Economics committee, Mrs. L. G. Roberts, chairman. Miss Flora MacDonald will give an informal talk upon "Hints toward Harmony," with illustrations. Miss Sylvia Church will sing a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur D. Quimby.

The contributions for the Children's Christmas Party will be received at this meeting, and members are asked to be as generous as possible, for the success of the affair rests upon the means supplied the committee. About fifty children are to be invited, who would otherwise have no real Christmas. This fact alone cannot fail to insure a goodly response on the part of the members.

At the business meeting of the Newton Social Science Club next Wednesday morning, Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison, Jr., and Miss Brown of the West Newton Music School will address the club.

On Wednesday afternoon, December 7, at 3.30, Mr. Norve Jephson O'Connor will give the third of his series of informal talks before the Literature class of the Newton Community Club in the card rooms of the Hunnewell Clubhouse.

Thursday afternoon at 2.30, Dr. MacGregor Jenkins, of the Atlantic Monthly, will speak at the regular meeting of the club on "Literature with a Large L." All who have heard Dr. Jenkins are enthusiastic regarding his lectures, so a real treat is in store for the club.

The Group Activities committee of the club announces the opening of a Gymnasium class to meet every Tuesday and Friday morning at the Y. M. C. A. at 10 o'clock. Address all communications to Mrs. John L. Sullivan, 9 Church road, Newton.

Wednesday, December 9, the Community Service Club will hold an all-day meeting in the Unitarian Parish house. The sewing this week will be for local needs, and as the work is behind on account of the omission of a meeting last month, a large attendance is urgently requested.

The Hon. Frank G. Allen, president of the Massachusetts Senate, will address the West Newton Women's Educational Club on "State Legislation," at the next meeting on Friday, December 9th, at 2.30, in Players' Small Hall. Mr. Knabe, pianist, will furnish music, and a social hour with tea will close the afternoon.

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, postponed its meeting this week on account of the storm. The next meeting will be held on Monday, December 12th, at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Harry Wells, 28 Parsons street, West Newton. The subjects assigned are Rome, Perugia and Assisi.

A Thanksgiving Party was held by the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, Nov. 26th. Mrs. Eliot Allen had charge of the affair, which proved most enjoyable. Various games and contests in keeping with the spirit of the Thanksgiving season formed the entertainment. Many of the ladies appeared in old-fashioned costumes, which occasioned much merriment. Refreshments were served by the Hospitality committee.

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club held a Thanksgiving Party as its meeting last week, when the members and many of their guests came in old-fashioned costumes. Much merriment resulted from the game of identifying photographs of their youth. Miss Madeleine Cobb, accompanied by Mr. Ernest Cobb, violinist, and Mrs. Collins at the piano, sang several songs. Refreshments in keeping with the season were served by the Hospitality committee. Mrs. Robert F. Sawyer, chairman. A social hour and dancing closed an enjoyable evening.

At the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on Wednesday morning Mrs. Carrie A. Hull, of the Newton Welfare Bureau, gave a brief account of the work done the past year with the money received from the sale of Christmas seals. Seventy-five per cent came back to Newton, and most of it was spent on preventive work with children, the amount of tuberculosis in the city being fortunately very small. Dr. Holt, eminent child specialist, Mrs. Hull stated, has recently spent a day visiting the Newton schools, and considered the work done here as the best he has seen.

The paper of the morning was given by Mrs. Curtis Nye Smith, the third in the series on Russia. It dealt with that part of the history of the House of Romanoff, which was made famous by Peter the Great and Catherine II. In delineating the character of Peter, Mrs. Smith portrayed his cruelty and barbarity as well as his great ability and devotion to the growth and development of Russia. His various battles with the Swedes, the Turks, and the Persians, gave Russia the right of entrance to the Baltic, the Caspian and the Black seas. He created the Russian navy and built St. Petersburg. He encouraged foreigners to come to Russia, and founded an academy at St. Petersburg, though he had little taste for scholarship himself.

Catherine II. was described as a handsome, stately woman, proud, courageous, and perpetually an actress. Her domestic life was unhappy, and she had innumerable favorites, many of them the most brilliant men in the state. Among her great achievements were the contest of Crimea, and territorial gains by victories over Turkey and Sweden. She appreciated the value of general education, but confined to the upper classes only. During her reign occurred the three partitions of Poland, which ended its independent life.

The Fortnightly Club of Newton Centre will hold its first meeting of the season, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. M. L. Cooley.

A musical will be given by Miss Mildred Howard and Miss Imogen Erdmon.

State Federation

Overcoming difficulties and coping with the unexpected made up the day of those women who were venturesome enough to attend the autumn meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs at Worcester on Tuesday of this week. Never within the recollection of the Club Editor has a meeting of the Federation been held under greater obstacles, and the philosophical way in which the delegates and the hostess club accepted conditions is worthy being chronicled.

Women coming from the south of Boston and even as near as Winthrop were utterly unconscious of the weather conditions obtaining west of the city. This fact probably accounts for the two special cars being filled to overflowing when the train left the South station promptly at 8.30 that morning. At Framingham, where a small group joined the party, the train was fully three-quarters of an hour late, so slowly and carefully was it necessary for it to proceed, there being no automatic signals working; while at Worcester it was 11.15, instead of 9.40, when the delegates were met by representatives of the Worcester Woman's Club. It was soon learned that no trolley cars could run on account of fallen wires, and the streets were filled with a wet snow, which was rapidly becoming rivers of water that common rubbers would be of little avail to keep out. In the course of time taxis appeared and the delegates eventually reached the clubhouse where the meeting was already in progress, although but a handful of women were present. With the reinforcements from the "official train," however, the hall was comfortably filled, there being probably some three or four hundred in attendance before the day was over.

Mrs. George Minot Baker, the Federation president, upon seeing the weather conditions of Monday wisely decided to start that day, so was on hand to open the meeting at the time announced, but delayed until eleven o'clock, when they had word that the Boston train was soon to arrive. Mrs. Grace M. Poole, first vice-president, of Little Falls, gave the opening on Monday near Worcester, so also spent the night there. As a result the meeting was well provided for, and the program was carried out practically as arranged. There was the customary welcome by the hostess president, Mrs. Daniel F. Gay, and the response by Mrs. Baker. Mrs. Poole reported the New England Conference and when the Boston delegation arrived. Mrs. Florence Spencer Darney was (Continued on Page 9)

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Plans to regulate and control advertising and soliciting propositions, and schemes, in the city of Newton are being perfected by the Newton Chamber of Commerce, the object of which is to give as soon as possible the same protection to the merchants and other business men of Newton which is given to local business men by chambers of commerce of other cities. A committee to carefully consider, analyze, and determine what of these many projects are worthy of the support of Newton Business men, has already been appointed. New and attractive display cards, referring all solicitors to the Chamber of Commerce, have been printed and will be distributed to members in the immediate future. It is felt that only the cooperation of business men themselves is now necessary to make the plan a success and that it will be functioning effectively within a week.
The committee appointed by President John T. Burns, includes Frank H. Franklin and William M. Cahill of Newton, George A. Schade of Newtonville, C. C. Prescott of West Newton, B. W. Riley of Auburndale, W. H. Brayton of Waban, Thomas J. Sullivan of Newton Lower Falls, I. F. Frost of Newton Centre, and George G. Sherman of Newton Highlands. Matters submitted to the secretary, will, after investigation, be referred to this Committee. The Committee and not the Secretary will determine in each instance whether propositions should be endorsed and supported by the Chamber or whether they are projects offering no benefit to members of the community, and thus not entitled to endorsement and support.

The board of directors of the Chamber will meet next Monday evening, December 5, in the Newton Free Library building, to consider and transact various matters of special and routine business. There will be several applications for membership to be submitted for the approval of the board. At the meeting of the Chamber on November 15, several members promised to secure three new members each. Some results have already been secured, while others have promised to report before the next meeting of the board.
The December meeting of the Chamber, for all members, will be held at the Newton Club on Friday evening, December 16. Advance notices as to speakers, and other details, will be sent to members within a few days. Every effort is being put forth to make an unusually interesting program and to make the meeting one that will contribute still further to the enthusiasm of the many members who are actively co-operating in the efforts to develop an enlarged and more useful chamber.

DEATH OF MR. HARGEDON

Mr. John J. Hargedon, for over fifty years a resident of West Newton, died early on Wednesday morning of last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William T. Coggar, 2 Greylock road, Allston, where he went to spend the winter, less than a week before his death. Although Mr. Hargedon has been unable to work for over twenty years, he was confined to his bed for only one day. Death was due to heart trouble.
Mr. Hargedon is survived by his widow and six daughters, the Misses Agnes and Margaret Hargedon of West Newton, Louise of Manchester, N. H., Mrs. Chester J. Sharp of Rockville, Md., Mrs. Charles Sheldon of Watertown, Mrs. William T. Coggar of Allston, and one son, Mr. John Hargedon of West Newton.
The funeral took place Friday morning from the home of his daughter, Mrs. William T. Coggar, in Allston, with a requiem high mass at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, at 9.30. Rev. Augustus Hargedon of St. Rose's Church, Chelsea, was in the sanctuary and read prayers at the grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. James Thomas, and Frank Priest, John and Peter Hargedon, and Sergeant Edward Desmond, Waltham.
The interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

SANDERSON-TUTTLE

Thanksgiving Day was the wedding day of Miss Edna Mae Tuttle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Tuttle of Crafts street, West Newton, and Mr. J. Leon Sanderson of Highland street, Waltham.
The bride, who was given away by her father, stood under an arch of crepe paper forming a cluster of three wedding bells. Rev. Harlan Page performed the ceremony which was a double ring service. The bride wore a gown of pussy willow silk, and a veil caught with orange blossoms. Her bridesmaid, Mrs. Winthrop Smith of Newton Centre, wore a gown of peach colored silk. The best man was Mr. Winthrop Smith of Newton Centre, and the ushers were Mr. Harold Holmes of West Newton, Mr. Hammond and Winslow Tuttle, brother of the bride.
A reception at the home of the bride, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion, followed the ceremony. About sixty guests were present, including many from out of town. After January 1st Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson will make their home at 15 Trowbridge street, Cambridge.

FOR DEVASTATED FRANCE

The Par Auction party for the benefit of Devastated France was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Holbrook on Waverley avenue, Newton, on Monday night in spite of the storm and the lack of lighting facilities. About ten tables were in play, the storm undoubtedly keeping many persons away.
The play was rather unusual, hands prepared by whist experts being used, so that every table had exactly the same hands. The par value of the total play of each of two sets of twelve hands was known so that there was not only the incentive of making a high score, but also to keep as near perfect play as possible. The winners at each table retained the cards as souvenirs of the game and each player will receive a memorandum showing what the correct play of each hand should have been.
Mrs. Prescott Warren was in charge of the affair.

THE SALVAGE SERVICE

The Salvage Service, which has been inaugurated in various Women's Clubs in recent years, is usually recognized as a manifestation of our old friend Thrift, but except where it has become firmly established and had time to educate its community, there is little knowledge of its operation or appreciation of its possibilities for usefulness.
Now the Salvage Service is established as an opportunity. It furnishes a means of exchange. There is hardly a family that has not some articles put away which they have felt it the part of thrift to save—they might use them some day, and new ones are expensive. But how often the time falls to arrive, though much space is filled and energy is used in keeping dust, rust or moths away, while time itself is enemy enough to destroy many fabrics. Wouldn't you welcome the opportunity to sell such things to some one who would be glad to get them at a reasonable price, knowing that if you ever needed more, the same source of supply would be open to you? Perhaps you are moving to a smaller house, an apartment or room, or the children have grown up and gone away; do you need all those spare furnishings?
How about the sleds, the moving picture machine or the doll carriage that would gladden some child's heart? If you have been waiting to replace your stove with a larger one, or that bookcase that Ruff had used, or that dress which never was becoming, why not do it now? Few of us were sent to Washington to study the problem of unemployment, but every one of us who buys now is adding a bit to its solution, while through the Salvage Service you may be able to make the old help purchase the new.
On the other hand, by adopting the motto, "Try the Salvage first," you may be able to buy what you want at a saving. The Salvage Service doesn't or shouldn't deal with "down and out" articles, but with those that may be uneeded in one place but that are still in good serviceable condition, and often almost, and sometimes quite as good as new. Couldn't Dicky be happy in a brass cage that Ruff had used during his short existence? Would the ashes be any dustier if sifted by a sister that had been used occasionally for eight months? Wouldn't many of you be able to enjoy a coat of fine material that had been carefully worn for a season, that is, of course, certainly if no one knows it? If you do feel that way, you may be sure that the Salvage Service does not divulge its secrets. Its relations are confidential.
This work of placing articles where they will be used is the function of the service. It will buy for you, or it will sell for you. It makes no charge for buying; in selling, a percentage of the selling price is retained as commission, to go to some stipulated cause, as some form of welfare work, or in one of our Newtons, toward a building fund for a Community Hall. To be successful such an undertaking must have the patronage of all classes of the community, and it should at the same time be well able to serve all. As the director of the "Benefit Shop" in a nearby town, a woman of means and refinement, said to me, "We have nice things, nice things that we ourselves buy." That is the field of the Salvage Service among ourselves; not to supplant the junk man or the rummage sale, but to keep in circulation things that are well worth money, but for some reason are no longer useful to the owner.
If your community hasn't this service, you may find one near at hand to patronize or you may start it. If you start it, prepare the field first. From the fertile soil of knowledge and general interest will come earlier and more fruit than from the ground enriched by faith alone. A wide publicity is a necessity for proper growth. If you have the service well established to get the habit of using it, and if it is new, be patient with it. It takes time and much co-operation to make an immediate response to requests possible but you can bring this condition nearer. Keep in touch with your bureau, stop hoarding and when you buy, "Try the Salvage first." In this way your Salvage Service may develop and offer more and better opportunities.

MINSTREL SHOW

Madam Southern will entertain the darlings on her plantation and an interesting and varied program will be given.
Songs will be sung by such renowned acts as the following: Mr. Rufus Q. Popocatepetl, Buster Barnacle Brown, Peter Peckerology, Black Joe Bones, Ebkanezo A. Piffle and Mr. Nick Nack Nock. Mr. Tambo Rastus Cohen will also sing a wonderful song.
Mr. Duzenberry Highstepper will dance a clog and the ever popular Cake Walk will be demonstrated.
Miss Arrabella Snowball will entertain and Miss Iona Carr will jingle the tambourine.
Other famous singers are, Miss Manilla Roper, Beaufortus Tattletale, Lucinda Quick and Topsy Toddlefoot.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES COM-PETE AT THE "Y"

The older boys S. S. Class of the Newtonville Congregational Church, taught by Mr. Sears, and the Immanuel Associates of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton met last Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. for an evening of friendly competition in the gymnasium. An interesting program of novelty races, relays, volley ball, and tag foot ball was enjoyed by the twenty-two participants. The Immanuel Associates were strong on the floor winning eight out of the nine races, also winning the volley ball game 15 to 8. The tag foot ball game resulted in a scoreless tie.
Following the gym program a swim was enjoyed, after which cocoa and doughnuts were served. Mr. Sears' class featured in this last event.
Similar contests are to be conducted for other classes during the winter season.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Stearns School

The Senior Girls' Club gave a musical entertainment at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Haven in Charlestown on Saturday, Nov. 26. Mary Delaney and Irene Mellen were in charge of the program which included vocal and instrumental numbers.

The school football team won the city championship by defeating the Horace Mann eleven last week Thursday afternoon at Burr Playground by the score of 21-13.

At the Thanksgiving exercises last week Wednesday, Mr. Winslow spoke to the members of the football team complimenting them for their wonderful work in the Horace Mann game. The season's scores so far are, Stearns 72, Peirce 0; Stearns 78, Mason 0; Stearns 64, Burr 0; Stearns 21, Horace Mann 12.

Bigelow School

The Social Science Club has made the Teachers' Rest Room in the Bigelow School a very attractive place. The couch has been thoroughly repaired, two very comfortable chairs with cretonne cushions have been added, and attractive cretonne draperies have been hung at the windows. The teachers very much appreciate the generous kindness which has added so much to their comfort.

STEARNS WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Only four playgrounds, Newton Centre, West Newton, Horace Mann and Stearns were able to enter into an American football league this fall, but these four playgrounds taking care of the Mason, Peirce, Horace Mann and Stearns Schools completed a most interesting and well played schedule. The four playground directors, Mr. Barton, Mr. Silvis, Mr. Harper and Mr. Dacey developed splendid teams. Through the kindness of Mr. Dickinson these men were able to follow somewhat the lines of coaching of the High School and follow the system of Coach Dickinson which is approved by all our leading colleges.

Stearns defeated Horace Mann at Burr Playground for the Grammar School Championship of Newton by a score of 21 to 12. The game was replete with features. Stearns played a rushing game while Horace Mann depended on the overhead game, completing three forward passes and one lateral pass for long gains.

FOR A THRIFTY XMAS

This is going to be a thrifty Christmas. Instead of a wasteful one if the nation's savings banks have their way about it. They believe that a great deal of money is spent in useless gifts every year, and it is their plan to turn a large share of that money into deposits.

"It simply means that the Savings Banks of Newton will open an account in any name and turn the passbook over to the giver," said Mr. Clark of the Newton Savings Bank. "I can't think of a gift which would be more welcome on Christmas morning than a savings bank book with a comfortable deposit inside. That should start anybody to saving money. It will show that the giver has confidence in the person receiving the gift, that they want them to get and have a real goal. It is the deal gift for everybody, because it is something that never will wear out, grow old or lose its charm. And it must ever be a reminder of the giver."

The local Savings Banks expect to add a considerable number of new de-positors through this Christmas plan and are ready to open accounts from $1 up.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

The new officers of Cryptic Council R. & S. M. were recently installed at a semi-public ceremony held at Masonic headquarters in Newtonville.
The installing officer was Raymond T.
Sewall, assisted by George W. Blinn and Rev. Paul Sterling, and these officers were duly installed: T. L. M. John Keays, Deputy Master, George E. Fisher, Principal Conductor, J. Harold Libbey, treasurer, George L. Sleeper, recorder, Lewis E. Moore, Edwin O.
Childs, captain of the Guard, Harry W. Twigg, conductor of council, Roland C. March, steward, Rev. M. H.
Lichter, chaplain, Payette B. Bennett, assistant chaplain, Burton
W. Moore, sentinel. The retiring Master, Herbert E. Smith, was presented by Mr. Sleeper with a past master's jewel and with a past master's apron by the members who had been admitted to the Council during his term as master. The apron bore the names of all these candidates and was made by Edwin S. Crandon, Grand Master of the Grand Council, and by Rev. M. H. Lichter.

KOMANS—WEAVER

The marriage is announced on Friday, November 25th, at the Presbyterian Church at Middletown, N. Y., of Miss Barbara Hortense Weaver, of Winchester, a graduate of the Newton Technical High School, 1916, and Mr.
Charles Komans, of Elmhurst, Long Island, New York.
Mr. Komans is an overseas veteran while Mrs. Komans served as an Army Nurse at Camp Upton, New York.
After Dec. 10th, the young couple will make their home at Elmhurst, Long Island, N. Y.

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIPS
LAGGING

In spite of the urgent appeal made by the officers of the Newton Chapter, the renewals of memberships this year are running considerably behind last year.

On the other hand, opportunities for the Newton Chapter to help the ex-service men in Newton are increasing every month and the demands on the Chapter for service will be greater this year than last.

There are 516 registered cases of disability in Newton and during the past year the Chapter has rendered service to 1,139 families of ex-service men. A General Secretary and two Assistants are constantly employed in rendering service in one form or another to these men and their families.

The Newton Post of the American Legion refers all cases to the Newton Chapter and is working in close cooperation with it.

During the past two years the Chapter has asked for $1 memberships only, but this year we need as many $5 and $10 memberships as we can possibly get, so that it will not be necessary for the Chapter to curtail any of its activities and that it may provide for next year's expenses from this year's receipts.

There are three classes of membership:

Regular Membership, . . . $1
Contributing Membership, . . . 5
Sustaining Membership, . . . 10

The Chapter retains for its own use in carrying on its activities in Newton, all but fifty cents of each membership. This fifty cents goes to the National Organization, so that if you take a $5 membership, the Chapter retains $4.50 to use in Newton—a $10 membership, $9.50 to use in Newton. A $1 membership, 50 cents to be used in Newton. Every member of the family should join. Newton does not receive credit for subscriptions taken out in Boston.

The Chapter shall need at least $15,- 000 next year to carry on its important activities. Last year there were approximately 12,000 memberships, but from present indications, it looks as though it would fall far short of this, this year. Solicitors are endeavoring to call personally on every family in Newton, but undoubtedly many will not be seen for one reason or another.
It is therefore urgently requested that those who are not called upon send their subscriptions by mail to the RED CROSS HEADQUARTERS, 306 Walnut street, Newtonville.
G. M. ANGER, Chairman.

LODGES

The Middlesex Norfolk Pomona Grange, which includes Needham, Natack, Holliston, Ashland, Dover, Framingham, Garden City, Medway, West Medway and Sherborn Granges met with Garden City Grange in Odd Fellows' Hall, Newtonville, Tuesday, November 22nd, afternoon and evening.
Fifty-four grange members took the Pomona Degree in the evening.

After the degree there was an entertainment consisting of a piano solo by Mrs. George E. Hardy, a baritone solo by Frank W. Chase, duet by F. W.
Chase and Miss Elizabeth Chase, reading by Ernest C. Cobb, and the Pomona Quartette.

Supper was prepared by Garden City Grange and 100 sat down to the tables. The committee of arrangements were, Charles F. Dow, Wm. McMullin, Mrs. Michael Murry, Mrs. Blanche
Buell, Mrs. James Trotter.

The officers of Garden City Grange,
No. 1922 elected were W. Master, Edwin R. Pitt; Overseer, John L. Sullivan; Lecturer, George E. Hardy; Steward, Frank Woodman; Assistant Steward, Clarence Baker; Chaplain, Frank W. Chase; Treasurer, Alex. C. Baxter;
Secretary, Chas. F. Dow; Gate Keeper,
Leonard Frost; Ceres, Mrs. E. R. Pitt; Pomona, Marion Sullivan; Flora, Leslie Murray, Lady Assistant Steward, Florence B. Morgan; Trustee, 3 yrs., Peter C. Baker.
Garden City Encampment, I. O. O.
F., conferred the Golden Rule Degree on a large class of candidates from Natack and Garden City Encampments on Monday evening, November 21st.

THANKS FIRE DEPT.

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

As a member of the Newton District Court for the past four years I have been in intimate relations with the Police Department of the City of Newton, and have fully appreciated its efficiency and high standard of service. I have not been in contact with the Fire Department of the City of Newton until Thursday, November 17, 1921, when a serious fire threatened the home I occupy. I want to take this opportunity to publicly thank the Fire Department for the splendid and efficient service it rendered during this fire. Not only did they check and stop the fire which was well under way, but in addition, not one article of furniture in my home was the least bit damaged by water, breakage or otherwise. I want also to express my appreciation of their courtesy, thoughtfulness and kindness to my family.

In closing I should further state that Mr. and Mrs. Lyman B. Morrill, the owners of my home, wish to join in this public acknowledgment of appreciation of the Fire Department of the City of Newton.

Very truly yours,
W. LLOYD ALLEN.

WHO GOT THE GOOSE?

A member of the Newton Police Force, who shall be nameless was the star actor in a little scene staged near Nonantum square early Thanksgiving morning, which aroused the ire of those who witnessed it. A wild half-grown goose fell exhausted on Washington street, near the bank building, and was picked up by a small Italian boy about 11 or 12 years of age.
While examining his prize three policemen came up and one of them demanded of the boy if he had a hunter's license and when he said he was him and carried it off, leaving the little fellow in tears. There is no record of the finding of the goose on the police blotter.

Query No. 1. Who got the goose?
Query No. 2. Was the policeman one of the Boston "strikers"?

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Fred W.
Knight and Grant G. Oakman, both of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, trustees of United States Housing Trust, under a Declaration of Trust recorded with Suffolk County Registry of Deeds, June 8, 1921, to Thomas King of Boston, Suffolk County, Massachusetts, dated July 7, 1921, filed in the Land Registration Office of the South District Registry of Middlesex County, Massachusetts, as Document 35271 and noted in certificate of title No. 12665, for breach of the condition in said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing, the same will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Saturday, December 10, 1921, at three o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described, namely, A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in Newton in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows: NORTHEASTERLY by Hood Street, forty (40) feet; SOUTHEASTERLY by the numbered thirty-two (32) as shown on plan hereinafter mentioned, one hundred sixty-four (164) feet; SOUTHWESTERLY by the land now or formerly of William H. El-lert one and 33/100 (1.33) feet; WEST-ERLY by land now or formerly of the Far-low Hill Land Trust, fifty and 52/100 (50.52) feet; and NORTHWESTERLY by lot numbered thirty-four (34) on said plan, one hundred thirty-three and 96/100 (133.96) feet. Said parcel is shown as lot numbered thirty-three (33) on said plan.
All of said boundaries are determined by the Court to be located as shown on a subdivision plan, as approved by the Court, filed in the Land Registration Office, a copy of which is filed in the Registry of Deeds for the South District of Middlesex County in Registration Book, Twenty-seven (27), Page 365, with Certificate number 4640. So much of the above described land, as is included within the limits of the passageway as shown on said plan, is subject to its use as a passageway by those lawfully entitled to use the same.
Said premises will be sold subject to any unpaid taxes, assessments and municipal charges if any there be. A deposit of $100.00 in cash will be required at the time and place of the sale. Other terms at sale.

making a stirring appeal for the Near East Relief. Mrs. Duryea described with graphic realism the terrible conditions in Armenia, in the Georgian Republic and other of the Near Eastern countries, which she visited last summer. She stated that her organization has taken care of 110,000 children, and that there are as many more which need food and clothing, if only the funds were available.

Following Mrs. Duryea, Mrs. George U. Crocker, of the Woman's Farm and Garden Association, told of the work being done by the New England branch in helping country women to improve their handwork in order to make it marketable, through kindly suggestion and through opening up markets for their products. The association has 1,000 members in New England, and one feature is the scholarships provided to send girls to America for courses which will help them to help in their respective communities, another is the annual Christmas Market, which will be held in Horticultural Hall, Boston, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

Attorney-General J. Weston Allen, slipped off unbeknownst to State House officials to make a plea for the Repertory Theatre being planned for Boston, the first one in America—a theatre which shall present worthwhile plays at popular prices. He said that we can't legislate morality into a people, but we can set standards through good clean plays, thus raising the standards by the power of education, one of the most potent of which, he considers the repertory theatre idea. He quoted Philip Hale as saying that the future of spoken drama lies in the repertory theatre.

Luncheon was served in two of the nearby churches, while the executive board and chairmen of departments were the guests of the District Director, Mrs. Batchelder, at her home in Worcester.

Mrs. MacDuffie, president of the New Hampshire Federation, was a visiting delegate and brought the greetings from her state at the opening of the afternoon session. Mrs. Charles B. Hall gave an interesting account of the General Federation Council meeting at Salt Lake City, Utah.

There were some items of important business, which the board decided could not be fairly acted upon with so small a convention, so it was announced that a special business meeting will be called in or near Boston within a short time, probably either a morning or an afternoon session. At this point the speaker of the afternoon not having appeared and because many of the delegates feared remaining for the five o'clock train, Mrs. Baker adjourned the meeting. Hardly had she done so and before not more than half of the audience had left the room, came the announcement that the speaker had arrived. Those who felt they could remain were summoned back and the meeting called to order once more and the speaker, John Fargo, was presented.

Mr. Spargo's subject was "Reconstruction of the Social Order," and quite the contrary from its being a rabid demand for socialism in its "red" aspects, as many had anticipated, the address was an earnest plea for building up civilization upon the best of the old order, as one would re-build the old family homestead, preserving the best and incorporating it into the new order. The speaker drew attention to the points of similarity between the conditions of today with those one hundred years ago when after the Napoleonic wars the distressed world was anxious for permanent peace. He cited Robert Owen's attempts to bring about Eutopia, and declared there are always those who with childlike simplicity are groping after some ideal for a better world. Few of us ever outgrow our childhood, so in every age there are people who cannot be content with things as they are, and wish to bring about that change in a moment. But we must remember that the universe is controlled by immutable laws and that our span of life is but the tick of the cosmic clock. Hence we must work within the limitations of those laws and wait for the processes of growth and orderly development.

First things must be first, we must get away from the eternal verities. There can be no progress which presupposes the breaking down of the old order until something better is put in its place; step by step we must improve what we have, retaining that which is good, abandoning that which is bad. We must preserve the methods of production as much as possible with as little effort as possible, remembering that we cannot be fed from manna from Heaven without any effort whatever.

The first thing to do is to increase production and to so organize it, that there shall be a large enough volume of it and a large enough leisure for people to enjoy it. There can be no government worthy which seeks the common good through the suppression of the individual; it is communism not of condition nor of the state, but rather a communism of opportunity and an equality of opportunity.

The homeward journey was one of slow progress, but all felt that in slowness there was safety, and all the delegates could but admire the efficient way the traffic was handled under the most trying and dangerous of conditions.

Messrs. McKenney & Waterbury Co., Inc., 181 Franklin St., corner Congress, Boston, Mass., are showing a great variety of Lighting Fixtures in the new Evenlite Glass, and recommend it highly to those requiring Lighting Fixtures for their homes and public buildings.

—Prof. Leo Wiener will speak on "What About Russia?" and a chorus of Russian men will sing Russian folk songs and the famous "Volga" song, in Trinity Church next Sunday night, which will be "Russian Night" in the series of disarmament services.

Prof. Wiener, who is Professor of Slavic languages in Harvard, is a Russian, and was educated in Russia, Poland and Germany. The "Volga" song is the most popular song among Russians, because deep and tender national sentiment gathers around "Mother Volga," as they call their great river. The song has displaced the former national hymn, which glorified the Czar and the old regime. The men's chorus comes from a large colony of Russian at Newton Upper Falls. They are employed in the Saco Lowell mills and they maintain an excellent choral society.

Shop Early

TOYS

The advice to shop-early applies with especial force in the buying of toys. Early shopping will save you trouble and disappointment and may save you from disappointing the children. If you leave the purchase of Toys until the last two or three days before Christmas, the assortment may be so broken that you cannot find what you know the children most want. Even if you do find it there may not be time enough left to have the Toys packed properly and shipped in time to reach their destination before Christmas morning.

They are urging their friends to make contributions, which can be used at their rummage sale in Thompsonville at the Bowen School on the afternoon of Dec. 8th. Mrs. Frank R. Stubbs of Newton has invited the group to her home for an important meeting next Monday afternoon at three o'clock. It is hoped that those who have not yet attended the meetings will find it possible to be present this time.

A WORD OF WARNING

Suggested by Massachusetts Forestry Association

The disaster to the forest, orchard, shade, and ornamental trees, in Massachusetts caused by the recent storm, has brought forcibly to the attention of the public the value of our trees. Like many other blessings we don't appreciate them until they are gone.

The damage is great and widespread. Thousands of trees are broken beyond recovery. Many thousands can be reclaimed by proper repair. Since the ice has fallen the actual damage in many cases will be found to be less than first appeared. Broken limbs should be removed at once, but there is no need for haste in the removal of stubs since the sap is not flowing. It is better to wait, in such cases until the work can be done properly.

This is a Great Opportunity for the Untrained Tree Repair Man, Who Poses as an Expert. Beware! Do Not Engage Anyone to Repair Your Trees Without First Consulting Your Local City Forester or Tree Warden.

The removal of large broken limbs is not any easy task, and the inexperienced person may easily do more damage to the tree in removing such limbs than the ice has done. Here are some suggestions worth following:

1. When removing large limbs be sure to make a cut on the underside of the branch about a foot from the trunk before cutting on top. This is to prevent the limb from stripping the bark from the trunk as it falls. The remaining stub can be removed later.

2. Saw the stub off close to the trunk, and paint the scar. The painting is done to protect the wood from the weather, insects, and fungi, not just for appearance sake.

We suggest that the wounds be covered with shellac now, followed in the early Spring with a coating of tar paint. The paint may be used now, but the operation should be repeated at least once a year if it is to be effective.

3. Old trees badly broken had better be sacrificed and new ones planted unless there is a sentimental or historic value attached to them. Proper tree repair is expensive and it frequently happens that repair men will spend more money on an old diseased snag than it is worth.

The value of a shade tree has been determined in many ways and this simple formula has been derived: An average shade tree is worth one dollar per square inch of cross-section at breast height.

For instance a tree one foot in diameter at that point (4 1/2 feet from the ground) contains in section 113 square inches and is worth $113.00. This is a practical rule which is fairly accurate.

Many people who have never done so before will want to repair their own trees. It is not possible in an article like this to cover even the most essential points in this work. We would advise such persons to write to the Division of Publications, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., for Farmer's Bulletin 1178 entitled "Tree Surgery." For persons desiring to purchase a book on this subject we recommend "Practical Tree Repair" by Peets as one of the best.

"IF THE WORLD WENT DRY"

IF YOU awoke some morning to find there was no water, you would call a plumber. But suppose you found there were no plumbers, and not a drop of water in the world—what then? You would realize that death had squatted on your doorstep.

Next to air, water is the most important thing in life. And of all the world's work none is more important than that of plumbing.

The plumber is a craftsman, a business man, a scientist. He practices the science of sanitation. That is, he causes water to flow into the home and waste to flow out. The water that comes in brings with it health, energy, happiness. The waste that goes out takes with it poisons which breed death.

You see the plumber is more than a man in overalls who carries a bag of tools. He is the community doctor who promotes health by preventing disease.

TRUST COMPANY SERVICE

A young man died leaving a widow and two children. His business recently organized passed into the control of associates who tried to force the widow to sell out her husband's interest at a low price. She placed her affairs in the hands of the Newton Trust Company and through the efforts of its officers was finally able to sell her interest for what it was worth, nearly twice the amount she was first offered, a difference of many thousand dollars.

The Newton Trust Company acts as executor and trustee under wills. It is well qualified to act being an absolutely responsible institution of permanent character and high standing directed and managed by Newton men.

Your Estate in the hands of the Newton Trust Company will be carefully and promptly handled, strictly in accordance with your will and the law. Personal interest and attention given to every beneficiary.

STRIKING POLICEMEN ON NEWTON FORCE

Four of Boston's Discards Now Doing Duty in Newton. Twenty More Eligible for Future Appointments

The Graphic has been to considerable pains to obtain the real facts regarding the rumors which have been in circulation the past month that men who deserted their posts of duty in the Boston police strike of 1919 had been appointed as regular members of the Newton police department. We have official letters from the Boston Police Department and the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission proving that four men, deserting members of the Boston Police Department in September, 1919, have been duly appointed regular members of the Newton department and are now on duty in this city. Two of these men were appointed in May, 1920, within eight months of the strike, one was appointed in November, 1920, and one more in September, 1921.

While we have the names and records of these men we do not believe it would be advisable to use them, as the men are legal members of the department and cannot be removed except for cause, and the publication of their names might interfere with the work for which they are being paid.

We also find that the authority to allow these men to be appointed came from the Civil Service Commission, which by a vote of 2 to 1, Mr. Joseph W. Bartlett, of this city, dissenting, allowed the Boston striking policemen to take the police examination for service in any city except Boston. The Commission also provided that if objection was made by the appointing power to the certification of any of these men, there was no compulsion to appoint them and additional names would be certified in their stead.

Under the charter of Newton, the appointments of all subordinates are made by the head of the department except—and we quote the exact language—"all appointments in the police and fire departments shall be approved by the mayor."

In an interview with ex-mayor Henry E. Bothfield, who was chairman of the commission which drafted the present city charter, he said in commenting on this point—

"The Commission thought that the safe-guarding of life and property was the important executive function and the responsibility for the proper administration of the Fire and Police Departments should be placed in the Mayor. It was further thought that under the Mayor was held responsible for appointments in these departments, it would be very easy for the heads of the departments, if so inclined, to make appointments in their departments not in the public interest. If such appointments were made under the existing provision the Mayor is responsible and it was considered that the citizens could thus clearly place the responsibility and act accordingly."

Another significant fact is that there are 20 more "strikers" on the eligible civil service list for police appointments, and if conditions are not changed will undoubtedly become regular members of the force in the near future.

Former members of the Newton Constabulary who gave up their business and pleasures to protect the City of Boston from the consequences of the police strike have expressed themselves most emphatically on the poor judgment shown by Mayor Childs in approving these appointments. It will be recalled that there were 300 men in the Newton Constabulary unit, about a hundred in Company A of the State Guard and scores of individuals who performed police duty in the perilous times created by the strike, and no amount of misplaced sympathy for the "strikers" will placate these men.

LETTER FROM CHIEF MITCHELL

To the Editor of the Graphic:
Statements have been made on the public platform during the present mayoralty campaign in Newton to the effect that I, as the Chief of the Newton Police Department, withheld from the mayor knowledge of the fact that four Boston striking policemen were candidates for appointment to our local force.

In the interest of fair play and in the interest of accuracy, I desire that the people of Newton shall have the facts regarding this controversy.

As our City Charter requires that the mayor shall have final approval as to all dismissals from and additions to the Newton Police Force, I specifically stated to the mayor, when the appointment of these four striking policemen came to him for confirmation, that these men were ex-members of the Boston force and left their posts at the time of the Boston strike.

Any attempt to make it appear that the mayor did not receive from me full information concerning these men is not in accordance with the facts.

FREDERICK M. MITCHELL,
Chief of Police.

"THE AMAZONS"

Lincoln Hall was filled to overflowing on Tuesday afternoon for the presentation of Piner's "The Amazons," by the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. The parts were well taken and evenly balanced and the performance went off very smoothly, so it is almost needless to say that it was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Music was furnished by pupils of the West Newton School and was of so high a grade that many expressed regret afterwards that it had been considered by the audience as merely incidental.

The cast included Mrs. R. M. Davis, Mrs. Curtis Chipman, Mrs. Albert H. Norton, Miss Elizabeth Walker, Mrs. Raymond R. Collins, Miss Keith, Mrs. Richard Pattee, Mrs. A. F. Brown, Mrs. C. R. Litchfield, Mrs. Frederick Fairchild, Mrs. Howard Thomas, Mrs. Joseph C. Allen.

Those who were in charge were: Director and Stage Manager, Mrs. Lawson W. Oakes, Property Managers, Mrs. A. H. Armstrong and Mrs. Arthur Logan; Costumes, Mrs. Bedford; Printing, Mrs. Ritchie Stevens; Posters, Mrs. Ernest Hapgood.

On Wednesday evening the performance was repeated for the benefit of the club's Building Fund. On Tuesday afternoon flowers were presented Mrs. Larson W. Oakes in appreciation of her untiring efforts to make the play the success that it proved to be.

ENDORSES NOONE'S CANDIDACY

To the Editor:

In the interest of the Candidacy of Wm. Noone for Alderman from Ward 4, I should like to take this opportunity to express to the voters of this ward my sincere conviction that their best interests in the Board of Aldermen would be served by his election on Tuesday next. Noone is a veteran of the World War, having been wounded during his service in France, and since his discharge has been engaged in the work of assisting disabled soldiers as Special Representative of the New England Division, American Red Cross, and as a member of the "clean-up" squad sent out by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau throughout New England. I have been associated with him, more particularly in American Legion activities, for several years past and, in common with all others who have had an opportunity to observe his work, believe him to be extremely conscientious, hard working, and efficient. In my judgment Mr. Noone is the best qualified of those running for the office of ward alderman from Ward 4 and I strongly recommend his name for the consideration of the voters of this ward when they make their choice on Tuesday, Dec. 13th.

MRS. MARGARET C. MURNAGHAN

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret C. Murnaghan, the widow of Hugh Murnaghan, and a life long resident of Newton, took place on Monday of last week at nine o'clock with a high mass of requiem at the Church of Our Lady, Rev. Robt. M. Mantle being celebrant. The pallbearers were Messrs. Frank Travis, Patrick McMullen, Daniel Murnaghan, Anthony Murnaghan, Thos. Glidea and Daniel Quinn.

The burial took place at Calvary Cemetery, Roslindale. The deceased leaves three sons, Hugh Murnaghan of Jamaica Plain, Daniel Murnaghan of Newton, and James Murnaghan, who is studying for the priesthood with the Holy Ghost Fathers of Pennsylvania, and two daughters, Helen Murnaghan, and Mrs. Lionel J. Sadler of Newton.

"Millions Now Living Will Never Die"—Judge Rutherford

W. B. FOWLER

In this thrilling and reassuring lecture the speaker will bring positive proof, by linking Bible prophecies with present-day events, that the Kingdom of Messiah will soon completely supplant the existing rulership of earth and, because of this fact, there are millions of people who will actually never go into the grave. The lecture is not a dry discussion of theology, nor an attempt to convert you to some new, fanatical religion, but it is a glorious proclamation of "this Gospel of the Kingdom" which Jesus said must be preached in all the world for a witness before the end comes. You are invited to hear

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has been fortunate in securing two excellent speakers for its next meeting, at the Newton Club on Friday, December 16. Clifton D. Jackson of Springfield and Frank H. Pope of Boston will be the guests of the Chamber on this occasion, both being excellent speakers and familiar with the objectives, activities, and problems of chambers of commerce. Dinner will be served at 6.30 o'clock and members should make reservations at their earliest convenience. This may be done by writing the secretary at 363 Centre street, Newton, or by telephoning Newton North 570.

Mr. Jackson has for the past three years been general secretary of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, which is generally recognized as one of the most successful chambers of New England. Previous to his work at Springfield, he was with the Detroit Chamber. For the past two years he has also been chairman of the advisory council of the Massachusetts State Council.

Mr. Pope, who was formerly state auditor and a member of the Massachusetts Legislature for several years, is especially well known as an after-dinner speaker and orator. As a story-teller he has few equals. He has long been interested in community problems and is well qualified to discuss chamber of commerce activities through his frequent association with the chambers of the state and his own experience as president of one of the active local chambers of commerce of Central Massachusetts. During the past year Mr. Pope has been called upon more times by the chambers of commerce and boards of trade of the state than any other speaker listed in the Speaker's Bureau of the State Chamber.

A special invitation is extended to new members of the Newton Chamber to attend this meeting. The number making application for membership since the last meeting is large, and, after approval by the board of directors, these applications will be presented for formal acceptance by the Chamber at the coming meeting.

"THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD"

The pageant, "The Light of the World," which is to be presented in Central Church, Newtonville, on the evening of Sunday, Dec. 11th, was written by Prof. H. Augustine Smith of Boston University.

The theme of the pageant is the kindling of the Light of the World at the Manger of Bethlehem, and the spreading of that light throughout the world. There are five scenes:

Scene 1. Prophecy of the Coming of the Messiah.

Scene 2. The Manger at Bethlehem.

Scene 3. The Vision of Isaiah.

Scene 4. The Light from Bethlehem spreads into all the world.

Scene 5. Consecration and Coronation.

One hundred and fifteen persons are to take part. These are to be appropriately costumed, many of the costumes coming from the orient.

The doors of the church will open at 7.30, but will be closed at 8, while the Pageant begins.

THE DICKINSON TESTIMONIAL

The special testimonial to Coach Albie Dickinson of Newton High School will be presented by the citizens of Newton at the West Newton Armory on Friday evening, Dec. 23rd.

Gold foot-balls will also be presented to the Newton High School football team, Suburban League Champions and conceded State High School champions.

Dinner for about 400 will be served at 7 o'clock. The ladies are joining in the dinner and testimonial. Special seats for the students will be provided for the presentation exercises.

The committee, appointed to arrange for the hall and speakers, consisting of Thomas W. White, chairman, George B. H. Macomber, William F. Garcelon, Louis K. Liggett and George J. Martin, is planning a list of speakers of prominence, to be announced later.

Tickets for the Testimonial and Banquet will be on sale at the four offices of the Newton Trust Co.

AMERICANIZATION MEETING

An audience of about 700 was present Wednesday evening at the Classical High School at the Americanization meeting held under the auspices of the school committee.

There was an excellent program of music including Russian Balalaika Music, the Volga Song, Italian Music, and Armenian Music and hymns.

Major Childs made one of his eloquent speeches on Americanism and there was an address by Mr. John J. Mahoney, State Supervisor of Americanization.

An interesting number on the program consisted of two minute speeches by a dozen foreign-born men on What America Means to Me.

The program closed with the singing of America.

DEATH OF MRS. BURNS

Mrs. Sarah Ann Burns, probably the oldest woman in Newton, died on Sunday morning, following a ten days' illness, at the residence of her son, Arthur S. Burns, with whom she made her home at 10 Circuit street, in Newton Highlands. She was born in Annapolis, Nova Scotia, on Oct. 6, 1821, the daughter of William Jones, who was well known in New York as a Loyalist. He left New York to settle in Annapolis. His wife was Sarah Pickup. Mrs. Burns was the wife of Michael Burns, whose father was also a New York Loyalist, who made his home in Annapolis, and she lived there until his death at the age of eighty-six years, which occurred twelve years ago. She then came to Massachusetts and for the past three years has been a resident of Newton.

Mrs. Burns was a devout Methodist though for the past eight months she has not attended church. In addition to the son with whom she lived, she has another son, Edward S. Burns, of Scituate, who is superintendent of the New Riding Club in Boston.

Mrs. Burns reached the age of one hundred years about two months ago.

A SIGNIFICANT MEETING

The members of the women's societies of the six Protestant churches of Newton Corner cannot afford to miss the Tuesday afternoon at Channing church chapel at half-past two. Every one wants to keep alive the delightful comradeship awakened among the women of this part of Newton through the recent period of working together, and the coming meeting brings with it an opportunity for a deeper fellowship in the things of the spirit. The theme of the program centers around the thought, "Know Your Own City," and includes a brief account of the Newton Central Council by the secretary, Miss Grace E. Miller of Waban, and a talk by Mrs. Carrie A. Hull upon Health work in the city, while Rev. Laurens MacLure, D.D., will give the closing address, which all know will be full of spiritual uplift. There will be music by a community chorus and a social hour, during which the friendship begun during the work for the Bazaar will be renewed and strengthened. Let no one stay away.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The Highland Glee Club opened its fourth season Tuesday night with a concert in Bray Hall under the direction of George S. Dunham, assisted by Miss Marianne Godbout, soprano.

At the outset it was noticeable that the Club had been augmented since last year, and the appearance of the fifty odd men seated on the stage, with the artistic stage decorations, was an improvement over the past.

Among the most enjoyed selections, was the opening number, "The Beguiled," by Arthur Sullivan. The "Slumber Song," by Warren, in contrast to this, made up the first group of "The Redman's Death Chant" would bear repeating at some future time when the notes and difficult entrances are more familiar.

"Tell Me Not of a Lovely Lass"—light and airy arrangement by Cecil Forsyth, was likewise in great contrast to the preceding number, and encored.

"The Jaberwocky," a nursery rhyme set to music by Chadwick, was new to the patrons, and thoroughly enjoyed.

In the second part of the program, the "Gypsy Love Song" from Victor Herbert's opera, "The Fortune Teller," was the outstanding feature. Mr. J. Edwin Mitchell of the Baritone section singing the incidental solo with intelligence and appreciation.

"The Autumn Sea," unaccompanied, by Gerike, which will always find a place on male chorus programs, was the most tuneful number of the evening. In this selection, as in the "Slumber Song" earlier in the evening, there was real pianissimo so essential to male ensembles.

The soloist of the evening, Miss Marianne Godbout, was heard for the first time in Newton. Her work was in keeping with the past performances of the Club in presenting such soloists as Dadmun, Laval and Stoessel. The voice, a coloratura soprano, has all the brilliance of youth, and the familiar "Caro Nome" from Rigoletto, her first number, was rendered with assurance.

Later in the program, Miss Godbout's songs, which were encored by "Pirate Dreams," Hueter, brought out not only the beauty of Miss Godbout's unusual voice, but gave the audience the added thrill which makes a voice of this character a real treat.

The program was completed with Gounod's "Ave Maria," in which Miss Godbout assisted the Club, and was a fitting close to the evening.

The city is fortunate indeed in having such an organization, and it is to be regretted that Greater Newton is not better represented in the associate membership list. It might be well to state here, that the club is dependent upon the support of its associate members, as the two concerts which it gives are private, and tickets are not procurable in any other way.

NEW PASTOR

Rev. Chester A. Drummond has accepted a unanimous call given him by the Channing Religious Society at a special meeting held Tuesday evening to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. Harry Lutz. Mr. Drummond will enter upon his duties immediately and will preach Sunday morning on "The Meaning of Loyalty."

Mr. Drummond comes with a record of successful work of about fifteen years in the Unitarian ministry, having served in churches in Norwell, Littleton and Somerville, Mass., and in New Orleans. Born in Waterbury, Conn., March 14, 1882, he is a graduate of Meadville Theological School and has the degree of S. T. D. from Tufts College. He was in overseas service with the Y. M. C. A. in 1918. He has been notably successful in his Sunday School work and in awakening the interest of the young people, arranging Christmas pageants and other forms of entertainment. While in New Orleans he was an active member of a dramatic society, "Le Theatre."

He has entered actively into the life of the community where he has labored, serving on the board of trustees of the Littleton public library, while in Somerville he organized a forum, arranged the first community Christmas, was president of the Somerville Federation for Social Service and organized a men's club in his church. He is an accomplished musician, playing both the organ and piano. Mr. Drummond's family comprises his wife, his mother and a young son.

The new minister will be the eighth in the history of Channing church, the service of his seven predecessors having covered just seventy years, from the formation of the church in 1851.

The parish meeting followed a church supper which was served by the Channing Branch of the Unitarian Laymen's League.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Friday evening, December 16th, Daniel Carter Beard, National Commissioner, Boy Scouts of America, will be the guest of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts, at the Classical High School Assembly Hall at 8 o'clock. Fully 500 scouts are expected to greet the veteran scout. Seventy years of age, a man possessed with the value of the out-of-doors, Dan Beard believes in the necessity of Scouting in the lives of all boys. Being the father of the American Boy Scout Movement, he speaks with authority of its ideals, its aims, and its ambitions. He has lived the life of a Scout and is still keen for the out of doors, still a magnetic orator, still a man of vigor and alertness.

Dan Beard has been awarded a medal by the Campfire Club of America, which has decorated very few men in its history. The leading sportsmen and mountain-climbers of this country had for years attempted vainly to reach the summit of Mt. McKinley, the highest mountain on the continent. Other peaks surround it, and in respect to Dan Beard's fame as an out of doors man, a party making another attempt, under the leadership of Belmont Browne named one of them Daniel Carter Beard.

Dan Beard is still an active woodsman, as vigorous and adventurous as ever. But for the most part in these latter years, he has lived and worked quietly in his picturesque home in Flushing, Long Island, among the souvenirs of his earlier days.

EDITORIAL

It seems almost incredible in view of the strong feeling in this city over the Boston police strike of two years ago, that Mayor Childs should have approved of the appointment of four of the "strikers" as members of the Newton Police Department. From the statement of ex-mayor Bothfield which we print elsewhere it is evident that the city charter contemplated definite action by the mayor in police appointments and not a mere routine O. K. and from Mayor Childs' well known attitude towards the Police department, there can be no question as to his knowledge of affairs. In any event, the Mayor either faces the fact that he knew what he was doing when he approved the appointments, or the alternative that he neglected his duty under the charter to investigate the action of his head of department.

These appointments, in view of the service given to protect Boston by the Newton Constabulary, Co. A of the State Guard and many individuals, is almost an insult to our people. These men, who gave up their business and their pleasures for the public good are now called upon to help pay the salaries of the very men who made that service necessary. In addition we are virtually told that what is not good enough for Boston, is plenty good enough for Newton and that men who allowed the women of Boston to be insulted and outraged are fit to protect our wives and daughters.

Another and possibly a still more serious matter is the presence of 20 more of these "strikers" on the eligible police list, and the possibility of their appointment on the force in the near future if Mayor Childs should be re-elected. We feel very sure that Newton people do not want any more of this kind of policemen in this city. Not only would there be the feeling of insecurity that what has happened once may occur again, but it virtually means that Newton residents are to be barred for some years of seeking these positions. Mr. Rogers has definitely promised to protect the city from these undesirable candidates for police appointment and his election next Tuesday means the end of this intolerable situation.

Next Tuesday the voters of Newton, will by their ballots determine the kind of public service they expect for the next two years at the City Hall. We most earnestly hope that this decision will be made on a calm survey of the situation with the present and future good of the city at heart. To do this we should exclude all appeals to class or religious prejudice, good fellowship, and social standing. Both candidates for mayor are of the highest personal character, and both are gentlemen in the fullest sense of that much abused word. Mr. Childs should be judged on his public record as mayor for eight years—not on his standing as a man—and as we have already pointed out, he has been found wanting in many respects as a chief executive in charge of a business amounting to three millions a year. On that record the tax payers of Newton are fully justified in defeating him for re-election.

While Mr. Rogers has no public record as an executive, his work in semi-public enterprises and the management of a successful business, clearly show that he has the executive ability which has long been needed in the official head of the city. We earnestly advise the election of Mr. Rogers as mayor of Newton.

The loose talk which has been going about the city the past few weeks regarding the "common people" is unworthy of a city with the supposed intelligence of Newton.

Mayor Childs is a graduate of Harvard and the Boston University Law school and is a lawyer by profession. Mr. Rogers did not attend college, began work when 18 years of age at the bottom of the mill and worked for twelve years among what are called "common" men. He knows labor conditions from personal experience and now as the head of a concern employing 300 people, he has the hearty good will and respect of every employee.

Will any fair minded person believe that one is only a "high brow" and the other is the only "friend" of the "common" people.

The police officer who said "If the little mayor is beaten we fellows will have to toe the scratch" threw a ray of light on the police situation which is both a confession and a challenge. A confession that some of the policemen, at least, are not doing their full duty and are protected in that attitude by the mayor, and a challenge to the voters of the city to see to it that our public servants give the city a hundred cents of service for every dollar of salary. The members of the police department will "toe the scratch" if Mr. Rogers is elected.

In view of the fact that the editor holds a small but confidential office under the board of aldermen, he has rarely entered into any election contests for position as members of that board. In the present election, however, we became somewhat involved early in the fall in what were considered at that time, as uncontested candidacies, and consequently we feel in honor bound to publicly support a few of the candidates at the coming election on Tuesday.

For alderman at large from ward 5 we urge the election of former alderman Thomas W. White. Mr. White by his previous service in the board, followed by five years in the General Court and several years very efficient service as Supervisor of Administration for the state, has a wide knowledge of public affairs, and political conditions and will be a most valuable official of and for the city.

For alderman at large from Ward 7 we favor the election of Alderman Henry D. Lloyd who has done a large amount of hard work for the city during the past year and has laid the foundations for splendid public service in the future. The defeat of Mr. Lloyd would mean that our people do not appreciate the kind of public service that men of character and brains are giving the city.

In the local contest for ward alderman in Newtonville, while we are personal friends of both candidates, and deplore the bitterness which seems to have entered into that contest, we feel very sure that the importance of the pending school problem which will face the city in the near future, demands the election of Mr. Albert M. Lyon, whose eight years service on the school committee makes him unusually well qualified for the office of aldermen.

In the local contest for ward alderman in Ward 7, we urge the re-election of Alderman Theodore E. Jewell. Mr. Jewell consented to stand for re-election with great reluctance and only the importance of having experienced men in the next board of aldermen induced him to set aside his personal wishes. He should be re-elected because he has been a valuable member of the present board and because his defeat would make it hard to get other good men to run for public office in the future.

On account of the pressure of election matter we are obliged to carry over until next week several interesting articles, including an account of the aldermanic meeting.

Vote next Tuesday on the evidence, not on sentiment.

ALDERMAN BLAKE MAKES REPLY

To the Editor of the Graphic:

I have read with interest the communications from Mr. Collins and Mr. Eddy in your issue of December 2. Let me take up very briefly the main points in those communications.

Success in business does not alone prove fitness to participate in the management of a large municipal corporation like the City of Newton; the degree and line of success are of value in a pre-rating of a candidate's fitness. The intent of my previous letter was to challenge the accuracy of the printed statement that Mr. Collins is the president of two companies in Newton with manufacturing plants at West Newton, and, as a "business" candidate, proffers "unusual executive ability."

The Deputy Tax Commissioner of the State of New York says under date of November 28, 1921 "Collins Switch & Signal Co., Inc. excused for 1913 and 1914. No business, New York. Excused to date, last report filed January 4, 1915." The Commissioner of Corporations for Massachusetts says "I can find no record of the registration of the Collins Switch & Signal Co. either as a foreign or domestic corporation." It is therefore non-existent in Massachusetts through lack of authority under the law to transact any business in this State.

The Chairman of the Board of Assessors of the City of Newton, says: "In re Collins Switch & Signal Company and Collins Development Co. we do not find either of them assessed for any property here on the first day of April, 1921."

The Collins Development Company organized on June 12, 1919, set forth that its purpose was the manufacturing of machinery, mercantile business, dealing in securities, and furnishing of credit to other lines of business. The record of the issue of the capital stock and its statement of assets on March 10, 1921, are in accordance with the figures given in my previous letter. There has been no choice of dates or juggling of figures regarding this company, the figures presented being taken from Mr. Collins' sworn statement required by the Corporation Law of Massachusetts and filed at the State House. The cash balance in this case is immaterial; the only balance of importance to the voters being that lying between the claim of fitness for the office of Alderman and the evidence offered by Mr. Collins to justify his candidacy.

A clean, wholesome campaign for this important office requires that statements made by the candidate shall be truthful. My letter was not written on an improper presentation of the case to me, but from my conviction that my successor should abundantly prove his fitness for the important office. In presenting himself as a candidate for that office, Mr. Collins should know that his business record and his claims for fitness involved publicity of his affairs so far as the law allows and requires. Such being the case, it cannot be called a discourteous thing to seek this information and appraise its value as qualification for a public office. It is clean politics for a candidate to lay all his cards down face up; it is otherwise to attempt to qualify on distortion and misrepresentation.

Yours very truly,
PERCY M. BLAKE,

HOW TO SAVE TREES

STREET DEPARTMENT
Forestry Division
ATTENTION

To the property owners or those having charge of trees inside the boundary lines of the City of Newton, the Street Department through its Street Commissioner George E. Stuart respectfully suggests that everybody in the City of Newton having trees take notice of the following instructions which have been recently issued by William A. L. Bazeley, Commissioner of Conservation and State Forester, and prepared by H. O. Cook, Chief Forester of the State of Massachusetts.

For further information call Mr. Charles Benyon, Division Superintendent of the Forestry Division at City Hall, West Newton 70.

HOW TO HEAL WOUNDS ON ICE-DAMAGED TREES
STATE FORESTER ISSUES GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS — MOST TREES CAN BE SAVED—WORK NEED NOT BE DONE UNTIL SUMMER.

William A. L. Bazeley, Commissioner of Conservation and State Forester, has made public a statement regarding the proper treatment of trees damaged by the ice storm early last week. It was prepared by H. O. Cook, chief forester, and reads as follows: "The recent ice storm and the great damage that it caused to shade and forest trees has given rise to so many questions in regard to the proper treatment of them that this department has decided to publish this leaflet for the benefit of those whose trees have suffered."

"It is difficult to give adequate advice in a publication of this sort, for each individual tree needs its own prescription. A doctor may give general rules for health, but when the patient is sick, he needs to see the patient in order to prescribe for him. All that we can do, therefore, is to give the general rules."

"In the first place, it may be stated as a general truth that no matter how badly the trees may have been mutilated they are still alive, and their roots and trunks are unimpaired unless by chance, the tree was uprooted or broken off at the base. The question of what to do is largely a matter of condition and age of the tree. If it was very severely mutilated, or if it was an old and decrepit tree, the best advice may be to remove it entirely."

"Nature will not restore the tree to its original form and vigor, although she will do much to cover up the scars and wounds. Young trees will recuperate to a greater extent than old ones, and are deserving of greater attention. If one will look at the trees on Boston Common, he will note that for various reasons the old ones have been pruned and headed back, so that in their winter condition they look like helpless paralytics, but in the summer time, with foliage on, they are fairly respectable ones. They illustrate what many of the ice-damaged trees will look like and certainly are superior to no trees at all. Aside from the deformity of the trees caused by the breaking of numerous large limbs, the chief injury will come from the decay that starts in at the wounds and spreads along the remaining part of the branch or main trunk."

"In ten years time this decayed cavity may be so large as to result in a second break in the limb. The thing to do to prevent such decay is to prune off the jagged stubs and leave a smooth surface which will not hold moisture. For three main classes of injuries have resulted from the work of the ice-storm."

"First, branches broken off short midway of their length, leaving a long stub with a ragged end. Where such stubs are not more than ten feet long they had best be cut back to the main trunk. In pruning a branch at the trunk, one must take care to make an undercut first, before sawing downward from above so that, when the branch falls, it will not make a long tear on the trunk of the tree. Very long or very heavy stubs must be taken down in two or more pieces."

"Where such broken stubs are more than ten feet long, they should be trimmed back to some point which can be reached, leaving as long a branch as possible. One of the chief difficulties to be encountered on the job is where branches have been broken in the tops, leaving stubs quite out of reach. We should say that in such cases it will be better to leave them not trimmed at all rather than to cut them far back at some accessible point and leave a beheaded tree very unsightly to the eye."

"The second class of injuries results from those branches which have been broken off close to the trunk, leaving a long torn wound in the bark. This wound must be smoothed up with a mallet and chisel, and ragged and loose edges of the bark trimmed off. The object in every case is to prevent a surface in which moisture and dirt will collect and to bring the wound back to the uninjured bark and wood, so that the healing tissue or callus will commence to grow over it unimpeded. This may mean the actual enlargement of the wounded surface."

"The third class of injuries is those due to the splitting of large branches of portions of the trunk, the split portions being still attached to the trunk and capable of continued growth if put back into place. The proper treatment depends on circumstances. If the split limb is only a branch it had better be severed entirely and the wound dressed. If, however, it is an important section of the tree, it can be forced back into place and held by bolts and washers. Very often it may need additional support by bolts and chains attached above. In any case, it is well to relieve some of the weight and strain by pruning off minor branches on the split limb. This sort of work is, of course, expensive, and should only be attempted on valuable trees. In no case, should bands be passed around the tree."

"It is well to give all wounds that are more than six inches in diameter

a dressing to prevent decay and entrance of moisture. The most valuable treatment is to first paint the wound with creosote and then cover it with an asphaltum. Most paints used by roofing-construction men are in the latter category. As many of them must be heated, they are awkward to use, so that a common dark red paint is a valuable substitute. It has antiseptic properties and is practically waterproof. It is not so durable, however."

"There is no necessity for doing this pruning work immediately. There is some advantage in getting it done before the Spring growth starts, but no serious harm will occur if it is delayed until next summer. In cities and towns, for instance, it is better that they work along gradually with a small, experienced crew than to put in a large gang of green men for the sake of immediate results."

"The tools needed for pruning are a large one-man crosscut saw for large limbs, an ordinary crosscut saw for smaller limbs, and a pole saw for inaccessible small limbs. A useful tool is a long pole with an iron hook for pulling down branches. The workers will also need, of course, ladders, lots of rope (heavy and light), axes, mallets, and chisels. A safety belt such as window washers use is a valuable piece of equipment."

"Contrary to what seems to be prevailing public opinion, this department has no jurisdiction over the care of public shade trees. In cities, such authority rests with an official usually called city forester, and in towns with the tree wardens. On State highways, the public trees are under the jurisdiction of the Commissioner of Public Works. Our legal responsibility in the care of trees extends only to work hired on to suppress the evil of brown-tail moths. In all other matters, we can act in an advisory capacity only."

GEORGE E. STUART,
Street Commissioner,
City of Newton.

CONSERVATION

Allen Chamberlain, in the Transcript of December 3rd, gives a very illuminating article on the care of the trees which have been raked and broken by the recent storm. He describes how it is well to use the saw and the chisel in remodelling the apparently hopeless wrecks of trees, by methods which will restore the symmetry. Mr. Chamberlain says that highway shade trees have an intrinsic as well as a sentimental value and that the Massachusetts Forestry Association has found that the "average tree is worth a dollar per square inch of cross section at a point 4 1/2 feet above the ground." Thus, a tree a foot in diameter is worth $13.00. Most of the trees around Newton would probably be valued at this figure. Based on these figures a certain oak, which rises majestically at the head of Maple Avenue, would be valued at about $4,000, as its diameter is in the neighborhood of six feet. This tree had five or six large limbs, each one almost a tree in itself, torn from its trunk. Yet the tree remains and one can see how by judicious work the loss of these large limbs will hardly be noticed in a year's time.

To gain some knowledge as to what should be done in individual cases, it would be well to consult those who have made the care of trees a profession. The Forestry Association will be glad to advise as to reliable men in this field. It is emphasized that there is no necessity for hasty action, after the removal of the hanging limbs, for no serious harm will come if it is done prior to the summer.

The storm perhaps emphasizes the need of study of conservation of the great natural resources, which are the forests, the waters, the minerals, and the land. This week the emphasis is quite naturally on forests and forestry. There are many books along these lines, by men well known in the profession. Such books are:

A short popular account of the work of the U. S. Forest Service on the national forests. RJ-B63
Bowman. Forest physiography, and principles of soils in relation to forestry. RJ-B68
Cary. A manual for northern woodsmen. RJ-C25
Cheyney. The farm woodlot; a handbook of forestry for the farmer and student in agriculture. RJ-C42
Elliott. The important timber trees of the U. S.; a manual of practical forestry. RJ-E46
Fernald. Economics of forestry; a reference book for students of political economy and professional and lay students of forestry. RJ-F39
Forbes. The development of British forestry. RJ-F74
Forbes. English estate forestry. RJ-F74

Gifford. Practical forestry for beginners. RJ-G36
Graves. The principles of handling woodlands. RJ-G75
Hawley. Forestry in New England. RJ-H31
Hough. The elements of forestry. RJ-H31

Illick. Pennsylvania trees, issued by direction of the Commissioner of forestry. RJ-I29
Isa. The U. S. forestry policy. RJ-I78

CAMPAIGN INCIDENTS

A Rogers worker casually told the police officer in his village that he was out to get votes for Rogers and was told "Nothing doing, here. Keep away from me. If the little mayor is beaten we fellows will have to toe the scratch." Think this over.

One of the humorous incidents of the mayoralty campaign is the proximity of a placard "Childs for Mayor" to a huge "DANGER" sign at the corner of Washington and Bacon streets.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Lasell

The students had the privilege of listening to Dennis McCarthy on Saturday morning when he very delightfully read his own poems during the morning lecture hour.

Miss Laura White, a missionary in China, had charge of vespers on Sunday.

Tonight the Dramatic Club, under the direction of Mrs. Blanche C. Martin, is presenting two plays, Castles in Spain, and The Maker of Dreams. Friday afternoon the Woodland Park scholars delighted a large audience, when they gave a very creditable musical recital.

The gymnasium was taxed to its seating capacity on Thursday evening when members of the French department, under the direction of Mademoiselle Jeanne Le Royer, enacted the play. A very fine musical was given by the Lasell pupils on Wednesday evening.

The Glee Club has been busily rehearsing its Christmas music and will sing on Sunday afternoon during the Christmas vespers, when Dr. Brewer Eddy is to be the speaker.

The Woodland Park children have prepared special music for Christmas vespers which will take place on Sunday and they will have as their speaker Rev. Earl E. Harper of Auburndale.

School will close for the Christmas holidays on next Wednesday, to reopen January.

Mrs. William Wagner was given a surprise party by the teachers at Woodland on Monday evening. On Tuesday she left for a two months' stay in Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

At an enthusiastic mass meeting on Monday afternoon, held by the seniors and juniors, it was voted to edit two editions of a magazine entitled Me-ow. The first issue will be under the management and edited by the seniors, the juniors having charge of the second. It was also voted to issue a senior year book. The proceeds of the three to be used for the benefit of the senior scholarship fund.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

The Publicity Committee of the Norumbega Union is giving a Social in the Watertown Baptist Church this Saturday, December 10.

Every Christian Endeavor who possibly can manage it wants to come. It will be without doubt the most novel social the Union has ever held.

About 8 papers will be represented, including the Newton Graphic, Waltham Town Crier, Belmont Citizen, and the Boston Post. Also the editors and staff of each paper, who will be some of the Union officers, will be on hand to give the latest news obtainable as well as all the scandal known about the various Union members.

Editors do not pretend to make their papers truthful but guarantee to make them interesting.

Every member who can bring one copy of the Newton Graphic, or any other newspaper, gets in for 15 cents. Without a paper the charge is 25 cents.

Buy a paper and be down at the Watertown Baptist Church at 7.45 sharp and we promise a good time.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

The Daughters of the Revolution celebrated their silver anniversary at the Newton Club last Friday, by a luncheon, followed by an entertainment. Decorations were in blue and buff, the colors of the society, with yellow roses and bachelor buttons as table decorations.

After a speech of welcome by the

Regent, Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, the meeting was in charge of Mrs. John D. Godding, toast mistress of the occasion.

Mrs. Godding briefly reviewed club life a quarter of a century ago, and then introduced Mrs. Alexander M.

Ferris, the "Mother" of the Society, and its first regent.

Mrs. Ferris told of the origin of the society, of the way in which it received its name, and of the five original members. She told, in humorous vein, of its trials and tribulations in the early days and of its hopes and joys. She concluded by reading a very beautiful poem which, she said, embodied her creed of life.

Mrs. Charles L. Pearson was then called upon to respond to the toast,

"Sarah Hull of Today." As the chapter's war regent, she touched upon the problems of war time, and at the conclusion, suggested that an expression of the interest of Sarah Hull Chapter in the conference at Washington be forwarded to Washington.

The toast of "Sarah Hull to-morrow," was responded to by Mrs.

Franklin E. Smith, who spoke of the problem of Americanization and of the opportunity before the chapter of interpreting the spirit of America to the new comers of today.

She also dealt upon the necessity for getting new members into the society, who should bear the responsibilities of the future.

Mrs. Elmer L. Gibbs brought the greetings of the state society to Sarah

Hull. Mrs. F. E. Stanley also sent greetings, and a poem was read from Mrs. Stephen Wiswald, formerly of Newton Highlands, now in California.

Between speeches, music was furnished by Mrs. John W. Crowley. Mrs.

Brown of the West Newton Music

School also gave a musical monologue.

The following officers of the society were hostesses of the occasion: Mrs.

Willard L. Sampson (regent), Mrs.

Alexander M. Ferris, Mrs. William T.

Logan, Dr. Marietta P. Reid, Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, Miss Dorothy Drake.

Mrs. Edgar M. Horne, Mrs. George

Agry, Mrs. May Jewett Howard, Mrs.

George Salmon, Mrs. Everett W.

Crabford, Mr. Frank B. Jenkins, Mrs.

W. L. Ratcliffe, Mrs. Walter C. Whitney, Mrs. Oliver M. Fisher.

BRIGGS-SWEENEY

Many guests attended the wedding of Miss Harriet L. Sweeney and John

Briggs, Jr., which took place at the Brae Burn Country Club in West Newton, last Saturday, where the ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by

Rev. George G. Phipps. Miss Sweeney

is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F.

Sweeney of 81 Ivy street, Brookline, and is a graduate of the Angleside

School at New Milford, Conn. Mr.

Briggs, who is from Newton Centre, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Briggs.

In the recent war he served in the French Ambulance Corps and also as a junior lieutenant in the naval service on the Mount Vernon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth H. Sweeney, as maid of honor, and by Miss Theodora

F. Roberts of Brookline, and Mrs. Sargent F. Eaton of Portland, Me.

The bride gown was of white chif-fon velvet, with full train of satin. A tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms was worn and the bride carried white roses and bouvardia. The

Garrison, Jr., and Mrs. Florence Brown spoke of the needs of the West Newton Music School. It seems that there have been up to the present time but about 260 contributors and the hope of the board of managers that the number may be largely increased, especially of those who will make annual donations of even small amounts. The children pay fifty cents a lesson and in that way fully half of the expense of the school has been met. The speakers emphasized the moral force which this school is exerting among the pupils, in that it is keeping the children off the streets, and is building into their lives the spirit that only music can give. It is the hope of the leaders of this work that it may in the future, be incorporated into the public school work just as singing has been, but until that time may come, they are earnestly soliciting the support of the community.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. Albert P. Bugbee, for fifty years a resident of Newton, died at his home on Washington street, Newtonville, last Friday in his 82nd year. Mr. Bugbee was a veteran of the Civil War, having served in the Civil War for two years in Co. H, 9th Regiment, M. V. M. He is survived by a son, Henry Bugbee of Washington, D. C., and one daughter, Mrs. Winnie Forester of Framingham. Funeral services were held on Monday, Rev. R. T. Loring officiating and the body was cremated at Mt. Auburn.

BASKET-BALL

On Saturday afternoon December 3, teams representing the Debating Club of the Newton Y. M. C. A. and the 8th grades of the Bigelow Grammar School had a very interesting basketball game at the "Y" gym. The result was ever in doubt and not until the last minute of play did the Debating Club clinch the victory.

The playing of A. Shaw, who was forced to retire at the end of the first half because of an injured foot, and M. Westgate featured for the winners. E. Barney and P. Campbell featured for the losers.

$5,000.00
Perfection Heater Contest

WHEN winter storms come, a touch of extra heat is often needed. On the side where the wind blows it's nearly always drafty and chilly. This winter—wherever the wind searches—put a Perfection Oil Heater in its path. It will keep the whole room up to "comfort-point" temperature.

The cost of this extra heat is small, and its use enables you to keep a slower fire in the main heating plant. In many instances the Perfection will soon pay for itself by the coal it saves.

Millions of homes use Perfection Oil Heaters. Ask your dealer to show you one.

UNION MEETING

Women of Five Newton Churches Hold a Community Meeting in Channing Church

That community interest is on the increase was shown on Tuesday afternoon when fully two hundred women from the six Protestant churches of Newton gathered in Channing Church chapel for the union meeting of their women's societies.

Mrs. Joseph N. Palmer, president of Channing Alliance, welcomed the guests on behalf of her organization, the hostess of the afternoon, and presented as the presiding officer, Miss Mabel M. Mason, chairman of the Home Missionary department of the Woman's Association of Eliot Church, who opened the meeting with a brief devotional service. Miss Grace E. Miller, secretary of the Newton Central Council, gave a short account of her organization, telling of the four groups into which the various civic and social welfare organizations of the city have been classified—the Health Group headed by the hospital; the Welfare division with the Welfare Bureau as the center; the Community group in which the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs plays a very important part; and the Civic division which includes the Mayor, the chairman of the Board of Aldermen, the Chief of Police, etc.

MAYOR CHILDS WINS BY HANDSOME MAJORITY

Has Over 3,000 More Votes Than Rogers and Elects Aldermanic Ticket With Him, With One Exception

At the city election on Tuesday Mayor Edwin O. Childs was triumphantly re-elected as mayor for a fifth term of two years, receiving the largest vote ever cast for a candidate for mayor in this city—9,062 to 5843 for Leon B. Rogers, a majority of 3229 votes.

Not only was Mayor Childs successful, but his entire ticket for aldermen at large and all but one of his candidates for ward aldermen, were also elected.

The mayor carried every ward in the city except ward 6 where Mr. Rogers had a majority of 269. In Nonantum the home of Mayor Childs, Mr. Rogers received 5 votes in one precinct and 9 in the other, Mr. Childs having a total of 1282 in the same precincts. Mr. Rogers carried the south side of Newtonville, the south side of West Newton, Waban, the north part of Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill.

The majorities on the Childs ticket for aldermen at large varied from 663 for Mr. Smith over Capt. Sinclair Weeks in Ward 3 to 2421 for Mr. Hollis over Alderman Lloyd in ward 7. Mr. Weeks led the so-called Rogers ticket with a total of 6042, more than Mr. Rogers had himself while former alderman Thomas W. White had the next highest vote to the mayor on the Childs ticket with 7324, former alderman Hollis being a close second with 7263.

For ward aldermen, Mr. Collins won over Mr. Lyon in ward 2 by a vote of 1208 to 1196, a majority of 12.

Alderman Harry B. Ross had a

HARD AT WORK

Edison Co. Has Many Men at Work Repairing Damage Done by Storm

As this article is put in type Thursday, the confident statement of the Edison Light Company's officials is that nearly all commercial services will be restored in Newton by Saturday night. That means the electric light and power service for homes, apartments, stores and factories. It will be some time before the street lighting services are restored because the work on those lines has been left until the last in the restoration work.

Many gangs of men have been at work ever since the storm on Sunday night, November 27. Every available man who could be put to work either as linemen, truck or automobile driver, or as a laborer, doing "ground work" has been hired and put to work—most of them in Newton. It is not surprising that many have missed seeing these men at work, for it would take a regiment of men spread out on the more than 140 miles of street on which Edison service wires run in order to attract general notice.

The extent and nature of the damage as a result of the storm has made it necessary for separate gangs of men to travel over the same streets many times. In the first place emergency crews made these trips, clearing away fallen limbs, coiling up broken wires and preparing the way for the construction men. In some cases these emergency crews were able to restore the services as they went along. Next came the crews working on the main lines. These men were interested only in getting the transmission lines straightened out and repaired, but if they in their journey came to a house where "everything was all clear" they connected up an occasional service. Next came a crew that worked on "secondary services," that is, the single stretches of service wires running from the street line to the house. This second crew handled only the services where the connections could be made quickly to the distribution lines on the street and straight through to the connections at the houses. Next came the third crew working on the more difficult services which naturally have taken more time and the progress has been slower.

Work has been delayed in restoring many services because the customers have not done the work expected of them before the connection could be

SCOUT SWIMMING MEET

The Boy Scout Swimming Meet held last Friday in the tank at the M. C. A. was a great success. Fully two hundred scouts were present, and between thirty and forty took part in the various meets. The final score gave to Troop 4, Newton Highlands 35 points, to Troop 2, Wellesley 20 points, and to Troop 11, Newton, 13 points. The most difficult events, diving, and diving for objects were won by Monroe Soche of Troop 11 who easily carried off the honors in the former, and secured nine plates from the bottom of the tank in one dive. There will be two other scout swimming meets next year, the final coming probably during Scout Week. Great enthusiasm is being displayed, and the future is not so sure for the victor of the last meet. Other troops mean to win.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Charles R. English and Alice F. ### CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The suggestion is made by the Newton Chamber of Commerce, that residents of Newton plan, as far as possible, to do their Christmas shopping in Newton. Practically all of the Newton stores are offering attractive displays of holiday goods and are fully prepared to meet the needs of most Newton citizens. The merchants of the city are Newton men, interested in the welfare and advancement of Newton, and in a position to extend courtesy and service to a degree that cannot be extended by stores located in other cities. Those who patronize Newton stores not only help the individual merchant, but they help Newton, and in the end help themselves by encouraging and justifying the merchants of the city in extending their facilities, carrying larger stocks of goods, and contributing to the mercantile advantages of the city in many ways that are unquestionably an advantage to all citizens. Those who feel that they must necessarily do their Christmas shopping out of town may perhaps be pleasantly surprised, and perhaps save themselves much trouble and annoyance, by first ascertaining what their needs can be met right at home. If, before making their holiday purchases in Boston or other cities, residents of Newton will first make sure that they cannot secure just what they want right in Newton, it is believed that much business may be kept at home and that Newton as a whole will benefit from the development and practical application of a real "Newton for Newton" spirit.

The new Chamber of Commerce committee for the regulation and control of advertising and soliciting schemes has organized with the choice of George A. Schade, of the Orr Hardware Company, Newtonville, as chairman. Every effort is being made to place the plan adopted in operation as soon as possible and several out of town solicitors have already been discouraged in their projects and influenced to seek other fields where conditions might be more promising than in Newton.

The Newton Chamber of Commerce will hold its December meeting this evening at the Newton Club with dinner served at 6:30 o'clock.

The guests and speakers will be Mr. Clifton D. Jackson of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, and Hon. Frank H. Pope of Boston.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs has accepted an invitation to be a guest of the Chamber at its meeting tonight at the Newton Club.

NEW COMMANDER

Major Henry D. Cormerais of Waverley Avenue, Newton, was unanimously elected Commander of Newton Post, American Legion, at the annual meeting held last week Thursday night. Major Cormerais is at present serving as vice commander and he is a member of the State executive committee, being the delegate from Middlesex County. He was one of the founders of Newton Post and one of its most active workers. He served overseas as commander of Headquarters Company, 101st Infantry, and he was severely wounded in action. Upon the return of the 26th Division, Major Cormerais was attached to General Edwards, serving in that capacity until October, 1919.

Leo Libby was elected vice commander; Rev. William J. Farrell, chaplain; and Leo Taffe, historian.

The following executive committee was elected: Robert Cunningham, Ward 1; Louis E. Moore, Ward 2; John E. Hackett, Ward 3; Thomas A. Franey, Ward 4; Frank Hurley, Ward 5; Clarence Hockridge, Ward 6; Henry M. Bliss, Ward 7; and Thomas E. Fickey, William Bell, Michael P. Daly and Heywood French as members-at-large on the executive committee.

Several amendments to the by-laws were passed including the abolition of the initiation fee, changing the meeting night from the second to the third Tuesday of the month, enlarging the executive committee from 11 to 15 members, each village to have a representative, instead of each ward, and making a new quorum of 30 instead of 75.

The newly elected officers and the officers of the Auxiliary will be installed at joint exercises to be held next month, General and Mrs. Clarence Edwards, serving as installing officers.

NEWTON Y. W. C. A.

The Newton Y. W. C. A. has already held two meetings in their new headquarters in the Nonantum building. The newly appointed secretary, Miss Grace K. Hall, has assumed her duties, and the following committee are not yet complete, have been appointed and are at work.

Constitution Committee: Mrs. Leslie Moore, chairman; Mrs. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., Miss Emma L. Walker.

Membership Committee: Miss Helen A. Woodman, chairman; Miss Adelaide Ball, Mrs. William T. Foster, Mrs. Florence Manning, Miss Agnes Bogstad, Mrs. Harold P. Fuller.

Finance Committee: Mr. Haskell, chairman; Mr. W. T. Rich, Miss Mabel L. Riley, Mrs. Louis D. Gibbs, Miss Emma E. Walker, ex-officio.

House Committee: Miss Emma E. Walker, chairman; Mrs. Louis D. Gibbs, Miss Eugenie Bradshaw, Mrs. Ralph Henry, Miss Grace K. Hall.

The organization is in great need of 2 dozen folding or small chairs for immediate use in the office. Any such gifts will be much appreciated. Communications may be made to Miss Emma E. Walker, chairman of the House Committee.

SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

The bridge held December 5th at the Brae Burn Country Club for the Hospital Aid Association was a great success. There were 92 tables in play and about $850 was cleared above expenses. It was the greatest party of its kind ever held in Newton.

Mrs. George Rice of Boston added to the pleasure of the afternoon by her singing.

NEW BOOKS

THE BOY WITH THE U. S. SECRET SERVICE

DR. FRANCIS ROLT-WHEELER
The combination of accuracy and thrill is the key-note of the "U. S. Secret Service Series," and in no book of the series has it been more necessary for the author to be wary. The Secret Service of the United States is truly a secret service. Its doings are most jealously guarded. Its secrets are tenaciously held. Its work is of the utmost importance, and few people are aware how wide is the scope of its activities. In this book are revelations of foreign spy systems, unearthed and destroyed by Secret Service agents; grim tales of the Black Hand; exposures of gangs of counterfeiters; discoveries of anarchist plots; arrests of murderous fanatics; the laying bare of land and naturalization frauds, as well as the unceasing and daily vigilance of the Secret Service. For older boys.—Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co.

THE ANIMAL MOTHER GOOSE

HARRY WHITTIER FREES
Think of real kitties, puppies, and piggies, dressed as the best-known Mother Goose characters: Little Boy Blue, Little Bo-Peep, Jack Horner, Simple Simon, the Little Pig that went to market, and those that didn't, and fifty more, all photographed with unflinching kindness and patience by the greatest of all experts in that line and used in a beautifully printed book! This is far more, even, than a most wonderful collection of pictures of little animal actors and actresses; it is the best selection ever offered of that immortal group of wise nonsense verses, many of great antiquity, known under the general name of Mother Goose.—Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co.

THE BOOK OF COWBOYS

DR. FRANCIS ROLT-WHEELER
Dr. Rolt-Wheeler, in a book which is full of the swing and vitality of those times, which is replete with fun-fights, Mormon massacres, Indian fighting, Western gun-play, and the wild days of the range, has given a vivid and accurate picture of the days through which the Western States leaped from savagery to Statehood. The book is unique in its matter of handling, and, while the reader will revel in its thrilling incidents and its sweep of the Great Outdoors, he will lay it down with a fuller understanding of the lives of the men who contributed so much to America's greatness, and a clearer perception of the way in which the West has come to be a power and a pride in these United States. For older boys, but their elders will read it with equal interest.—Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co.

AND CONSTRUCTION

ALFRED P. MORGAN
Appealing to the spirit of adventure, this remarkable book conducts its readers upon an absorbing excursion in the wonderland of Science, the fascinating mysteries of which may, under such skilful guidance, be explored without leaving home, and at very little expense. With carefully drawn and illustrated plans and plain descriptions, boys are shown how to make at slight cost a great variety of mechanical appliances that actually do the work of great inventions and elaborate machines. Worth a whole library in its information, furnishing a liberal education in science, and so written as always to be entertaining and never dry. For boys from twelve to any age.—Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co.

BETTY BARKER—A LITTLE GIRL WITH A BIG HEART

JANET THOMAS VAN OSDEL
Betty Barker is positively the most human and likable little girl put in a book since Sophie May broke away from the unreal characters in books for little readers and created the immortal "Little Prudy." Betty asks many questions, makes mistakes, and has disappointments, and can be homesick, but is so bright, helpful, and loyal in her friendships that one gets more and more fond of her. Her friend Ada, whom she loves just as well when poor as when taken for her own by a wealthy lady, helps much in giving life to the story. For girls of six or eight—if older folks give them a chance to read it.—Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co.

ADELE DORING AT BOARDING SCHOOL

GRACE MAY NORTH
Fourteen-year-old Adele Doring is the leading spirit in the "Sunnyside Club," a group of close friends whose Club motto is "The only creed of which we have needs the art of being kind." In one way or another, instead of finishing the grammar-school course, all the members of the Club go to a boarding-school, where they continue their good policy of helpfulness to each other and to many new acquaintances. In all this there is a succession of good times, all the more enjoyable because the girls are lively and popular as they are, never forget to be true to the motto of their Club, which in itself of course reflects their careful and sensible home training. They are good girls to know. For girls from twelve to fifteen.—Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co.

THE PLAYERS

The Players are giving "Peg O' My Heart," the popular Irish comedy, this week in Players' Hall, West Newton, the cast consisting of Mrs. Henry L. Harriman, Miss Phyllis Coombs, Miss Mary Newhall, Miss Elizabeth Carter, and Messrs. G. S. Sprague, Philip W. Carter, J. de Vere Simmons, Robert W. Bushnell and W. M. M. Fawcett. The acting manager is Mr. Frank E. Fowle, the stage manager, Hon. Chas. E. Hatfield, assisted by Mrs. Henry J. Nichols.

The ushers are Messrs. Arthur G. Hosmer, Arthur T. Lovett, C. Sinclair Weeks, Amos Roberts Bancroft and Henry L. Fairbrother.

PROFESSOR POWERS' LECTURES

The first in the series of three lectures by Prof. H. H. Powers to be given at the Newton Free Library on successive Wednesday evenings at 8.15 took place last night. The subject of the lecture was, "The Far East." The other lectures are on "The Near East," and the "French Post-War Policy."

Professor Powers began by saying that Japan was the most important country in the Far East. This tiny country, only nine-tenths the size of California, has a population of 60,000,000 to feed. Only one-eighth of Japan can be cultivated, the rest of the land being peculiarly useless either for the plow, or for the raising of cattle. Moreover the population of Japan increases at the rate of 600,000 a year. Hence the problem of the food supply of the country is an acute one. It is due to this state of affairs, and not to "wicked militarists," according to Prof. Powers, that Japan is eager to expand.

Prof. Powers made an interesting comparison of Japan with England, showing that Great Britain unable to support her population at home is able to depend upon her colonies for food; Japan, on the other hand, has no colonies upon which to depend, and no products to exchange, in sufficient quantities, for food.

He explained in detail why Japan could not migrate Westward, since these countries have a lower standard of living than her own, and the more northern of them are not suited climatically. He also showed how impossible it is for the United States to allow the Japanese to come here in any numbers.

In conclusion the lecturer paid a high tribute to Japan saying that in 50 years she has made herself one of the Big Five Powers. As to the Washington conference, he said we had strengthened the position of Japan in the Far East, and that, in his opinion, what the conference had accomplished was simply to give a breathing time for all concerned.

THE NEWTON CENTRAL COUNCIL

At a special meeting of the Newton Central Council held Tuesday evening, December 13th, the following new officers were elected.

President, Mr. Henry I. Harriman; Vice-President, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer; Treasurer, Mr. Leon B. Rogers; Secretary, Mr. George F. Lawton.

The growth of the Council is significant. In less than two years the number of organizations represented on the Council has increased from 10 to 36.

The membership of the Council consists of two delegates from each of these organizations together with the Mayor of Newton, the President of the Board of Aldermen, the Chief of Police and at least five members at large representing the Community.

The Council is now divided into four groups, namely, Health, Welfare, Community, and Civic, and each organization according to its function has been assigned to one of these groups.

With such an efficient staff of officers backed by an enthusiastic membership the Newton Central Council ought to establish cooperative relationship between social and civic activities of Newton to the end that there may be less duplication of effort, better understanding of the needs of the community, greater efficiency and joint action in matters pertaining to the social and civic welfare of the city.

THE DICKINSON TESTIMONIAL

The committee in charge of raising funds for a testimonial for Mr. A. W. Dickinson, the popular coach of the Newton High School athletics, reports that it has been most successful in its work and has arranged for a banquet to Mr. Dickinson to be held at Temple Hall, Newtonville, next Friday evening, Dec. 23rd, at 6:30 o'clock.

Those who may be interested to attend should consult with Mr. William T. Halliday, treasurer of the Newton Trust Co.

Mr. Keating was born in Newton 42 years ago and was the son of the late John P. Keating, a former well known contractor of Newton Highlands. He has been connected with the Newton Post office for the past 20 years.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Sara E. Monto of Buffalo, N. Y., and a half brother, Mr. Frank J. Keating of Rochester, N. Y.

He was a member of Newton Lodge of Elks, Fraternity Lodge of Masons, the Post Office Clerks Benefit Association and Post Office Clerks Local 100. Funeral services will be held from the Elks Home in Newton on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

DEATH OF MR. BACHRACH

David Bachrach of Baltimore, one of America's veteran Portrait Photographers, and father of Mr. Louis F. Bachrach of West Newton, died at his home in Roland Park on December tenth at the age of seventy-six.

Born in Neukirchen in Hesse Cassel, Germany, in 1845, Mr. Bachrach came to this country with his family as a very young boy and was educated in the old Brown Public School and High School of Hartford, Connecticut. At the outbreak of the Civil War, he moved to Baltimore where he was apprenticed to a photographer and had an opportunity to assist in the making of pictures of many men and events of those stirring times. It was during this connection that he photographed Lincoln while making his famous Gettysburg Battlefield speech for Harper's Weekly; he later was offered a commission and pay of lieutenant in the regular army as photographer and as such photographed the surgical cases of the Andersonville prisoners which were exchanged near the close of the war.

Since then the little business, started under his name in 1868 on the fourth floor of an old building in the business section of Baltimore, has expanded until it has become a national institution carried on by his sons, Louis Fabian Bachrach of West Newton, Massachusetts, and Walter Keyser Bachrach of Baltimore.

Mr. George W. Keating, a life long resident of this city died on Wednesday morning at the Newton Hospital, following a stroke of apoplexy which took place the night before. Mr. Keating attended the reception to Mayor Childs at the Elks Home on Tuesday night, and on his way to his lodgings on Pearl street, stopped for a short time at the post office, where he was employed as a clerk. While there he was taken suddenly ill and removed to the Hospital.

Mr. Keating was born in Newton 42 years ago and was the son of the late John P. Keating, a former well known contractor of Newton Highlands. He has been connected with the Newton Post office for the past 20 years.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Sara E. Monto of Buffalo, N. Y., and a half brother, Mr. Frank J. Keating of Rochester, N. Y.

He was a member of Newton Lodge of Elks, Fraternity Lodge of Masons, the Post Office Clerks Benefit Association and Post Office Clerks Local 100. Funeral services will be held from the Elks Home in Newton on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Burr School

The children brought their pennies for the French schools, or as they said "for 'March' Foch's children." They deposited the money in a basket, decorated with the French tricolor, standing beneath Marshall Foch's picture.

This last week we joined the Junior Red Cross and marked our "Red Cross Day" with wearing Red Cross head bands.

The children have been very much interested in all the milk exhibits provided by the upper grades, which led up to the butter-making in the kindergarten. The children ate the butter which they made, on graham crackers.

Thanksgiving week the children brought vegetables to help give Thanksgiving cheer to other less fortunate children.

The month between Thanksgiving and Christmas is the happiest of the kindergarten year. The children are filled with the spirit of Christmas and with the joy of doing for others.

The December Echo will be out next week. It is a very interesting issue comprising as it does, Thanksgiving material, Armistice Day observances, and Christmas stories.

High School

Miss MacGregory, drawing teacher in the Technical High School, has on exhibition some of her paintings.

The pictures are in her classroom and teachers of both schools are invited to see them.

Mr. Thurber, head of the English Department in the Newton High Schools, is the chairman of the College Entrance Requirements Committee.

The West Boston English Club will meet in the library of the Technical High School on Friday, Dec. 16th.

On Friday, Dec. 9th, the Seniors of the Technical High School gave a play called "The Crimson Coconut."

As a result of the Freshman entertainment, on Dec. 9th, the Technical High School has $50 to purchase new books for the library.

The Glee Club of the Classical High School met in the Assembly Hall on Wednesday.

The Junior Class of the Technical High School met on Wednesday to choose a committee to nominate the class officers. The class will meet again in the near future for the election of their officers.

The Class of 1921 will hold a reunion in the library of the Technical High School early next month.

The Freshman Assembly will be on Dec. 22nd in the Assembly Hall of the Technical High School. About 20 Freshmen will take part in the Christmas play called "The Christ Candle."

Mason School

The Mason School Orchestra has its rehearsals on Monday afternoons. They are learning a march for the Christmas hall gatherings.

The eighth grade of Room 10 has 27 sessions of perfect attendance to its credit.

For the four weeks ending Dec. 2, there were 77 tardy marks. A small number for 625 pupils.

Horace Mann

The eighth grade of the Horace Mann School is writing a book about the Disarmament Conference.

The book will contain maps of all kinds. The pupils will write the lives of the members of the Conference, cartoons about the conference which will be of course original, papers containing discussions and questions arising about the armies and navies of the world and the 5-5-3 plan. They will also write about the weakness of the United States in the Pacific.

Lasell

Lasell and Woodland closed on Tuesday for the Christmas vacation. Very early on Wednesday morning the Glee Club sang beautiful old English carols before the main building and dormitory.

The junior school had the Christmas tree and entertainment on Wednesday afternoon. Two short plays, The Piper, The First Christmas Tree, and part of The Birds' Christmas Carol were presented by the children under the direction of Mrs. Furlong and Miss Nichols.

On Wednesday evening at both Lasell and Woodland the Christmas dinner took place, during which the usual slams were given and stunts performed. Later the students attended the lecture at the Congregational Church, given by Dr. Tehy Hsieh on China, Her Relation to the United States.

Special music during the evening was rendered by the Glee Club.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The last half hour of the session of last week Friday afternoon was devoted to story telling. The entire school was assembled in the hall and listened to the stories told by Mrs. Ernest Cobb.

Puzzle stories and other stories which are to be published soon in her new book were related by Mrs. Cobb to the attentive little listeners. Incidentally, an opportunity was given to the children to purchase Christmas Health Seals in aid of the fund of $100 being raised in this community as its quota for the fight against tuberculosis.

The eighth grade was the banner class in attendance for the month ending Dec. 3. The record was 96.1 per cent.

During the week of Dec. 5-9 Christmas Health Seals were on sale in the class rooms. $10.35 was realized through the sale, which was turned over to Mrs. Ernest Cobb who is in charge of the drive for the quota of $100 assigned to this community. The fund is to be used to carry on the fight against tuberculosis.

On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock the entire school was assembled in the hall to hear stories told by Mrs. Cobb.

Puzzle stories and other stories were related and the children were asked to guess the answer. Much interest was shown in the stories.

The highest attendance on our November report was attained by Grade VIII. The class had 96.1 per cent. Mrs. Leavitt's class reported no tardiness.

On Tuesday the graduating class inspected the voting in the basement in the city election. Class election was held on Wednesday following closely the procedure observed on the day previous. Officers were appointed and ballots prepared. The following were chosen:

President, John McInnis; vice president, John Proctor; treasurer, Carleton Redman; secretary, Marie Romaszewicz.

Hyde School

The two third grades under Miss Smith and Miss Jewett are preparing a play called "The Promise." A Christmas wonder story.

The two eighth grades, under the direction of their teachers, Miss Hanscom and Miss Cowen, are preparing to give a selection from "The Birds' Christmas Carol" at the Christmas entertainment.

Miss Bushnell, of Framingham Normal School is now assisting in the primary grades.

Miss Lewis's first graders are enthusiastically carrying out a Christmas project. They are building a "Christmas bungalow." The children have brought dolls to make up the family, and are most interested in making the furnishings, etc.

Mrs. Blakemore's Vocational Guidance class recently held a dramatization of hiring help, bringing out the qualities and characteristics required for certain lines of work. They also held a debate Resolved, That the engineer of a train does more for society than the motorman of an electric car. The affirmative side won.

Miss Perkins's second grade has an average of 25 pupils taking milk. At the beginning of the year, there were eleven underweight. Now there are only three.

Miss Green's class (Grade V) has not yet broken its record of no tardy marks.

Miss Ryder's fifth grade has a contest between boys and girls in attendance. The girls are far ahead.

The little kindergartners are taking home invitations to their Christmas tree which is to be held on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

Bowen School

The week of December 19th will be "At Home" week. The invitations made by the pupils, are to be in various shapes such as a bell, a stocking, a poinsettia, each grade choosing one pattern. The school will be at home to the parents and friends of the pupils, as well as all school officials.

The teachers have been giving a series of luncheons one day each month. Mrs. Colton of the 4th grade was the hostess at the one held in November and Miss Holmes, our third-grade teacher, was the December hostess.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club is giving a Christmas party for all the children of the school on Wednesday afternoon, December 21.

School will close for the Christmas recess on Thursday, Dec. 22. A feature on that day will be the singing of Christmas carols by each of the grades before the door of each room out of sight of the pupils. This was done last year with great success.

Horace Mann Notes

The children of the Horace Mann eighth grade were 351 3/4 pounds underweight before Thanksgiving. Each pupil pledged a certain number of pounds to gain by Thanksgiving, which was 101 pounds altogether; we gained that and a few pounds more. Now we have pledged more to gain by the twelfth of February.

We are all striving to reach our normal weight.

An Indian chief came to the Horace Mann school, Wednesday, Dec. 7. His talk was on how the Indians lived. He was very interesting because he gave his talk in such a way that everyone in the hall could understand what he was saying.

Wednesday, Dec. 7th, the class election of the 8th grade took place. Mr. Carr presided. The pupils voted by the Australian Ballot system. After the ballots were cast a committee was appointed to count the votes, and the following officers were elected:

President, Edwin Ducaet; vice president, Harold Green; secretary, Ruth Lapham. Committees were appointed for deciding upon the class motto, class colors, and plans.

It is the general opinion of the teachers and pupils that an excellent choice was made in electing the officers.

MRS. SARAH W. FISKE

Mrs. Fiske, who died last week Friday at her home in Auburndale, was born at Dedham on June 9th, 1844, the daughter of Silas W. and Caroline E. (Bishop) Wilder. She spent her early life in Medford, and was married there to George M. Fiske in 1864. Mr. and Mrs. Fiske came to Auburndale in 1878 and have resided there ever since. Mrs. Fiske soon became active in Church, Social, and Woman's Club work in Newton. She was one of the organizers in 1880 of the Newton Ladies' Home Circle, a strictly charitable club, the special object of which was practical and personal ministrations to people of Newton who were in need. In this work she was deeply interested all her life. She was kind hearted and sympathetic, making many friends among whom, and greatly prized by her, were many in the more humble walks of life. The funeral was held from the Fiske residence on Wolcott street, and was conducted by Rev. Edward P. Drew, D. D., pastor of the Auburndale Congregational Church, assisted by Rev. Wm. C. Gordon, D. D., former pastor.

Singing by the Harvard Quartet. Interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

Besides her husband she is survived by one son, J. Parker B. Fiske, and one daughter, Mrs. Albert B. Bacon of Bedford.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONFERENCE

The first Young People's Conference of the Norumbega District was called to order on December 2, at 7:30 P. M. by Dwight Shepler, chairman of the promotion committee. Mr. Mayer led the song and devotional exercises, explained the purpose of the conference and the conference officers were elected as follows: Dwight Shepler, President; Alfred Stafford, Vice President; Katherine Fredericksen, Secretary; Harvey Macuen, Treasurer.

Miss Mueller presented the challenge to see our visions, tackle the tasks, and to glorify them. Pointing to the emblem at the front of the room, Mr. Mayer called attention to the single verse which tells how Jesus grew, "And Jesus increased in wisdom, in stature, and in favor with God and man." And showed that we could be neither popular nor efficient workmen without developing the fourfold life.

The second session was held on Saturday morning, when, after a brief song service led by Mr. Stright, and the introduction of leaders and officers, the group was divided. The boys' group under the leadership of Mr. Grundy and Mr. Stright, and the girls' group under Miss Carrothers and Miss Mueller considered the same subjects, namely, "The Efficient Class," and "What My Class can do for Itself, the Church, and Others." After a brief period of discussion in small groups, the groups came together to enjoy a period of songs and cheers. During this period a large group picture of the conference was taken, and at its close, a box luncheon was served by the reception committee.

The afternoon session of the Conference, called at 2:00 P. M. with a song service, followed by the election of Mary McCall and Mary Elizabeth Edmunds to serve on the District Music Committee. A decided innovation was the impromptu sketch showing the organization of a mixed class in a Sunday School of Bingley. Then, in separate sections, the boys and girls learned to plan a week day meeting, after which there was a demonstration of real class activities, physical, mental, social and religious.

The Conference Banquet took place at 6:30 P. M. It is needless to say that everybody enjoyed himself or herself. During the banquet yells and cheers were given, and an orchestra from one of the churches furnished some very good music. Dwight Shepler made an excellent toast-master. Reports were given by the secretary and treasurer of the Conference. The after-dinner speakers were well appreciated for their talks were interesting as well as helpful. Harvey Macuen spoke on "The Call to Workmen," emphasizing the ever need of young people to work for the church. Elsie Badger spoke on "Workmen in Training," and Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton gave a most helpful and enjoyable talk on "Workmen Unshamed."

Mr. Mayer, director of the Conference, who has done so much to make it a success, then ended the conference by speaking to the members on "Back to the Task."

CHRISTMAS MAIL

Within a short time the local Post Offices will be called upon to perform a very important duty, namely the handling of Christmas Holiday mail.

In order to obtain the best results, the earnest co-operation and assistance which patrons of this office can give is respectfully asked, by mailing early, properly addressing and securely wrapping all parcels, being put in place in upper left hand corner your return address, insuring same against loss, using special delivery stamp on articles of perishable and fragile nature.

Suggestion is also made for delivery of mail addressed to offices located in extreme Western and Southern states, to deposit same not later than December 15th for points east of St. Louis, Mo., and in vicinity of Chicago Ill., December 18th for points in Ohio, and Pennsylvania and New York states on December 20th, leaving remaining five days for handling mail addressed to offices in New England. For offices within the Boston Postal District, mail not later than December 22nd.

During the Holiday season large quantities of very small envelopes and notices are put into the mails and the all postal work is very much retarded and mail disfigured and mutilated.

The minimum size cards and envelopes should not be below 2 3/4 x 4 inches, for the following reasons:

1st. Addresses will be obliterated by cancellation mark.

2nd. Too small to be run through facing table, causing extra handling and delay to other mail.

These odd sized pieces of stationery have come into use in the past few years and appear only at Christmas time in large quantities.

BURGLARS CAPTURED

A squad of policemen with drawn revolvers, captured three men outside the garage of Wesley J. Furbush, at 66 Davis avenue, West Newton, early last Friday. The men had a motor truck on which they were loading automobile accessories from the building and it was found that they already had made a trip and had taken away supplies valued at $150, which were recovered in the house of one of the prisoners, David J. Nolan, who lives on Gardner street, Waltham. He is thirty-five years old, and in the Newton court pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and larceny in the night time and carrying a weapon. He was held for the grand jury in bonds that total $6000.

John M. Devlin of Cherry street, Waltham, who, the police say, threw away a revolver when taken, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and larceny in the night and was held in $5000. The third prisoner is August F. Demeo of Gordon street, Waltham, who denied his guilt of breaking and entering and larceny and also of carrying a revolver. His bonds also are $6000.

A neighbor telephoned police headquarters that men were acting suspiciously outside the garage. Four patrolmen, led to the place by Sergeant Joseph Seaver, found Demeo seated on a light truck outside the garage while the others were carrying boxes of spark plugs, tubes, etc., from the building, having forced the door. They made no resistance.

Teach Her Christmas Saving

A deposit book in her name will mean more in the years to come than anything else you could give. Millions spent every Christmas for things that will never be needed could be used to buy homes and freedom from care.

Put Her Present in Our Bank

Just tell us the lady's name and we will give you a little book with the deposit inside. Too many Christmas gifts are worked "with love and best wishes" which carry no real benefit. Make yours a gift of worth.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

On Thanksgiving Day, Mr. Jarvis T. Beal of West Newton visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Nott of White River Junction, Vermont, where his engagement to their daughter, Florence Marion, was announced.

Miss Florence Nott is a graduate of Springfield (Vt.) High School, and is prominently identified in the social life of the town, being a member of the Outlook Club and secretary of the Business Women's League of the Community Club. She is at present connected with the Springfield Printing Corporation. Also a devotee of Outdoor Sports. Miss Nott is on the Ladies' Bowling Team, is studying piano, and a member of the Methodist Sunday School.

Mr. Beal is a graduate of Newton High School, class of 1917 at Harvard, is a well-known athlete, and an overseas veteran. He played on the Varsity baseball team coached by Fred Mitchell. For the past two years he has been Physical and Managing Director of the Community Club at Springfield, Vt., and supervisor of Physical Training in the schools. He is at present Executive Secretary of Community Service at Lenox, Mass. Mr. Beal sang with the Harvard Glee Club, was a member of the Harvard Memorial Society, the Boyston Chemical Society, and of Phi Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. He is also a member of the Masonic Lodge of Springfield. After being nine months in France he spent three months at Cambridge University, England, where he captained the American baseball team that played against Oxford.

No date has been set for the wedding.

"SPEED"

The Newton performance of "Speed," the new farce opera written by Miss Ethel Hale Freeman was witnessed by a group of appreciative people in Players Hall last Friday night.

The plot of the farce is built about the contrast between the Girl of Today, and the Girl of Yesterday. Miss Beal as Aunt Nancy represented the past, while Miss Kimball, her niece, represented the girl of the present. Miss Beal's playing was marked by vivacity and "pep," while Miss Kimball possessed charm of manner, and a sweet voice. The contrast between past and present was further carried out by Mr. Prescott Warren as Uncle Frank, and his nephew, Frank, played by Mr. Perry. The latter had the leading vocal (male) part, and sang with much power, and admirable enunciation.

Throughout act one, the music, "The Sweet Young Girl of Today," formed the leading motif. This was sung by a chorus in modern costumes, while a chorus in the costumes of yesterday, sang of the girl of the past. The second act was laid at an inn whither Aunt Nancy and her nephew, Frank, have gone on a joy ride. The imitation of this joy ride was one of the hits of the play. Mr. Kimball and Mr. Geoffrey Baker added humorous touches to this scene. Act 3, on the roof of the inn, brought about a readjustment of characters, leaving Uncle Frank and Aunt Nancy together, and niece Nancy with nephew Frank. The latter sang a beautiful duet together which the audience listened upon having repeated. The participants, however, in their repetition, omitted the most interesting episode.

In both dialogue and music, Miss Freeman has again scored a success, and her group of actors did full justice to the operetta.

The cast included Mr. Perry, Mr. Warren, Mr. Kimball, Mr. Baker, Miss Kimball, Miss Beal, Miss Hayden, and Miss Grabow. The chorus included Miss Shelton, Miss Warren, Miss Grabow, Miss McKee, Miss Brown, Miss Steadman, Miss Sherman, Miss MacDonald, Mr. Newhall, Mr. Sanborn, Mr. Houghton, and Mr. Jenkins. Miss Freeman, herself, directed the performance. The stage was in charge of Miss Jarvis, the properties of Mr. Newhall, costumes, Miss Ames, business, Mrs. Wyner, dance, Miss McKee, and pianist, Miss Pelonsky.

TELEPHONE DAMAGE

"Over 100,000,000 feet of various kinds of wire, or nearly enough to girdle the earth, has been temporarily laid on the ground or attached to fences and pole stumps during the past few days, in order to restore our service at the earliest possible moment," said General Manager Driver of the Telephone Company yesterday.

"To show the magnitude of our problem, two orders for copper wire aggregated 400,000 pounds each. We have on hand or on the way 13 carloads of crossarms, six carloads of pole line hardware, and over 50 carloads of poles. Other material aggregates thousands of tons."

"The Claffin Club will meet tonight at the Methodist Church. Mr. James B. Thrasher will impersonate French Canadians, and read selections illustrative of the Canadian life. He will also give original pieces."

—Miss Cora Carter invites you to her annual exhibition of Hand-Painted China, Glass Ivory and Christmas Cards December 5th to December 24th, inclusive, from 2 until 9 p. m., 65 Washington Park, Newtonville.

—The recently appointed members of the Altar Guild of St. John's Church are Mrs. James A. Boyce, Mrs. Edgar S. Burkhart, Mrs. Alice Gould, Mrs. William B. Cowin, Mrs. George R. Kraber, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Carl S. Wells.

—The December Social of Central Church will take place this evening under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Decatur, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyon. Central Church is noted for its friendly spirit and a royal good time is assured to all who come.

—The Fall Concert of the Newton Choral Society will be given next Tuesday night at Central Church. One hundred and fifty singers will take part. The concert offers a great variety of selections, and there will be several soloists of note.

—Saturday, Dec. 17, the parish of St. John's Church are invited to the parish house, where there will be music and simple refreshments. This will mark the informal opening of the new house. On Sunday there will be brief dedicatory exercises.

—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tompkins, formerly of Court Street are saddened by the news of the slaying away of their baby daughter, Shirley Rae, Sunday morning.

—It seems such a short time she had been loaned them, only 17 months, but the sunny, happy little one has left a treasured memory and Heaven is brighter for her coming. The sincerest sympathy is extended to them, also to the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Tompkins.

—On Wednesday, December 7, the Woman's Association of Central Church, held its usual luncheon with Mrs. C. W. Tylee in charge. Rev. A. F. Holt, Social Service Secretary of the Congregational churches spoke of his "Summer in England" most interestingly, describing his visits to all sorts and conditions of society in Great Britain. After the address many matters of business were taken up, the most important being the adoption of a new constitution.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The monthly program meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Church was held Wednesday, Mrs. G. W. Auryan and her helpers of Group Five giving most interesting pictures of work among the Southern Highlanders, especially the regions surrounding Piedmont College, Demorest, Georgia, and Pleasant Valley, Tennessee.

A lively lesson in the geography of the Highland section was given by Mrs. E. E. Wakefield, Jr. Mrs. W. H. Allen described the stalwart characteristics of the people and Mrs. Stevens of Piedmont College told of the uplift and practical help given boys and girls of neglected Demorest section and of the great need of backing from more favored peoples. Mrs. L. E. Moore sang a solo. Mrs. S. J. Spear gave an account of the plant at Pleasant Hill Academy, Tennessee and the eager progress of those students.

Beautiful samples of weaving and baskets were on exhibition which was done by the people of the mountainous places of isolation. Pleasant Hill is one of the favorite objects of help by the Woman's Association. Tea closed a pleasant and profitable afternoon.

"Penny Nails."

The term penny in connection with nails is always used in combination with prefixed numerals, such as four-penny, ten-penny, etc., to form an adjective. These adjectives now denote certain arbitrary sizes. Originally, they denoted the price per hundred of nails.

CHIEF EXECUTIVES AT PLAY

Occupants of the White House Have Sought Recreation in All Forms of Strenuousness.

It is said that President Harding is the best golfer who ever lived in the White House. Though he only took up the game three years ago, he can get round the Chevy Chase course at Washington in 95, today being 71.

Mr. Wilson, though at one time a very good walker, was never keen on games, with the one exception of lawn tennis. He played a sound game and has on occasion shown that he could drive a locomotive.

The late Mr. Roosevelt was by far the most athletic man who ever sat in the presidential chair of the United States. Some of his feats were extraordinary. So lately as 1909 he rode 98 miles in 17 hours over slushy Virginia roads. He never stopped anywhere for more than ten minutes, except once, at midday, for lunch and to rest his horse.

He was a skillful boxer and a fine fencer. Some eighteen years ago he received a bad wound over the eye in a fencing bout. The button of his opponent's foil broke off.

"Big Bill" Taft, who was one of the heaviest of United States Presidents, took up boxing in order to get his weight down, and was successful in reducing himself.

Fishing is a sport which many Presidents have enjoyed, among them Benjamin Harrison and Mr. Cleveland. The latter was a really keen angler and used to visit Florida in winter in order to enjoy the delights of capturing the great "silver king," as the tarpon is generally called.

GAIN AND LOSE POPULARITY

Words Travel in Cycles, Speakers and Writers Dropping Into the Mode of the Moment.

"Allocation," said the wordmonger, "is a word that is being given considerable prominence, it became popular during the war in connection with ships and loans. The 'allocation' of shipping and the 'allocation' of loans came to be current phrases. Not long ago the senate called on the President for information as to how he had 'allocated' certain funds. In a recent newspaper story about an operative benefit in one of the big cities the newspapers said that 'the allocation of boxes is to be based on the size and date of the contribution.'"

"Allocation" is so closely allied to 'allot,' 'assign' and 'apportion' that the shipping and treasury authorities might just as well have said the 'allotment' of funds or loans. But words come into fashion and writers and speakers fall into or 'fall for' the prevailing mode in words as some persons do for the prevailing colors in socks or neckties, says the Washington Star. In the 'olden times'—that is, when grandfather was in business—'allocation' had somewhat of a run as a financial word and one could often hear and see the phrase 'allocation of the shares of the company.'"

"Findings Is Keepings."

The appellate division of the Supreme court of New York, has decided that 'findings is keepings,' even for a copper," writes the New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger.

"You see, Policeman Nicholas J. Majeski was off duty when he picked up an envelope lying on the sidewalk in Third avenue. Lucky pick! Envelope contained fourteen $50 Liberty bonds. That was in April two years ago, and being an honest 'cop' he turned them in. No owner turned up and recently Nick went around to the lost property bureau and put in a claim for them as their finder. 'If you were a citizen you could have them,' said his superior officer, 'but you are just a cop and the police rules and regulations say the proceeds from unclaimed property found by members of the force goes to the police pension fund.' Nick hired himself a lawyer, made a fight for the bonds and the law stands back of him."

Church Bars Collection Plate.

A new method of meeting church expenses is told by the London Morning Post, which reports that collections have recently been entirely abolished at the parish church of Fulham, in London, except for special occasions for objects not connected with the parish.

Church expenses will be met out of a special fund which has been formed and to which every member of the congregation is asked to contribute a definite sum weekly. The experiment is said to be the first of its kind so far as the Church of England is concerned, but the vicar of Prittlewell, who was secretary of last year's church congress at Southend, has for some time had a very successful special fund at his church, if he has not entirely abolished the ordinary collections.

Snake Adept's Mouse.

A white mouse placed in the cage with a South American boa constrictor as food has been adopted by the snake, according to Edwin A. Osborne of No. 9518 1116th Street, Richmond Hill, owner of the unusual animal. The mouse has made a nest of straw in the coils of the boa and Mr. Osborne declares the most amicable relations exist between the two.

The snake recently crushed to death a large rat in twenty-four seconds. The reptile refused to eat the rat, however.—New York World.

INDUSTRY LOST TO CANADA

Country Failed to Take Advantage of Ability to Build Tonnage for the High Seas.

Canadian shipbuilding dates from 1605 with the small vessels built at Port Royal (Annapolis) by Francois Grave, sailor from St. Malo. Seventy years later Interdent Talon's trading vessels are voyaging from Quebec to the West Indies and France—fore-runners of those on the later triangular course—Canada to South America, Marseilles and return.

The year 1833 is the famous sea-mark when the Royal William, capacity 363 tons, left Pictou on August 29 and reached London in 25 days—the first ship to cross the ocean under no power but steam. Though this ship was built in Quebec, it was to Nova Scotia in the persons of the three Cunard brothers that the vision came. Steam power, however, was as yet a baby. In 1850, Mackenzie of Pictou astonished Glasgow with the Hamilton Campbell Kidston, the biggest sailing ship the Clyde had ever seen. In 1864 Nova Scotia was launching 300 vessels, and by 1880 eastern Canada building, sailing, owning and selling, had become one of the four greatest shipping districts of the world. For a period between these dates Canada headed the lists of tonnage in proportion to population.

It was not so much the use of steam that caused the decline as the change from wood to metal. Had Nova Scotia developed her metal industries a generation sooner, the 500 Canadian vessels, built in 1875, would surely not have dwindled to 29 in 1900.

EARTH NOT REALLY CROWDED

Trouble Is That Nature Has Not Seemed to Arrange a Division That Is Equitable.

Somebody has reckoned that if the earth's population had increased 4½ per cent every hundred years since the birth of Christ, by now there would not be standing room left on the globe, including all the islands. Yet England and Wales in ten years increased their population 161 per cent, and the increase in the United States has been much greater.

The earth's population at the present time is about sixteen hundred million. Different parts of the earth vary greatly in the matter of density of population. Certain portions of China, the Ganges valley, and parts of Europe are too crowded for comfort. On the other hand, large tracts of Central Asia, Russia, the Americas, Africa and Australia could accommodate many more people.

The Turks by their religious fanaticism have caused devastation in the last five hundred years in the valley of the Danube, in Macedonia, Asia Minor, Syria, and Mesopotamia. These countries, as a result of massacre and famine, are dried-up deserts.—Popular Science Monthly.

To Waterproof Matches.

One of the commonest experiences of the camper is that of finding that matches are so damp that they will not strike. All this trouble may be avoided by providing oneself with waterproof matches. These are easily made in the following way: Melt a few lumps of candle wax in an old can on the stove. Allow this to cool a little and then, before it has set, dip the matches in, one at a time. Treat the heads and about half of the wooden part. Place the matches in this simple manner have been soaked in water for many hours, and they have ignited as readily as those which were perfectly dry. The only difference is that, in striking, it is useful to do so a trifle more firmly so as to get through the thin film of wax surrounding the head. When once the flame starts, the match burns very readily, owing to the wax which had adhered to the wood. Any ordinary matches can be treated in the manner described.—S. Leonard Bostin in St. Nicholas.

Use the Hours Wisely.

Many men whose time had never been turned to account until they were past 40 have still had enough left to accomplish great things in the world.

But these are the most sincere mourners for the years that might have been utilized.

If you will begin to-day to bear in mind that time cannot be hoarded, and that every hour of it should be converted into something that can be hoarded, you may lay the foundation for a fortune. You will certainly lay the foundation for happiness by and by.

Count your hours and allot each one to some task or to some profitable recreation. See that none of them slip by. They are as water through a mill, which, if sent over the wheel, creates valuable energy, but which spilled over the dam is gone forever.—John Blake, in Chicago Daily News.

You Never Can Tell.

Guest (upon approaching his host's home in the suburb)—Ah, there are some of your family on the veranda. See if I can guess who they are. The girl in short dresses is your daughter, the young man in riding breeches is your son and the lady in the—er—tea gown is your charming wife.

Host—No, you are all wrong. The girl in the short dresses is my grand-mother; the young fellow in riding breeches is my wife and the lady in the tea gown is my 10-year-old daughter, who likes to dress up in her great-grandmother's dresses.—Judge.

EDITORIAL

Rumors have reached us to the effect that some persons believe that the Graphic has purposely misrepresented certain matters during the election contest just closed.

As we have had several personal experiences with political misrepresentation, we are rather sensitive on the subject and assure our readers that we have been most careful to have substantial backing, either in the form of official letters or evidence from more than one reliable person, for every statement we have made in the campaign. Further than that, we have not knowingly drawn any unfair conclusion from the facts as we have understood them.

If a careful reading of the Graphic leads to any other conclusion, we sincerely apologize first to our readers, whom we would never willfully deceive and secondly to Mayor Childs and all his friends.

Outside of the opposition expressed by the Immanuel Church to the proposed new parkway, about the only objection noted was the fear on the part of business men located in Nonantum square that they would lose business if traffic was diverted from their own front doors. We believe the city government should go right ahead and take the necessary land for this parkway from Centre street to Washington street and not wait for the intolerable traffic conditions which are sure to come in the near future if relief is not planned.

We tender our hearty congratulations to Mayor Childs on the overwhelming endorsement given his administration by the people of this city.
So far as the Graphic is concerned, his victory wipes the past off the slate and we are prepared to support Mayor Childs to the limit in every measure he may propose for the best interests of the city.

It is curious to note how the individual prejudices affect one's opinion of the amount of congestion in Nonantum square. The truth is that Nonantum square is congested with traffic part of the time and not congested for the rest of the time, it all depends on the time of day you visit the square.

Mayor Childs should be proud of the tremendous endorsement given him by the voters of this city. It was a tribute which swept away all questions of policy or administration and centered itself almost affectionately upon the personality of "Ned Childs."

We are glad to see that the city voted NO license even on the apparently innocuous question of licensing the sale of non-intoxicating beverages.

The Red Cross campaign in this city, while not as successful as the work during the war, is still highly creditable to Newton.

Miss Miller considers such a council as peculiarly necessary in a city like Newton, where each of the villages is a separate community. The good result is already being felt, for the component parts are even now cooperating more intelligently and more sympathetically.

Mrs. Carrie A. Hull, secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, told of the Health classes begun upon the playgrounds and continued through the schools, and spoke particularly of the prevention work, which has been made possible through the money received from the sale of Christmas seals. Outside communities have been looking at what we have been doing in Newton, with the result that both Cambridge and Brookline are going to follow our summer program upon their playgrounds. Mrs. Hull stated that the sale of seals has been lagging somewhat, and urged that it be increased because the money is so much needed.

An outline of the city budget for 1920 had been placed on a blackboard, showing graphically the percentage allocated each department, and was explained by Miss Grace M. Burt.

Rev. Laurens MacLure, D. D., summed up the thought of the afternoon in an eloquent and uplifting address, in which he raised the question,
"Why, with all this work, does not the millennium come in Newton?" Chiefly, he said, because of our favorite practice in America of what is called,
"passing the buck." But the truth of the matter is, the millennium is not going to come, we are never going to get absolute perfection, and the glory of it is, that no sooner have we done one good job, than we see another ahead of us waiting to be done.

Spiritual betterment comes in as the tide, with an ebb and a flow,—that is the way things happen in the world.
The chorus led the hymns and sang one selection between the addresses.

At the close of the formal part of the meeting the company adjourned to the parlor where tea was served by the social committee made up as follows: Mrs. Harry C. Wiggins, of Channing church, chairman; Mrs. Samuel W. Bridges of Grace church; Mrs.
Walter B. Volcott, of Eliot church;
Mrs. Clarence Moore of Immanuel Baptist church, Mrs. Alfred Allen of the Methodist church, and Mrs. Alexander Blue of the North church, assisted by the girls of the Sunshine society of Channing church. Mrs. Gilbert R. Griffin of Channing church was chairman of the ushers, the others being Mrs. Edgar Horne, Eliot; Mrs.
G. A. Aston, Methodist; Mrs. Edward Gruener, Grace; Mrs. Lowry, North; Mrs. D. Webster Anders, Immanuel. The committee of arrangements included Miss Mabel M. Mason, Eliot; Mrs. W. H. Mitchell, Grace;
Mrs. G. A. Aston, Methodist; Mrs. Robert
L. Rae, North; Mrs. Clarence
Moore, Immanuel; Miss Grace M.
Burt, Channing. Mrs. W. H. Mitchell and Mrs. H. Grant Person poured. The rooms were tastefully decorated with Christmas greens, while the tea table was resplendent with two beautiful old silver urns, red candles in silver candle sticks, and a basket of red roses. That this opportunity for social intercourse was fully appreciated was indicated by the way the women lingered, until a later hour over the teacups. An informal vote showed the company unanimously in favor of making this union meeting an annual affair, and a vote was passed referring the matter to the presidents of the six organizations to work out the plan.

made by the company. Where the service pipe, that is, the pipe attached to this side of the house, through which wires run, had been pulled away the repair of this damage has been up-to the customer. Electrical contractors were notified to get in touch with their customers and to make tours of the district, informing customers where these damages existed, that they would have to do the work at their own expense. Where there has been "private property construction," that is, where the service run in from the street, although put up by the company, has been done at the expense of the customer, where poles have been down or supporting arms broken from their fastenings—such work, which is done at the customer's expense, has perforce been left until the last because it is work that takes considerable time and the gangs of men could not be spared from the emergency work incident to restoring the larger number of customers in the shortest time.

Customers of the Edison Company have been most considerate and patient and have cooperated in every way they knew in helping restore services after the worst storm of this generation. Hundreds of letters have been received, complimenting the company on the rapid work that has been done; asking if there was any way in which the customer could help in the work; and almost in every case assuring the company of their patience and extending their congratulations on the good work being done. To everyone the company desires to express its thanks and appreciation in the sincerest way.

MAYOR CHILDS WINS

walkover with Mr. Noone, winning in Ward 4 by a vote of 1078 to 460.

In Ward 7 there was another close battle, Alderman Jewell having a lead of 16 votes over Mr. Burt M. Rich, the Childs candidate. School committee men, J. Everett Hicks of ward 2 and George M. Angier of Waban were re-elected without opposition.

The vote on the so called liquor question was 4638 Yes to 7207 No, a negative majority of 2569.

Alderman George W. Pratt of ward 6 was re-elected alderman at large with 8029 votes and the following ward aldermen were elected without opposition:

Ward 1, John C. Madden, 1114
Ward 2, Timothy C. Hickey, 1392
Ward 3, George W. Phipps, 1299
Ward 4, F. Eugene Banfield, Jr. 1426
Those elected included:
Mayor, Edwin O. Childs.

Aldermen-at-large
Ward 1, William E. Earle
Ward 2, George W. Grebenstein
Ward 3, Frederick L. Smith
Ward 4, Harold F. Young
Ward 5, Thomas W. White
Ward 6, George W. Pratt
Ward 7, Arthur W. Hollis

School Committee
Ward 2, J. Everett Hicks
Ward 3, George M. Angier

Ward aldermen
Ward 1, John C. Madden
Ward 2, Roy V. Collins
Ward 3, Timothy C. Hickey
Ward 4, Harry B. Ross
Ward 5, George W. Phipps
Ward 6, F. Eugene Banfield, Jr.
Ward 7, Theodore E. Jewell

A total of 14,973 votes were cast about 78% of the registration, with 7959 men and 7014 women. The highest percentage of vote to registration was in the two Nonantum precincts, one casting 94%, the other 93%.

The only unpleasant feature of the day was the jeers and insulting remarks thrown at the lady drivers of the automobiles who were working for Mr. Rogers. Late in the afternoon the Rogers banners were frequently torn from the cars as they were standing at the polling booths.

The election passed off quietly and the vote was polled expeditiously.
City Clerk Grant having provided plenty of booths at each voting precinct. Mr. Grant also had the election officers send in to City Hall, the vote for mayor as soon as counted, so that the result was known by 6.30 o'clock.

The early returns showed the re-election of Mayor Childs and his friends paraded the streets with motor trucks and automobiles burning red fire and cheering over their success.
The homes of Mr. Rogers and of the editor of the Graphic were serenaded during the evening. There was a big crowd at the Elks' home,—Mayor Childs' headquarters, and all in all it was a lively evening for Newton.

an automobile, the property of John Glover of 230 Walnut street, Newton-ville, on the evening of Dec. 6. Slavin's case was dismissed by agreement. The three boys, after stealing the automobile, it is alleged, proceeded to Wellesley and held up John Rowland in his store on Central street, Wellesley. They were apprehended through the transfer that had been given to one of the boys earlier in the evening, and had been left on the floor of the stolen car. The court ordered them to pay $10 costs and $90 damages. A Wellesley officer was present with a warrant charging them with the Wellesley holdup.

—Give him a new record for Christmas. Buy it at Newton Music Store, Newton Corner.

The final musical vespers service at the New Church will be held on Sunday at 5 P. M. Mr. Gould will speak.

—Miss Margaret Sampson is in charge of the supper of the Young People's League of the New Church held at 6 o'clock Sunday in the church parlors.

—Mr. Charles M. Sladen has an exhibition of articles in wood work and pen and ink drawings at the Society of Arts and Crafts, Boston, from Dec. 15-21.

—There was a still alarm last Friday for a fire in the house of D. W. Kearns of Washington park. The cause is unknown and the damage slight.

On Sunday, Dec. 25th, at 4:30 P. M. the Christmas Mystery Play, "Adeste Fideles" will be given in the New Church by members of the Sunday School.

The Barnacles will meet on Tuesday with Mrs. R. A. Irwin, 161 Lowell avenue. Mr. R. B. Carter will introduce a discussion of "Industrial Democracy."

One hundred dollars are needed to complete Newtonville's quota of $800 for the Tuberculosis League, better known as the Christmas Seals Sale. The canvassing is over, but further contributions are urged. Please send to Mrs. Edward K. Titus, 23 Otis street.

An event of unusual artistic and religious interest will take place at the Church of the New Jerusalem, at 4:30 o'clock on Christmas Sunday afternoon, when a Christmas "mystery play" in the ancient style will be given by the children of the Sunday School. The title of the play is "Adeste Fideles," and the cast will include Miss Sylvia Church, Mr. Reginald Capon, Miss Muriel Howard and others. Special effects in lighting and decoration are planned. The public is cordially invited.

C. E. NOTES

The Norumbega Union of Christian Endeavor held its Publicity Social Saturday night at the Watertown Baptist Church. There were about 150 people present who all declared the social to be a success in every way.

The various papers represented, including two papers from Waltham, the Belmont Citizen, the Newton Graphic, and the Boston American, were all very cleverly drawn up and the editors of each feel satisfied that their news items gave amusement to the audience if nothing else. Refreshments were served after the entertainment.

The Union held its monthly business meeting in the First Baptist Church of Waltham Tuesday night, December 13th. Plans for the 35th Anniversary of Christian Endeavor were discussed and the aim of the Union, "500 present at the Anniversary" is looking a little more hopeful. After the business meeting "hot dogs" and coffee were served and a short social hour was held.

TOOK THE WHOLE SECTION

Girl Availed Herself Thoroughly of Courtesy Extended to Her by Fellow Traveler.

Some of us remember the story of the camel that wanted to put his nose into the master's tent to warm a bit. Well, that camel is still alive. The other day she got on the train, dressed very prettily and looked as if she were used to having half the world whenever she wished it. But she didn't get it, for all the Pullman seats were taken.

Finally a middle-aged man, noticing her discomfort, motioned to the Pullman conductor. "I have this whole section reserved," he explained, "and since this young lady only goes to Evansville she may have a seat in it." Courtly, he rose from his seat facing the engine and indicated that she was to have it while he would ride backward. While he stood waiting for her to settle herself in it she lifted her grip, put it on the seat facing her, draped her coat beside it, also her hat, magazines, purse and a box of candy. Then she stretched herself in the choice seat, leaving not an inch of room for any other person to occupy.

For a long minute the man stood regarding the bit of space beside the hat and candy box. Then he turned on his heel and went into the smoking car to stay until the train reached Evansville.—Indianapolis News.

JOY THAT COMES BUT ONCE

Statesman Recalls Thrill of Delight That Came to Him in His Schoolboy Days.

William C. Redfield, former secretary of commerce, says that he can recall with microscopic distinctness the moment that gave him the biggest thrill of delight in his whole life. It was when he was going to school and trying to master long division.

Three or four aisles over from where he sat a boy yawned. It was not an ordinary yawn, but one of such genuine expression of feeling toward things in general that it attracted Redfield's attention.

He was fortunate in having a paper wad right at hand, ready for any emergency, and he aimed this at the boy's cavernous mouth. By one of those rare exhibitions of magnanimity on the part of an inanimate object, the wad went right square into the goal, and Redfield's joy knew no bounds. He had played the one chance in a million and won.

Encouraged by his dexterity in that instance, Redfield then tried throwing rings at knives at county fairs, but never again did he exhibit such wondrous aim.

Caruso of China.

Lou Hoong-Shen, the Caruso of China, is dead. You never heard of him? Yet, he died in a Shanghai theater that had contracted to pay him $10,000 a week. That's a big salary. It is phenomenally big in China, where a few cents a day will hire a strong man. Born of poor parents, Lou Hoong-Shen had to scramble for a living. But, though China is a land of musical voices (as anyone who testifies who has listened to the songs of the hawk and the coo), the boy Lou stood alone. He had the most wonderful voice among 400,000,000 Chinese. Despite this, he had to work hard before he became great. For many years he was a mummer—Chinese actor. Ten years ago he was "discovered" in Shanghai. At once he quit the paint and weird garb of a Chinese actor and became a musical star. By odd coincidence, the great Chinese tenor died from a burst blood vessel in his throat, similar to that which threatened to take the life of Caruso, now convalescent.

Fox Ranching in Europe.

Although it is not generally known, quite a number of foxes were sold last year to parties residing in Europe, mainly throughout Sweden, Norway and Switzerland. One rancher who has supplied a number of pairs to these Europeans, states that the industry is spreading in a truly wonderful manner in these countries, and that this year he expects to be able to sell practically all his foxes abroad. There is only one drawback at present to a general spread of the industry there, and that is the rather high cost of feeding, but this is being overcome, and the sale of breeding stock at good prices will amply cover the higher expense. The present rate of exchange is also a disadvantage, but this does not seem to affect those who want to start in at the business, as the Europeans are now used to this. There is most certainly a big field in Europe for the fox industry, and that it will some day amount to something big is a surety.

The Lobster's Path.

The special dispatch from New London which told of the Noank fisherman who sold 2,700 pound of lobsters for more than $300, thus enabling him to pay all the expenses incurred last spring when he started to build pots, buoys, etc., probably gives only the first chapter in an interesting story. It is fair to assume that the dealer who resold them to the summer hotel was enabled to pay the expenses he incurred when he erected his new warehouse, wharves and office buildings last fall; while, it may be presumed, the summer hotel owner in retelling them to his guests cleared off the half-million-dollar mortgage he contracted when he added the ten-story marble wing earlier in the season.—Hartford (Conn.) Courant.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

To the Editor of the Graphic:

I wish to express through your columns my appreciation of the hearty support given me in the mayoralty contest just completed, and to thank the men and women who served on the various committees for their enthusiastic and loyal effort.

It is very definitely shown that Mr. Childs is the selection of a very large majority of the voters in Newton, and it is the duty of each one of us to do what we can to help him in the administration of city affairs and to give him the hearty support to which he is entitled.

Very truly yours,
LEON B. ROGERS.

WABAN GIRL SCOUT PLAY

The Waban Girl Scouts, Capt. Cornelia M. Holmes, gave their annual play in the Waban Neighborhood Club yesterday afternoon and will give another performance tonight.

The play, "The Awakening," written and personally directed by C. Hassler Capron, with lyrics and music by Walter C. Rogers, was enthusiastically received by a crowded house.

There were two scenes, an interior scene, and a garden scene, painted by H. A. Tomlinson. The second scene with its hedge of roses, lake and mountains, was particularly charming.

Mary Sheehan played the principal part, that of a young girl with a great love of Nature, very well, as did Catharine Gates the difficult part of the aristocratic, supercilious mother.

In the last scene, where a group of orphan children are taken into the country for a day's outing, the coming of the fairies and the spirits of the flowers was most effective, as were the dances. The dance of Jack-in-the-Pulpit was especially unique.

The music throughout was bright and tuneful. Special musical numbers were "The Fairy Queen Song," by Ruth Jensen, "The Violet Song," by Virginia Elmer, "The Buttercup Song," by Thelma Stanley, "The Song of a White Rose," by Jean MacDonald.

Costumes were dainty and artistic in coloring, making the last scene, in particular, a very beautiful one. The lighting in this scene also added much to its effectiveness.

In the evening an orchestra, including Miss Forte, Miss Matthews, and Miss Masters, with Mr. Walter R. Holmes as violinist, Mrs. Charles W. Hawkes as accompanist, and Mrs. John F. Capron as musical director will take part.

The Waban Girl Scouts and all who assisted them are to be congratulated upon giving such a finished performance.

Costumes and program cover were by Miss Louise Stuart, and the dances were in charge of Miss Hazel Sands. Miss Cornelia M. Holmes, Capt. of the Scouts, was chairman of the committees.

Many members of other troops of Girl Scouts were present.

The cast included: Harriet Bond, Frances Sutton, Virginia Reynolds, Ruth Lockwood, Gladys Kellaway, Lois Burnham, Edith Lamont, Mary Sheehan, Catharine Gates, Miriam Lockwood, Sydna White, Ruth Jensen, Dorothy Gourley, Jean MacDonald, Virginia Elmer, Thelma Stanley, Helen Fawcett, Eleanor Burnham, Muriel Andrews, Catherine Chandler.

Fairies of the Woods: Marjorie Whittaker, Phyllis Bourne, Lorraine Phipps, Betty Bates, Eleanor Lamb, Mary Louise Chandler.

Children from the Orphan Home: Helen Warren, Lois Rice, Elizabeth Ham, Helen Sheehan, Ruth Hosley.

Mason School

The girls and boys of Room 11 have voted to give up their Christmas party and use the money in making up a Christmas box to be sent to two brothers in France, who lost their father in the World War.

Miss Crandell's children for their project work are making a picture on the sand table of the spirit of Bethlehem at the time of Christ.

The Shepherds, the wise men, and the manger will be represented. In connection with this, they will write for their language work the story of the Christ Child.

Air Necessary for Human Life.

Every time we breathe, we draw thirty cubic inches of air into our lungs; supposing that we take fifteen breaths a minute for the twenty-four hours of the day, we use no less than 648,000 cubic inches of air, which would weigh over thirty pounds. One day's supply of air for one human being would be sufficient to fill 1,125 two-gallon cans; a year's supply would weigh more than five tons. From these figures it may be seen how necessary it is to keep windows open so that there may be a continuous supply of fresh air.

Monterey's Ostrich Tree.

Montgomery, Cal., is as proud of its ostrich tree as residents of the lower Hudson valley are of Anthony's nose. This celebrated curiosity is formed of two coast cypresses, so that their foliage seems to be that of one tree; and the shape of it, together with the peculiar angle at which the two trunks are placed, gives the silhouette of a huge and earnest ostrich standing aloft. The brave old trees that make the picture are alone on a barren tongue of beach running out into the breakwaters of the Pacific.

Divining-Rod Is Poor Guesses.

Australia's Royal Society of Victoria has decided, after an investigation of the divining-rod as a water-finder, that it "was a subject for investigation by the psychologist rather than the geologist." Discoveries are sometimes made by chance, but few hear about the many failures.—Popular Science Monthly.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor.

The Street Department of the City of Newton including the Forestry Division, also the Telephone Company deserve the thanks of the citizens, for their prompt and business-like manner in bringing the city back to a practically normal condition. Within a week the streets were cleared up of the immense amount of limbs and brush from the trees and nearly all telephones were in working condition. This is in contrast with the electric light condition, where a large part of West Newton hill is still in darkness, streets as well as houses, nearly three weeks since the storm occurred.

Is there any reasonable excuse for this long delay?

FRED P. BARNES.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BUNT, Editor.

Coming Federation events are being announced much earlier than usual with the result that club women will be able to plan ahead for them. The first to be noted is the Midwinter meeting of the State Federation at Allston on February 16; then follows the Presidents' Conference at Springfield on April 20, and the Annual meeting in New Bedford, probably in May, when Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation, will be the guest of honor.

June 29, 1922, has been fixed as the opening date of the Biennial convention of the General Federation at Chautauqua. It is announced that Mrs. Winter will be a candidate for reelection. With the Biennial in an Eastern state there should be a large New England delegation, and it is none too early for delegates to begin thinking of attending and for clubs to consider the possibility of at least helping to send a representative to the convention. Every club official should attend one Biennial in her lifetime. If she can by hook or crook scrape the money together to do so. Under no other conditions can one rub elbows with so many women from all over the country, and the doing so is a liberal education in itself.

Still another event of more than passing interest will be the New England Conference in September. It is Massachusetts' turn to be hostess, and as a variation from the two recent ones among the mountains of New Hampshire in 1920 and of Vermont in 1921, that of 1922 will be by the sea at Swampscott on the 12th, 13th, and 14th of September, the New Ocean House being the headquarters.

Local Announcements

Saturday afternoon, December 17, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club meets with Mrs. W. M. Mick of Parker street. Friendships among Shakespeare's Men will be considered under the leadership of Mrs. Pratt.

The Christian Era Study Club will meet on Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. H. Kattelle of Grove street, Auburndale.

Next Monday afternoon the Waban Woman's Club will hold a meeting at the Neighborhood Club house. Following a short business session, Dr. John C. Bowker will give an illustrated lecture on "Many Encounters, a Study in Humanities." Miss Phyllis Baron Sergius A. Korff, who will be the speaker at the Guest Night of the Newton Community Club on January 13th, was one of the most popular of the "faculty" at the Institute of Politics at Williams College last August. He has spoken at many of the colleges of the country during the past few months, and everywhere he goes, he is pronounced one of the best lecturers they have ever had. Club members have until January 5th to secure their guest tickets. After that date they will be placed upon public sale. The Program committee feels that it has been particularly fortunate in being able to secure so eminent a man.

Local Happenings
At the meeting of the Newton Community Club on Thursday of last week a resolution urging the limitation of armaments as a means for preserving the peace of the world was passed, and it was voted that copies be sent to all the different delegations now in Washington. A resolution asking Congress, that an appropriation to purchase further land in the White Mountains in forest reserve be included in the budget, was also passed. Miss Harriet Broad reported the progress on the Young Women's Christian Association for Newton and made an appeal for interest in and support of the project. A group of songs by Mrs. Wallace Wales, a member of the club, was much enjoyed, as was shown by the enthusiastic reception given her. As the speaker of the afternoon Dr. McCreor Jenkins, in his lecture on "Literature with a Large L", arranged with keen sarcasm and subtle humor those who worship at the shrine of "Literature." Most of us on the whole read the books which people tell us to read, but the true mission of literature is to inspire, to please and to help. The really good books are those which help interpret human experience to the reader and give pleasure. Colton will play piano solos. Tea will be served after the program.

The Dramatics committee, Miss Madeleine Cobb, chairman, is arranging a Yule-Tide Gathering for the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on Monday evening, December 19.

The Christmas Party, which will be given by the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday, December 20, the committee in charge is desirous of having understood, is for about fifty children who would otherwise have little or none of the season's joy. At a later date the club is planning a party for the children of members. On Tuesday it is hoped that many of the members will be on hand to enjoy with their little guests the feast of good things in store. Members may bring adult guests under the usual conditions.

Guest Day of the Auburndale Woman's Club will be on January 3rd, at the Methodist Parish House, instead of at the Congregational Church, as announced in the year book. The Program committee is hard at work upon the minstrel show, the entertainment for that occasion.

The Fortnightly of Newton Centre will hold its next meeting on December 21st, at the home of Mrs. A. M. Fowle. Rev. George L. Parker will speak on "Russia." Tea will be served by Mrs. C. S. Chapin.

On Thursday, December 22, the Newton Community Club will be the hostess at the tea given by the Frances Jewett Repertory Theatre Club at the club rooms in the theatre building. Those who have not secured tickets may do so from Mrs. F. J. Fawcett or Mrs. J. W. Gerrity up to the 20th.

A class in esthetic dancing under the able instruction of Miss Kerivan, a pupil of a member of the Russian ballet, is being arranged by the committee on Classes of the Newton Community Club. This class work is conducive to grace and poise, and muscular development. If there are sufficient enrolments, the class will start the second week in January. Those desiring to join will communicate with Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson, 21 Marlboro street, Newton.

science, it is an art. The books which will last are those having a philosophical background. They contain something we do not read, but feel, and are applicable to any time or place. "Alice" has pleased through all these years, because she is the personification of the child mind. In enumerating books to be avoided, he cited those intended for our intellectual development. It is too late, he said, we are too old for them to do us any good. Avoid the book with a mission, avoid the solemn book and also the glad book. Do not consciously direct the children's reading, but have good books where they can get them and they will not read the poor ones.

Hon. Frank G. Allen, President of the Massachusetts Senate, addressed the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, December 9th, and his subject, "State Legislation" proved of deepest interest. He traced the course of a bill through the Legislature, and explained all the steps necessary to make it a law. He also reviewed the history of the State Legislature from the formation of the Great and General Court in 1629 up to the present time. Important measures passed by the Legislature last year were spoken of, and Mr. Allen stated that Massachusetts has always led in educational and humanitarian legislation.

Mayor Childs was a guest of the Club and spoke briefly on the duties and privileges of citizenship, and urged women to study Federal legislation as well as local and state affairs.

Violin solos were rendered by Miss Irene Forte, and the Hospitality committee served tea.

The program for the afternoon was arranged by Mrs. Frederick A. Cole, chairman of Legislative and Civics Committee.
The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club met on Monday, December 12th, with Mrs. Harry S. Wells, 28 Parsons street. "Rome" was the subject for study, and Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald gave an excellent description of the city, and the history of the Forum and of the Colosseum. Mrs. C. E. Quinn traced briefly the early history of Rome, the "Renaissance," and described St. Peter's and the Vatican, with special reference to some of its famous art treasures. The Riviera was the subject of an interesting paper by Mrs. Ellen Reed. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Guy C. Holbrook.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS' DEPARTMENT NOTES

On Sunday afternoon in the "Y" Hall a very large group of men and boys turned out to hear George Owen, Harvard's star athlete, speak on "Clean Living, Speech, Thoughts, and Sports." The boys' department gave a wonderful reception when he appeared on the platform. After being introduced by Mayor Childs, George, in starting, said he was mighty glad to speak to such a fine crowd of boys, but that he had much rather play football than speak. He touched on the season just closed, how at the start they were handicapped by the loss of five men from the 1920 team, no real promising material, but what they did have was made up of fellows that had the right kind of spirit. He said that spirit of that sort counted as much as ability, both can accomplish much by working together. He told what it meant to think of the other fellow, having the right cohesion, co-operation and team-work. He emphasized the necessity of fair play at all times, to play hard but not dirty, that there was a wide difference between hard and dirty playing. Always keep in training, in other words, "keep fit," form no bad habits which must be broken when training, as it makes training much easier, also keeps you in trim physically and mentally at all times. He told of his own personal experience, started young in the Y. M. C. A. under good supervision and leadership, got into organized play, learned clean methods, etc., which later helped him in high school, later helped him in college, always remembered early training, always in bed at a reasonable hour, fighting against forming any bad habits. During his talk he also urged the boys to be clean in mind, as actions usually followed thinking. Always be good losers as well as good winners, to follow closely the instruction and example of trained and successful leaders and success would be theirs, not only in sports but in the bigger game of life.

Mr. Charles D. Kepner, former president of the Newton Y. M. C. A., followed George with a few splendid remarks, he emphasized and brought out many of the strong points of the speaker, after which he brought the meeting to a close with a prayer.

Mr. Wm. R. Ferry was in charge of the singing, and an orchestra made up of Dr. C. C. Smith, piano, Albert Carling and Arthur Haynes, violins, Ray Van Buskirk, tenor-banjo, and Kenneth Thayer, drums, rendered selections before the meeting.

After the meeting a couple of hundred boys lined up down stairs to shake hands with George.

Basket-Ball
On Saturday afternoon, December 10, the Debating Club Basket-Ball Team in charge of Associate Boys Secretary Wilson Weidner, journeyed to Wakefield and played the Junior team of that "Y." Although the Debating Club was defeated, yet they gave a very good account of themselves. They were greatly outweighed, but managed to keep the score down. The playing of W. Macpherson and E. Dolbier featured for the losers.

COMMUNITY XMAS TREE
The Community Tree Service will be held at Stearns School on Christmas night, Dec. 25th, at 8 o'clock. Carols will be sung by a combined chorus including the Mothers' Club, Senior Girls' Club, Junior Girls' Club, Girl Scouts, and the choir in the district. Music will be furnished by trumpets and cornets. The Boy Scouts troop will patrol the section where the lighted Christmas tree will stand.

BOY SCOUTS
The annual meeting of the Norumbega Council will be held next Tuesday evening at the Newton Club.

POEM WRITTEN FOR THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE DAUGHTERS OF SARAH HULL CHAPTER D. R., HELD AT THE NEWTON CLUB ON DEC. 2ND.

Dear Sisters—Greeting!
There I cannot be
Where I your well-known faces now may see.

In spirit, on this anniversary day,
For old time's sake, one little word I'd say.

Once more would bring again from memory
The time when she, the Mother of this band,
Torn by anxieties, and hopes and fears,
Worked fearlessly to save our own loved land.

In times of tyranny, of slavery
To one whose mandates reached across the seas.
Who threatened freedom, liberty, and right
Unless our fathers bowed to his decrees.

So when for freedom, liberty, and right,
We pledged ourselves, like patriot daughters here,
We took her name, who fought so valiantly,
To save her home, and all she held most dear.

The years since then, how many?
Twenty-five!
Since we were joined to honor Sarah Hull!
And in her name have worked our land to free.

With hearts like HERS, of fears and tumult full,
When two have vowed for good or ill to live Together in the bonds of wedded life,
The century's quarter marks for them a day.

With love, and happiness and gladness, rife,
For them, the friends, who love them to them bring
In generous hands—a silver offering!
So we to Sarah Hull, if we are true
To what we pledged this Chapter to proclaim

Bring her with liberal hands and grateful hearts
An offering of silver in her name.
How much we owe those dauntless souls, who kept
The hearth fires blazing, while their husbands fought!

Nor counted labor, cold or penury,
If by their sacrifice they furnished aught!
Can we do less than pledge ourselves to one
Who found no toll too hard, no task too dull.

To be in deeds, and not alone in name,
Proud daughters of our Mother, Sarah Hull.

MARIA D. WISWELL.

FINE CONCERT

The First Church Orchestra gave a commendable concert Saturday, at Bray Hall for the benefit of the Vesper Service Fund. Mr. D. Ralph Maclean conducted. Mrs. Laura C. Littlefield assisted with vocal numbers.

The most interesting number was the Spanish Suite, rendered in brilliant style and rich in impressions of Spanish scenes. The overture was so well received that the orchestra responded with an encore. Most of the orchestra music was interesting and full of fine shading. Mr. Maclean's interpretation was successful in bringing out the great qualities of orchestral effect.

We enjoyed particularly the incidental work of cello and oboe.

The soloist sang with great ease and charm of manner. Mrs. Littlefield is well known here, and her appearance in this concert was a great pleasure to those fortunate enough to have heard her in previous concerts.

The number she sang from Mrs. Butterfly was given with orchestral accompaniment and she sang "Parla" in response to enthusiastic applause.

The group of songs was sung to Mr. Maclean's piano accompaniment in which his musical genius was as readily recognized as in his conducting.

Of the songs, the Lullaby of Cyril Scott's was most effective. It is a pleasure to hear a simple thing so beautifully done, and we would have felt repaid for coming out if there had been nothing else on her program.

There will be other concerts during the winter by the orchestra. This is the third season of its usefulness, and there are already over 60 players enrolled.

It is a fitting commentary on the community spirit in Newton where no musicians will give their efforts without remuneration in order that we may have free concerts of a very high standard of musical excellence.

"THE WIZARD OF OZ"

Many Newton ladies are the patronesses for a special Movie Show for children which is to be given at the Exeter St. Theatre in Boston, on Saturday morning, December 31st, at 10:30, for the benefit of the Massachusetts League of Girls Clubs. This is the State organization to which the Newton Girls Club, of which Miss Louise Lovett of West Newton is a Director, belongs. The films to be shown are the "Wizard of Oz" and an "Edgar Comedy."

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB
A dinner dance was held at the club on last week Thursday. On Monday there was a progressive auction bridge in aid of the Fatherless Children of France. The hostesses were Mrs. Reginald K. Fessenden, Mrs. Walter R. Biles, Mrs. J. Bolinger, Mrs. Homer A. Burnell, Mrs. C. Howard Saunders, and Mrs. Leon J. Willen. Afternoon tea was served. There was also a dinner dance on Thursday, Dec. 15th.

—Money deposited in Auburndale Co-operative Bank goes on interest monthly. Interest is compounded four times a year. Last dividends at rate of 5½ per cent.—Advertisement.

—Members of the Methodist Church scored a great success last week with their Chautauque which ran three afternoons and evenings, the latter being given over to concerts. The general scheme of the fair was the decorating of each booth to represent a month of the year. The greatest care was given to these decorations which were of unusual character.

The January booth represented a country store, at which everything could be found from a penknife to an automobile robe. The following men had charge of this booth, Mr. E. C. Hilliard, Mr. W. F. Hadlock, and Mr. M. C. Hutchins. The February booth appropriately represented Valentine's Day, and was in charge of Mrs. Fred Sweet, Mrs. E. W. Bourne, and Mrs. E. E. Forknall. March featured aprons, and was in charge of Mrs. E. C. Hilliard, Mrs. Elmer Johnson, and Mrs. Ada Davis. The April booth was filled with articles of kitchen ware and housecleaning utensils and was in charge of Mrs. C. Hutchins, Mrs. C. H. Johnson, and Mrs. O. C. Poole. The May booth was a dream of loveliness with its delicate pink and white coloring. In charge of this were Mrs. A. L. Curtice, Mrs. A. M. Gammons, and Mrs. Fred Van Wornen. The June Table was given over to flowers, and was in charge of Mrs. W. M. Brooks, Mrs. Lyman Fletcher, and Mrs. R. M. Jones. July was represented by a patriotic booth where ice cream was sold. Those in charge were Mrs. W. P. Hay, Mrs. J. B. Gerrold, and Mrs. H. C. Lordstrom. The August table was extremely popular with its clever silhouettes. Miss Irene Poole, Miss Ruth Heutis, Miss Lois Nelson, and Miss Ruth Bond were in charge. September featured children's wear, and was in charge of Mrs. A. L. Gates, Mrs. G. F. Woodward, and Mrs. E. A. Madey. October was gorgeous in its display of Chinese things, many of which were brought from China. Lanterns, a Chinese gong, incense, etc., all contributed to the atmosphere of mystery and charm. Mrs. Rose Gardner, Mrs. Lillian Larkin, and Mrs. A. G. Small were in charge. November was given over to seasonable articles and fancy work, and was in charge of Mrs. George Pates, Mrs. C. M. Robbins, and Mrs. E. A. Braithwaite. December represented the Christmas tide with appropriate decorations. Here were displayed all manner of toys, and Christmas gifts. Mrs. F. C. Jameson, Mrs. Robert King, and Miss Mary Cleveland were in charge. There was also a calendar table presided over by Miss Gertrude Bourne, Miss Olive Bourne, and Miss Marjorie Miller. Too much praise cannot be given also to the following who had charge of the selling of the concert tickets, Mr. Ralph Wales, Mrs. Will Jarvis, Miss Pearl Hilliard, and Miss Lillian Gerrold. The attendance at this evening concert was most gratifying. The executive committee in charge of the entire chautauque were Rev. Earle E. Harper, Miss Mabel T. Eager, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mr. H. S. Hardy, and Mr. Frank Ackerman.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Joseph Melia of 16 Winchester street, Newton Highlands, a prominent plumber of this city, was believed to have been instantly killed late Sunday night or early Monday morning when a machine in which he was riding skidded on the highway near 56 College road, Chestnut Hill section, turned turtle and pinned him underneath.

About 6 o'clock Monday morning as Officer Chadwick was going along the road, he discovered the machine, which had turned turtle near the side of the road. On making a careful examination, he found Melia's body pinned underneath it, near the wheel.

After some difficulty he was able to extricate the body, and the officer then went to the home of Dr. McAvoy at 56 College road, who pronounced the man dead.

As the road was slippery that night and morning, as a result of the frost, the police believe that the car first skidded and then overturned, pinning Melia underneath before he had any chance to jump. The section in which the car overturned is very dark and lonely.

Joseph Melia was 29 years old, single, and son of Mrs. Catherine Melia of Newton Highlands, with whom he made his home.

He is survived by two sisters, Annie and Alice Melia, and five brothers, Edward, John, James, Lewis and William. He was a member of the Newton Lodge of Elks and Royal Arcanum. He was employed by G. Wilbur Thompson, a plumber of Newton Centre.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Winchester street on Tuesday evening at which the Elks' impressive burial ritual was carried out under the direction of Exalted Ruler George P. Flood. About 50 members of Newton lodge were present.

There was a requiem mass at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes church, Newton Upper Falls, on Wednesday morning and the interment was in Needham.

DID YOU VISIT US?

How a Blind Woman's Friendly Call Left With Us a New Vision and Understanding

One of the most interesting of the many interesting incidents of our recent Telephone Week was the visit of an aged blind woman to one of our central offices.

"My telephone means so much to me!" she said. "The world would certainly be smaller for me without it; yes and much less bright and cheerful. So I thought I'd accept your invitation to call, in order to tell you that. Of course I can't see how you make all these connections, but I'd like to feel the switch-board and see if I could understand the process."

This and other incidents of Telephone Week gave us telephone people a new vision of our job, and a new conception of what telephone service means to those we serve. We appreciate more keenly than ever that the world would be much smaller for almost everybody but for the service of which we are a part.

And, being human, we desire to do what we can to make the world bigger and happier by giving the best possible service.

The good-will and understanding resulting from these visits make us wish that our patrons would feel that they are welcome to call on us during any week of the year.

We plan no special preparation and desire no formal notification. A call to the Chief Operator or Manager will be sufficient. That will enable us to fix a time when service demands will be least pressing and when our Service Committees can best arrange to show you around.

Don't feel that this is a bid for sympathy or praise. If you are having service troubles, come and tell us about them and see if in a spirit of friendly co-operation we cannot find a way to correct them.

You will be welcome at any central office in the Boston Division. Please plan to call in the afternoon, if possible.

NEW PARKWAY OPPOSED

Aldermen Hold Interesting Meeting, Mr. McAuslan's Status as Alderman Questioned

The regular meeting of the aldermen on Monday night was enlivened by a public hearing on the proposed parkway from the junction of Centre and Williams streets to the corner of Washington and Centre streets, through a further extension to the corner of Church and Centre streets. The seats for spectators were crowded and many persons stood during the hearing which lasted nearly an hour.

All of the aldermen were present and in opening the hearing President Harriman explained that the city was under a moral obligation to the Metropolitan District Commission to provide an outlet for the Charles river boulevard which now terminates at Maple and Jefferson streets. The proposed parkway had been deemed the most feasible plan but the board wanted all the criticism possible and as many suggestions for alternative routes as could be made.

Mr. Alford E. Alvord, a member of the Planning Board stated that that board had given careful consideration to this matter but had limited its study to matters wholly within Newton territory. The present plan is far better than anything the Planning Board has considered. It takes less valuable property, it increases the area for possible business extensions, it takes care of the traffic from Centre street and provides a larger outlet from the railroad station. It will also relieve Commonwealth avenue to some extent.

Of the 16 houses affected, only 3 are modern houses and the rest are 3 or more years old. The entire area of estates touched by the proposed street is 374,500 feet taxed with buildings for $440,000. Of this 97,000 feet would be taken for the street, taxed with buildings for $110,142. On this basis $165,000 would be a fair estimate of land damages. With the engineer's estimate of $90,000 for construction this would entail a total cost of $255,000.

In return to the city, the present tax valuation of property abutting on the new street of $330,758 ought to double in the next ten years. This would yield $80,000 in taxes at $25 per $1000. Another $80,000 ought to be had from improvements in turning present back land into front land on the new street. It is inevitable that the area between the new street and Nonantum square would become business or mercantile property. This means much higher valuations. Some of this land is now assessed for 22 cents a foot while land 400 feet away is assessed from $1 to $2.50 per foot.

The objection of business interests in Nonantum square does not have much weight. The more stores the more business. In addition the new street ought to stimulate more apartment houses with from 3 to 6 families more than in single houses and a proportionate increase in customers for local stores. The plan is feasible, reasonable and more economical than any other and offers a much needed relief both for the present and future of the city.

Mr. Vernon B. Swett of the Planning board read a commendatory letter from their consulting engineer, Mr. A. A. Shurtliff, on the proposed plan. Mr. Arthur W. Blakemore spoke in favor of the plan for the Newton Improvement Association of which he is president. He thought the only way to take the city had made in the past was in failing to look ahead. He told of avoiding the congestion in Nonantum square and believed the stores there actually lost trade in consequence.

The opposition was opened by President John T. Burns of the Chamber of Commerce who said that a meeting of storekeepers in Nonantum square representing a million and a half property, had been held, and they had decided that the time was not ripe for this project. Wait and see what the opening of North Beacon street would do to traffic thru the square.

Mr. James C. French said there were 135 businesses in the square and any by pass street plan would injure their business. Nonantum square he said was not congested and until the travel increases there was no excuse for this enormous expense and it would cost no more three years from now. He recalled that the Taylor buildings had been poor property for many years but were now the most valuable in the city. The road from Washington street to Church street was not worth building.

Mr. H. F. Hunter for Immanuel Baptist Church strongly objected to the street so near their church on account of the noise and inconvenience of automobiles and traffic.

Mr. Arthur J. Terroti said there was no congestion in Nonantum square and he could drive his automobile thru it with his eyes shut. The city should do all it could to bring people into the square and not drive them away.

Rev. N. A. Merritt, Jr., pastor of Immanuel Church, said the church had located where it was in good faith and to interfere with its services would entail great damage. The church could not be moved and no one will go to church if they cannot hear. This means a lack of growth for the church. In addition to the objection of the church Mr. Merritt also did not think the plan feasible as a citizen. He got a round of applause when, in response to a question from Alderman Blakemore, he said "About as much as the ordinary alderman."

Mr. C. V. Moore also opposed the plan as a member of Immanuel church and naively suggested that the street be carried further south and come out by the "Methodist church."

Mr. Fred H. Tucker objected to the Church street plan but favored the by pass around Nonantum square.

Mr. Koen of the Opera House and Charles Fewkes of Maple street also objected.

Mr. Davis objected to the little corner lots which would be left in the taking and suggested taking all of the buildings between Nonantum square and the railroad, making a parking space for the M. & E. cars along the railroad tracks. He stated that the car tracks were now in the most valuable part of the square.

Mr. Taylor of Worcester said he had $500,000 in property in Nonantum square and was opposed to the expensive involved. He also stated that there was no congestion in the square.

Mr. Edward H. Powers said there was no congestion in the square and schools were needed first.

Mr. F. W. Webber objected to the taking of his land for the street, but said Nonantum square was congested and there should be some measure of relief.

Mr. G. W. Macgregor thought a better plan was possible and wanted to get away from crossings which he said were increased by curved streets.

Hearings were held on Edison poles on Park street, Florence street, Lowell avenue, and on a garage for the Peabody Home on Brookline street, and these petitions were subsequently granted.

Hearings were also held on petitions for three-car garages by J. Sherman Irving, Pearl street and Guiseppe Mignano, Webster street, and these petitions were subsequently refused.

There was also a hearing on Edison pole on Newell road.

Mayor Childs sent in recommendations for $94 for tuition of Newton pupils outside of city, $164.43 for laborers' pensions, that election officers receive $10 and $12 per day, $2764 for laborers' pensions, $300 to obtain evidence of illegal sales of liquor, $5000 for work on fire alarm system due to storm and $6000 more for Snow and Ice work, all of which were granted.

He also sent in a request of the Planning Board for more money and for $13,900 additional for the Street Dept.

His veto of the permit granted the Jenney Mfg. Co. for a gasoline filling station corner Beacon and Walnut streets was considered without debate and was passed over the veto by a vote of 15 to 6.

Aldermen Cook, Heathcote, Hickey, Madden, Ross and Young voting to sustain the veto. Alderman Heathcote entered an objection to the vote cast by Alderman McAuslan on the ground that he was not a legal member of the board, having moved to Brookline.

President Harriman immediately ruled that Alderman McAuslan was only temporarily absent from the city and his standing as an alderman not affected. Alderman Heathcote doubted the right of the president to decide the matter but his appeal to the board was lost by a voice vote.

Later in the session Alderman Heathcote again called up this matter and asked for an opinion of the city solicitor, who completely endorsed the position of the President.

Petitions of Cecelia F. Williams for an Intelligence office at 626 Commonwealth avenue, of Albert Anderson for a taxi license, of F. A. Lundberg for an auctioneer license, of the Edison Electric Co. for attachments on Chestnut street, of Dr. F. H. Henchey, Harvard street, E. DiFazio, Auburndale avenue, W. J. Danaldo, Pine Grove avenue, C. W. Johnson, Waban Hill road, H. A. Johnson, Trinity terrace Seward W. Jones, Columbus street and E. B. Bowen, Summer street for private garages and of A. W. Moore for a victualer license at 551 Commonwealth avenue were granted.

Petitions were received for a sewer in Neholuden road, for Soldiers relief for Avak Garabedian.

A petition of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for better lighting in the schools was first referred to the next city government and later when the board had voted $1000 for this work, was referred to the School Committee.

Petitions for sewers in Lothrop street and Ward street were referred to the next city government.

Soldiers' Relief was voted to James L. Treddin.

The board refused to appropriate $217 for a new automobile for the Police Dept.

Many additional appropriations were approved, the most important being $5000 for fire alarm repairs, $6000 more for street work due to ice and $3000 for work on trees.

The income of the Kenrick fund for 1921 amounting to $197.66 was ordered paid.

Ordinances regulating the location of billboards and prohibiting them on Commonwealth avenue, Washington and Beacon streets were passed without objection.

Leave to withdraw was voted on the proposed sewer in Fair Oaks avenue, and in petition of J. H. Grace for private garage.

A hearing was assigned on the change of grade of Centre street at Jefferson street.

The following persons were appointed by the mayor and confirmed by additional election officers for the coming election.

Ward 1, Precinct 2, William D. Ward, Chas. A. Mahoney.

Ward 2, Precinct 1, C. A. Wentworth, Chas. J. McCarthy.

Ward 2, Precinct 2, Wm. H. Zoller, Thos. J. Dracoll.

FALL CONCERT

The Newton Choral Society will hold its Fall Concert on Tuesday, Dec. 20, at 8 P. M., at the Central Church, Newtonville. The Chorus has this year 150 singers and, as usual, under the competent conductorship of William Lester Bates. As in past seasons, Miss West will be the accompanist.

With the exception of one song, "Annie Laurie," which is repeated by request from last Fall's program, a new group of songs will be presented, among them being "Kremer Spicker's 'Hymn to the Madonna,' Gounod's 'Chorus of Bacchantes,' Fanning's 'Daydreams,' and Ward Stephen's 'Christ in Flanders.'"

HOW TO SAVE TREES

STREET DEPARTMENT
ATTENTION

To the property owners or those having charge of trees inside the boundary lines of the City of Newton the Street Department through its Street Commissioner George E. Stuart respectfully suggests that everybody in the City of Newton having trees take notice of the following instructions which have been recently issued by William A. L. Bazeley, Commissioner of Conservation and State Forester, and prepared by H. O. Cook, Chief Forester of the State of Massachusetts.

For further information call Mr. Charles Benyon, Division Superintendent of the Forestry Division at City Hall, West Newton 70.

HOW TO HEAL WOUNDS ON ICE-DAMAGED TREES

STATE FORESTER ISSUES GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS—MOST TREES CAN BE SAVED—WORK NEED NOT BE DONE UNTIL SUMMER.

William A. L. Bazeley, Commissioner of Conservation and State Forester, has made public a statement regarding the proper treatment of trees damaged by the ice storm early last week. It was prepared by H. O. Cook, chief forester, and reads as follows:

"The recent ice storm and the great damage that it caused to shade and forest trees has given rise to so many questions in regard to the proper treatment of them that this department has decided to publish this leaflet for the benefit of those whose trees have suffered.

"It is difficult to give adequate advice in a publication of this sort, for each individual tree needs its own prescription. A doctor may give general rules for health, but when a patient is sick, he needs to see the physician in order to prescribe for him. All that we can do, therefore, is to give the general rules.

"In the first place, it may be stated as a general truth that no matter how badly the trees may have been mutilated they are still alive, and their root systems and trunks are unimpaired unless by chance, the tree was uprooted or broken off at the base. The question of what to do is largely a matter of condition and age of the tree. If it was very severely mutilated, or if it was an old and decrepit tree, the best advice may be to remove it entirely.

"Nature will not restore the tree to its original form and vigor, although she will do much to cover up the scars and broken off ends. Young trees will recuperate to a greater extent than old ones, and are deserving of greater attention. If one will look at the trees on Boston Common, he will note that for various reasons the old ones have been pruned and headed back, so that in their winter condition they look like helpless paralytics, but in the summer time, with foliage on, they are fairly respectable ones. They illustrate what many of the ice-damaged trees will look like and certainly are superior to no trees at all. Aside from the deformity of the trees caused by the breaking of numerous large limbs, the chief injury will come from the decay that starts in at the wounds and spreads back into the remaining part of the branch or main trunk.

"In ten years time this decayed cavity may be so large as to result in a second break in the limb. The thing to do to prevent such decay is to prune off the jagged stubs and leave a smooth surface which will not hold moisture.

"Three main classes of injuries have resulted from the work of the ice-storm.

"First, branches broken off short midway of their length, leaving a long stub with a ragged end. Where such stubs are not more than ten feet long they had best be cut back to the main trunk. In pruning a branch at the trunk, one must take care to make an undercut first, before sawing downward from above, so that when the branch falls, it will not make a long tear on the trunk of the tree. Very few very heavy stubs must be taken down in two or more pieces.

"Where such broken stubs are more than ten feet long, they should be trimmed back to some point which can be reached, leaving as long a branch as possible. One of the chief difficulties is to be encountered on the elms where branches have been broken in the tops, leaving stubs quite out of reach.

"We should say that in such cases it will be better to leave them not trimmed at all rather than to cut them far back at some accessible point and leave a beheaded tree very unsightly to the eye.

"The second class of injuries results from those branches which have broken off close to the trunk, leaving a long torn wound in the bark. This wound must be smoothed up with a mallet and chisel, and ragged and loose edges of the bark trimmed off. The object in every case is to prevent a surface in which moisture and dirt will collect and to bring the wound back to the uninjured bark and wood, so that the healing tissue or callous will commence to grow over it unimpeded. This may mean the actual enlargement of the wounded surface.

"The third class of injuries is those due to the splitting of large branches of portions of the trunk, the split portions being still attached to the trunk and capable of continued growth if put back into place. The proper treatment depends on circumstances. If the split limb is only a branch it had better be severed entirely and the wound dressed. If, however, it is an important portion of the tree, it can be forced back into place and held by bolts and washers. Very often it may need additional support by bolts and chains attached above. In any case, it is well to relieve some of the weight and strain by pruning off minor branches on the split limb. This sort of work is, of course, expensive, and should only be attempted on valuable trees. In no case, should bands be passed around the tree.

"It is well to give all wounds that are more than six inches in diameter

AIM FOR PROSPERITY ON FARM AND MORE EFFICIENCY IN HOME

Community Canning Kitchens Take Much Hot Work Out of the Home.

Little attention has been given in the past to farm-home problems, although the farm woman's work has as great economic importance and calls for as high a degree of skill and as wide a range of information and judgment as does the work of the farmer whose equipment and methods of farming have been the subject of many studies made by our agricultural institutions.

The data collected in a recent survey made by the United States department of agriculture and state agricultural colleges of 10,000 farm homes in 33 northern and western states are especially valuable for this reason and serve a dual purpose: First, with the introduction and development of the farm bureau idea, now nation-wide in its influence, promoting as it does a self-determined program of activities among the people for the economic and educational advancement of rural life, the farmer and his wife are destined to analyze their home problems more and more and to make use of the farm bureau organization and the extension service for the solving of those problems.

The farm is subsidiary to the home as is the home to the farm. Here men, women and children form a working unit, with common interests and aims, and the farm bureau dealing with this family unit and with community groups views home work not as isolated and detached from the farm but as one phase of the problems of the farmstead. Men and boys work primarily with production in the business of farming, and women and girls with utilization and conservation in the business of housekeeping; but all come together in a common interest and for a common goal—home-making. Farming and housekeeping are not ends in themselves, but necessary means to the realization of this goal.

Makes Farm Life Better.

Prosperity on the farm and efficiency in the house, in their last analysis, are only valuable as they make people better, wiser, and happier by creating and multiplying opportunities for richer and more satisfying home and community life. Hence all extension forces, the county agricultural agents, club agents, home demonstration agents, and specialists are working in their respective fields with this larger aim and purpose. This brings about constant interchange of effort and service. For example, the farm woman's interests and activities go beyond the threshold of her house; when necessary, into such work as poultry raising, beekeeping, and marketing of home products. In this she frequently has the help not only of the men folk at home but of the county agricultural agent, the club agent, and specialists from the college. She may also call upon these for advice and assistance in looking after the water supply and, other phases of home improvement. Women extension workers also frequently go out of their special field of home economics work to give advice and assistance, the true spirit of the Smith-Lever Act, which, drawn in broad language, refers equally to the service of the farm and home and includes all phases of work that affect wholesome farm life.

Women everywhere are welcoming the services of the home demonstration agent much as farmers welcome the agricultural county agent. This trained home economics worker, employed on federal, state and local funds, and devoting all her time to the advancement of home efficiency, is studying with home-makers the needs of individual homes and communities and is thus able, by linking her technical skill with the practical knowledge and experience of the housewives, to co-operate in the accomplishment of large results by providing a channel through which the state agricultural college and the department of agriculture can deal directly with rural home-makers.

Increased moral and financial support of local communities during the present fiscal year, 1919-20, for the nearly 300 agents now employed has shown the belief of the people of the north and west in home demonstration work, and has placed it on a promising basis which looks toward its establishment eventually in every agricultural county in the north and west.

A few instances are here given to show the methods used and results secured through the partnership of the housewife, the home demonstration specialist in solving some of the live problems pointed out in this survey.

One Modernized Farm Home.

A large family lived in a small house on a prosperous farm; little thought had been given to the expenditure of any part of the farm income for home convenience. One day the mother in this home mentioned to the home-demonstration agent that it was difficult to keep the kitchen in order when all members of the family used it as a place to "wash up." The agent suggested the possibility of a washroom with water piped into it. The farmer and his wife became interested. A carpenter was called in to make plans, and before he had finished his work a screened porch was added. The washroom later developed into a bathroom complete with modern fixtures. A few more timely remarks brought forth a new water front on the range and hot-water tank and sink in the kitchen. About this time there was an item in the farm-bureau column of the local paper regarding convenient kitchen arrangement. Following its suggestions, this home maker put blocks under her kitchen table to save bending when at work and moved the cupboard nearer the stove to lessen steps. Later a power washing machine was bought and a washhouse built. The milk separator was moved out of the kitchen into the washhouse. This home maker was so delighted with her transformed workshop that she called in the neighbors to see it, and as a result five more women rearranged their kitchens. Two put water in the house and three are now planning to purchase power washers.

MUTTON AND SUMMER SQUASH

Recipe Recommended by Home Economics Kitchen of Department of Agriculture.

Many people like a dish of mutton and summer squash in season. This recipe is recommended by the home economics kitchen of the United States department of agriculture:

2 pounds mutton 4 medium-sized potatoes from the shoulder 1/2 teaspoon powder or breast 1/4 teaspoon powder 1 onion 1/4 teaspoon powder 1 medium green pepper 1/4 teaspoon powder 1 sweet green pepper 1/4 teaspoon powder 1 stalk celery 1/4 teaspoon powder

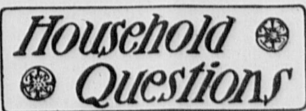

Cut the meat into small cubes and place in a deep baking dish. Cook in a hot oven until well browned. Add the onion cut into cubes, the summer squash sliced, sweet peppers and celery cut into small pieces, and the other seasonings. Sufficient flavor of garlic will be obtained by rubbing the dish with a clove of garlic or by adding a very thin slice from one of the cloves. Cover the dish and allow the vegetables to cook for an hour with the meat, without the addition of water. Then add the potatoes, cut into slices. Cover the dish again and cook for another hour.

DELICIOUS SWEET CURDS PIE

Just as Good as It Was When Grandmother Served It for Company —Why Is Favorite.

One of the delicacies that our grandmothers served when company came was sweet curds pie. It is just as good as it ever was, though served less often than in the olden days. The curd is obtained by adding rennet to warm milk and allowing the milk to stand until it hardens. The curd is then broken up and strained. To the curd from 1 quart of milk add 1 level tablespoonful of butter, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, the yolks of 2 eggs, a few Zante currants or chopped raisins, and a little nutmeg.

Why also was much used in earlier times, and is still a favorite beverage with many people. It is especially in diets for invalids.

Soap should never be applied directly to paint.

Lemon extract can be made at home from fresh lemon peel.

A hotter oven is required for layer cakes than for loaf cakes.

Men's worn shirts can be converted into excellent shirt waists.

The gas oven should stand open a few minutes after being used.

Adjust sink and work table to the height most comfortable for the person who uses them.

Cocoa is very much improved in flavor if a pinch of salt is added in the making of it.

Auburndale

—There was a dance at Norumbega Hall last Saturday night.

—Miss Jeannie Martin is reported seriously ill with pneumonia.

—Lasell Seminary closed this Thursday for its Christmas holiday vacation.

—Mrs. Winthrop A. Stiles of Brae Burn road entertained at luncheon last week Thursday.

—New members will be received into the fellowship of the Congregational Church on Jan. 1st.

—Rev. Earl E. Harper, pastor of the Methodist Church, preached in the Congregational Church last Sunday in exchange with Dr. Drew.

—Mrs. Wilbur D. Gilpatrick, Mrs. Herbert B. Morse, Mrs. Wickliffe J. Spaulding, and Mrs. Charles B. Floyd are giving a dance at the Brae Burn Club tomorrow night.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Davis and little daughter of Newlands road have returned from Bradford, England, where Mr. Davis has been in the interests of the American Woolen Co. for the past two years.

—The receipts of the recent bazaar held at the Congregational Church amounted to $1,067, and the expenses to about $155. The officers are grateful to all who helped to make it such a success.

—The meeting of the teachers of the Congregational Church postponed from last week will be held this evening. The speaker will be Rev. E. Morris Fergusson and his subject, "Impression and Expression in the Church School."

—A Dodge automobile owned and operated by David Rosen of Roxbury, turned turtle Sunday on Commonwealth avenue near Washington street. The accident was caused by effort to avoid running into a traffic sign. Several of the occupants were taken to the Newton Hospital.

—The parish fair held at the Church of the Messiah last Saturday was the most successful ever held by the church. Over $500 were made in seven hours. The supper was particularly popular over 120 people were served. The grocery department was also well patronized, and the tea room was most dainty and attractive.

—On Wednesday, Dec. 14, the Auburndale Brotherhood were the guests of Lasell Seminary. Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, Managing Director of the Chinese Trade and Labor Bureau, and delegate of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce of New York to trade conventions, spoke on China and Her Relations to the U. S. A. The Lasell Glee Club sang Christmas carols.

"THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD"

"The Light of the World," a pageant written by Prof. H. Augustus Smith was presented last Sunday night at Central Church, the church being filled to its utmost capacity.

Preceding the pageant there was an organ recital by Miss Lillian West. The pageant opened with Rev. M. H. Lichter as the Voice of Prophecy announcing the coming of the Messiah.

The first scene presented the Magi, the Wise Men, and the Shepherds coming to pay homage to the Christ Child. The part of the Madonna was taken by Mrs. Lewis E. Moore. In this scene the lighting effect was particularly beautiful. The scene was in darkness save for the radiance shed from the manger, and the Star of Bethlehem overhead. The face of the mother as she bent over the child was very beautiful, and the adoring angels hovering in the background, with the Magi, Wise Men, and Shepherds kneeling in the foreground formed a picture not easily forgotten.

Scene 2 dealt with the Vision of Isaiah. Rev. M. H. Lichter taking the part of the prophet. In scene 3, the Spirit of Christianity summoned Education, and the Church to spread the light from Bethlehem throughout the world. The part of the Spirit of Christianity was taken by Mrs. Percy F. Williams, whose personality made her appeal particularly winning.

In response to this appeal, Education taken by Miss Ziegler, and the Church, taken by Mrs. Aaron Jones, and seven ambassadors came forth heralded by Carol Ackerman and Philipa Paley as trumpeters.

In the third and last scene, a vast assembly of workers came forward to consecrate themselves. Included in this were Greek maidens, Crusaders, Bible Students, Kindergarten children, Burdened Souls, Collegians, Business Men, a group representing the United States, and another representing foreign lands. These, in turn, grouped themselves about the manger and the Child, and the pageant ended with their song of consecration.

The pageant contained one hundred and fifty people was directed by Mrs. M. H. Lichter to whose careful training much of its effectiveness was due.

Throughout the entire performance, there was noticeable a beautiful spirit of reverence. The music of the pageant choir added also to the beauty and solemnity of the occasion.

MAKING CHRISTMAS THRIFTY

The savings bank book as a Christmas gift is one of the most interesting suggestions made this year to encourage thrift. It has a practical appeal which should solve the problem of what to give. Almost everybody has received presents that never could be of any use to them, but a bank account must find welcome everywhere.

The bank book in the form of a present carries suggestions that cannot fail to have results. It is a silent reminder from the giver that he expects the person receiving it to do something worthwhile in the year to come. Certainly very few Christmas presents could offer the same spur to ambition. Anyone getting a savings account in this way would find it a constant reminder that he should be putting something aside.

These accounts can be opened for $1.00 or more in any Savings Bank in Newton, and the passbooks will be turned over to the giver, so that he can put them in a stocking at home or mail them just before Christmas.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

dale Review Club was held December 13, at the home of Miss Williams on Commonwealth avenue. The chairman for the morning, Mrs. Turner, read a paper on Cuba and Porto Rico, and Mrs. Gilman one on Java and Sumatra. As very few people in these parts have ever been as far off as Borneo, the club was very fortunate to have as guest Mrs. Larkin, recently returned from that island, now living in Auburndale. She told informally but most intelligently of personal experiences there, of native costumes, etc., and illustrated her talk by most interesting souvenirs, real wild men's swords, ornaments, and embroideries. It was a most instructive and enjoyable morning for all present.

At a guest meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on Wednesday, Dec. 14, the program was given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gideon, and Mrs. Weaver, cellist, on the subject "Tendencies of American Music". Mr. Gideon talked informally, and at the beginning requested that questions be asked during the talk instead of at the end. He spoke of the importance to the artist of the mental attitude of an audience.

Until recently, American composers have been learning from Europe, but now as musical an atmosphere and as genuine a musical education can be obtained in Boston and New York, as in London, Paris or Berlin. It is now time for America to develop her own musical resources. He stated that most of us get the bulk of our musical experience by listening to songs, and that there are only a few great songs, though many good ones. He mentioned Mrs. Beach's setting of "The Year at the Spring" as beautiful and full of vitality.

In discussing musical comedy and light opera, Mr. Gideon said that the Gilbert and Sullivan operas in England were true to the character of the English folk, and therefore excellent of their kind. This variety of music has been developed most hopelessly in America, on its own original lines by such composers as Victor Herbert, Julian Edwards, Reginald de Koven, Jerome Curran, George M. Cohan. The musical comedy in "spots" furnishes a link between unconscious folk music and real musical art.

From musical comedy, grand opera is a logical step, and there have been many attempts by American composers such as John Knowles Paine, Parker, and De Koven. A good libretto is essential to a successful opera, and no American has been able to write one that compares with the Wagner librettos or the libretto of Charpentier's "Louise". Both these composers wrote their own.

Mr. Gideon spoke of the tragedy of Charles Griffes, the young composer, whose brain was teeming with music, but who was obliged to spend his time teaching in a boys' school, and died of overwork and under nourishment with only a few of his possibilities realized.

However, the greatest singers of the world are found now in America—such as Geraldine Farrar, Louise Homer, Alice Neilson, Ricardo Martin and the late David Bispham. Mr. Gideon considers the pageant an essentially American and very hopeful expression of the artistic spirit in this country. He spoke of the beauty of the pageant recently given in Plymouth.

At the close of Mr. Gideon's talk, to which there was much response in the form of question and comment during its progress as he had requested Mrs. Gideon sang three songs—a negro spiritual called "Deep River", a song by Lamont adapted from old Irish folk-lore, and a song by John Denmore—"A Baby's Epitaph", the words by Swinburne. Mrs. Weaver then gave two cello selections—"Elegy" by Henry Hadley, and a minuet by David Hochstetler, a young composer who lost his life in the war. This brought to a close a most enjoyable occasion.

MISS RIDDLE'S RECEPTION

More than three hundred people attended the reception given to Miss Mary M. Riddle, for the past seven years superintendent of the Newton Hospital, on Wednesday evening.

Miss Riddle who is retiring at the end of the month was assisted in receiving by the trustees of the hospital, of which Mr. William C. Bray is the president.

The rooms at the Hospital where the reception was held were artistically decorated in Christmas greens, bells, etc. Handley's orchestra furnished music. Mr. Bernard Early was chairman of the committee in charge of the reception.

Those in charge of the refreshments were Mrs. W. J. Spaulding of Auburndale, Mrs. W. H. Gould of Waban, and Miss Caroline Lovett of West Newton. The following poured: Mrs. E. W. Converse, Mrs. J. R. Carter, Mrs. Andrew Clark, Mrs. H. B. Day, Mrs. C. A. Flanders, Mrs. Charles E. Hatfield, Mrs. F. R. Hayward, Mr. H. S. Kimball, Mrs. John Lodge, Mrs. H. L. Marcy, Mrs. E. H. Mason, Mrs. E. P. Saltonstall, Mrs. G. S. Smith, Mrs. George H. Talbot, Mrs. Allison Burr.

During the evening Miss Riddle was presented with a fitted desk and chair as a gift from the trustees.

Miss Riddle will be replaced by Miss Bertha W. Allen, a graduate of the Newton Training School, and for several years first assistant there. For the past five years Miss Allen has been superintendent of the Lowell General Hospital.

"Mush" may do them for a diet before marriage, but they'll both want square meals afterward.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that they have sold the Mitchell Estate located at 50 Waban Hill road in Chestnut Hill. This property consists of a modern 12-room residence of the Italian Villa type. With the house, there is a two car garage and a large lot of three-quarters of an acre of land which is exceedingly well developed with sunken garden and beautiful shrubbery. The property cost Mr. Mitchell in the neighborhood of $70,000 a few years ago, although the purchase price and assessment are considerably lower. Mr. Joseph Conway of the Horace Partridge Company is the purchaser and will occupy very shortly.

Burns Agency also report having sold for Mrs. Mary A. Pierce her single family, colonial home located at 40 Old Colony road in the Chestnut Hill section of Newton Centre. This house is completely modern and contains 10 rooms with 3 baths, and together with a 2 car garage and 9500 feet of land, is valued at $26,000. Thomas E. Greaney is the purchaser and will occupy at once. The purchaser was represented by Norton & Norton.

Burns & Sons also report having sold for C. B. Morrill a lot of land on Ward street, Newton Centre, containing 5200 square feet. The value of the lot is $1500. G. L. Davidson, the purchaser, has already commenced the erection of a modern, colonial home.

ALDERMEN MEET

Last Meeting of 1921 Board is Full of Interest. Alderman Nichols Replies to Campaign Statements

The last meeting of the board of aldermen of 1921 on Monday evening was full of interest, and every member except Aldermen Blake and Melcher being present.

Hearings were held on Edison poles on Ripley and Pembroke streets and on changing the grade of Centre street at Jefferson street and later orders for these matters were adopted.

One of the unusual things of the session was the drawing of 16 jurors for the criminal session, 3 jurors for the civil session and 1 grand juror. Those drawn included Wallace Wales, Mt. Ida street, Joseph F. Boughan, Watertown street, Ernest C. Fisher, Watertown street, Walter A. Barrows, Waldorf road, Alpheus E. Trowbridge, Parsons street, Alex Smith, Bowen street, Fred M. Blanchard, Mt. Vernon street, Kenneth Hastings, Cabot street, Arthur E. Mason, Berkeley street, W. Lloyd Marshall, Minot place, Wm. M. Riley, Beethoven avenue, Walter F. Wyeth, Chestnut terrace, Harry L. Jones, Gray Cliff road, Harry H. Powers, Billings park, Edwin T. Fearing, Park street, Wm. W. Harrington, Elm street for the criminal session, Thomas F. Veno, Dalby street, Wm. J. Keefe, Chapel street and Guy B. Keith, Institution avenue, for the civil session and Frederick C. Rising, Parker street as a grand juror.

Mayor Childs recommendations for were approved including an item for better lighting Bulloughs pond for skating, $1800 additional for damages to Membrino estate on account of new school, $4300 for land damages on rounding corners of Walnut and Beacon streets and $2675 for land damages for widening of Beacon street between Irvington and Washington streets. The street commissioner was given $6000 more for repairing damage done by the recent ice storm.

A claim for hospital bills for Police officer R. B. Conroy was received, and the Street Commissioner reported the completion of Old Colony, Mayflower, Priscilla, Warwick, Royce and Morton roads, Rossmore, Brook and Morton streets and Victoria circle.

Chairman Everett E. Kent of the School committee addressed the board in favor of an appropriation of $3500 for additional work in connection with the new school house now building on Walnut and Crafts street. Mr. Kent urged the construction of what he called a half room for occasional use of small groups of pupils, the installation of hot and cold water in the industrial rooms in the basement and third and most essential, the extension of the building to provide storage capacity for removable seats from the auditorium. He was cross examined at considerable length by Aldermen Whidden, Heathcote and Carter. After consideration at a recess committee meeting, only the item for hot and cold water installation was approved, although there was a minority report in favor of the storage item. Alderman Carter endeavored to have this favorably acted upon by the board but was defeated by a vote of 8 to 11.

The bill board ordinance was revised after Alderman Nichols had explained the attitude of the Highway Commission whose approval was necessary.

Petitions of T. C. Crowner for license for 2 taxis, of the Edison Co. to remove pole on Commonwealth avenue, of W. J. Tyler and J. T. Burns for auctioneer license and of Dr. Wm. Sloucum, Dudley road and Florence E. Manson, Fuller street for private garages were granted.

Other petitions were received from F. J. Lill for Soldiers' relief, A. P. White to remove building from Commonwealth avenue to Reed court, H. L. Tange for 2-car garage, Byfield road, for sewer in Ward street, and of the Brae Burn Club for building lines on Beacon, Short and Fuller streets.

The corners of Walnut and Beacon streets were ordered rounded and Beacon street from Irvington to Washington streets was widened. Sewer assessments on the estates of L. D. Towle and Chas. E. Lord on Cabot street were abated about 25 per cent and Mr. Lord granted an extension of time for payment.

The board of health was authorized to purchase a new ambulance out of its maintenance appropriations. A resolution presented by the Finance committee relative to an accurate inventory of supplies and materials and to be made by an outside organization was presented by Alderman Nichols and adopted after his explanation. He said that the present condition tied up a large sum of money in a supply account whose value was unknown and that immediate steps would be taken to release this money to the Excess and Deficiency account where it would be available for appropriations. The conditions he said

BOY SCOUTS

The Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, held its Annual Meeting at the Newton Club, Tuesday evening, December 20. Reports of the Scout Commissioner, Scout Executive, and Treasurer were presented and approved. At the close of the meeting President Stafford with a few appropriate words presented Mr. LeRoy W. Leland, of Newtonville, who for five years has acted as Deputy Commissioner for the Court of Honor, and has just resigned, a gold watch in appreciation of his valuable services in behalf of the Boy Scouts of Norumbega Council. Mr. Leland in his reply of thanks stated that the joy he had secured from active participation in Scouting was sufficient recompense.

Mr. William B. Sharratt the Scout Executive made a very interesting and detailed report of the past year's work in Scouting. A summary of his report follows: The work and opportunity of Norumbega Council with the high ideals which it has, lies mainly in four divisions, namely, Publicity of the Boy Scout Programme and work; securing of leaders for Boy Scout Troops; Training these leaders for active work and thus enabling them to put across the Boy Scout Programme; and fourth, leading and directing the Boyhood of the Council's District into those ideas of American citizenship which will make of them law-abiding, and law-making citizens. The value of Scouting to any community, says Mr. Sharratt, is inestimable. No community can afford to remain without it and every community should study the movement in order that it may be better understood and appreciated.

In a few words Mr. Sharratt explained the work of a Scout Executive, especially of the office of Executive in its relationship to the Community. The Scout Executive is in truth the City's Secretary for Boys. He has intimate connections with approximately 600 boys of from 12 to 16 years of age. His personal contact with their leaders enables him to assist, advise, and in reality be the "big brother" to all boys in the City of Newton, the Town of Watertown, and other affiliated territories. His whole time is spent for the welfare of Boys, and hence he is able to make a special study of them and their needs.

The work of the past year is indeed encouraging and the figures themselves will explain the progress made.

As of December 20, 1920, there were registered in Norumbega Council 175 Scouts in eight troops. Since that time a rapid growth has been evident. This year Norumbega Council by increasing its territory and developing progress has 603 registered Scouts in 20 troops, an increase of 428 Scouts in one year.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Newton Chamber of Commerce held an enthusiastic and well attended meeting at the Newton Club last Friday evening, December 16, when 47 new members were admitted to membership. The special guests and speakers of the occasion were Hon. Frank H. Pope of Boston, state supervisor of loan agencies and former state auditor, and Frederick H. Hilton of Boston and Framingham, General Counsel of the Massachusetts State Chamber of Commerce and President of the Framingham Board of Trade. Steward B. E. Piper of the Newton Club served an excellent dinner at 6.30 o'clock. President John T. Burns was in the chair, presiding over the business session and introducing the speakers.

That the Newton Chamber is well on its way to become a much larger and more influential factor in the civic and business life of Newton was evident to all, the meeting being characterized by increased interest and enthusiasm throughout. Many of the new members were present, joining with the older members in making up an attentive audience for the speakers and bringing much new material to the working forces of the Chamber. Mayor Edwin O. Childs, who was to have been present, was unable to keep the engagement, while Mr. Hilton substituted on short notice for Clifton D. Jackson of Springfield, who was called west on business on the day preceding the meeting. These unavoidable incidents, however, did not materially affect the excellence or the interest of the program, Mr. Hilton proving an exceptionally acceptable substitute for the speaker previously announced.

Both speakers spoke of chamber of commerce work in a general way, while Mr. Hilton spoke of the similar conditions existing in his home city of Framingham and Newton and Mr. Pope touched vigorously upon the menace of radicalism of the present day and pointed out the duty of every chamber of commerce to stamp out Communistic ideas and stifle its propaganda in every community. Both speakers were somewhat familiar with conditions in Newton, the peculiarity of the problems confronting the local chamber, and were able to offer much in the way of suggestion and advice that should be helpful to those actively engaged in building the new Newton Chamber. Mr. Pope is an orator of more than ordinary ability and was characterized by many of those present as being one of the best speakers yet heard at a meeting of the Chamber.

The secretary expressed his appreciation of the efforts and interest of those having secured new members, and spoke briefly of recent developments in the Chamber, of plans for the

UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT

For bringing joy to forty-eight children, ranging from five to nine years in age, whose Christmas would otherwise have been very barren, the Newtonville Woman's Club deserves the highest commendation, for too often the club Christmas parties are but an added occasion for indigestion and dissipation for children of club members, who are already "surfeited with too much." But not so with the expectant group that was brought to the Central church vestry on Tuesday afternoon of this week for its only taste of Christmas, but that taste was a goodly one indeed.

Through the painstaking thoughtfulness of the committee automobiles were sent to bring the children from all corners of Newton and to carry them home again. The entertainment consisted of the singing of Christmas carols by twenty girls from the Perkins Institution and Christmas stories told by a past-master of story-telling, Mrs. Mary Cronan. Then came the tree and a real Santa Claus, in the person of Miss Marion Bassett, who knew the children each by name and with that wonderful gift, which Santa Claus seems to possess, gave each the very things for which it had longed. Those who saw the light in the children's eyes, as one by one their wishes were satisfied, will cherish the memory as one of the choicest gifts of this Christmas season. Each child had the toy it had set its heart upon, and also a package containing some article of clothing which it needed. Supper consisting of sandwiches, cocoa, ice cream and cake, and an orange to take home, was served under the direction of Mrs. James A. Stafford. The whole affair was planned by the program committee, Mrs. Harry Cabot, chairman. Miss Marion Bassett looked up the children, investigating the desires and needs of each, so that there were no misfits. Mrs. L. W. Leland had charge of the purchasing, Mrs. A. D. Salinger of the automobiles, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kelley and Mrs. Robert Hills decorated the rooms most artistically. The tree was loaned by the Central church school and the ornaments were given by children of club members. Mrs. H. Belden Sly had charge of decorating the tree. At this busy season it was no small matter to give up two days, as did those who assisted in the preparations, but that they were amply repaid for their labors is attested by the declaration of those who had worked the hardest, "Let us do it again next year."

War is a funny thing. We kill our enemies so they can't fight us again, and after we've won we feed those of them that are left so they can fight us again.

DEATH OF REV. MR. DONOVAN

Rev. Dennis Donovan, for many years a Baptist clergyman in New England and in New York State, died suddenly last week Thursday at the residence of his son, Prof. W. N. Donovan of the Newton Theological Institution, with whom he had made his home at 45 Paul street, in Newton Centre. Mr. Donovan was a native of Cork, Ireland, and was born on April 8, 1837, the son of Michael and Mary (Dempsey) Donovan. He came to the United States in 1847 and was graduated in 1864 from the University of Vermont and was graduated also from the Newton Theological Institution, in 1867.

Mr. Donovan was married on Nov. 28, 1867, to Elizabeth M. Nichols of Baldwinville, who has since died. He was ordained to the Baptist ministry that same year, since which time he had held pastorates in Belchertown, also in Allendale and in Fruit Hill, both in the State of Rhode Island; at Shelbyville, and at North Manlius, both in New York State; at Cornish Flat and at South Lyndboro' in New Hampshire, occupying a pulpit in the last-named place from 1886 to 1918, when he retired and went to Newton Centre to make his home with his son who is a professor of Old Testament interpretation.

Mr. Donovan, who was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa, had contributed many articles to religious publications and assisted in the compilation of a book called "Lyndboro' History," which was issued in 1906.

Services were held at 45 Paul street on Saturday. Services were also held Sunday at the Baptist Church, South Lyndboro, N. H., where he was formerly pastor, and the burial was in South Lyndboro.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The Newton Choral Society held its first concert this season on Tuesday evening at Central Church, Newtonville.

The concert was characterized by the great variety of its selections. The first selection from Bach was rendered with a sustained organ-like quality befitting its character. Then followed, "O Who Will Over the Downs," an old English song, with a touch of romance in it. Third, came Edward Kremser's "Hymn to the Madonna," an echo of ecclesiastical days with a deeply religious note. The solo in this song was sung by Miss Helen H. Leutz, cellist, then gave, "Variations Symphoniques," which was enthusiastically encored.

Miss Leutz was aided by an accompanist of unusual sympathy. In keeping with the Christmas Tide, the chorus sang an old French Christmas Carol, and followed this by "The First Noel," in which the audience were asked to join. Both chorus and audience received encores for this number.

The first number after the intermission was "The Chorus of Bacchanes," by Gounod, in which accent and rhythm were the special features. One could almost see the chorus of Bacchantes and hear the "clanging symbols" lead on. This selection met with much applause demanding encores.

"Annie Laurie" repeated from a previous concert by request, followed. Then came two selections for Women's Voices, "Dairy Maids," and "From A By-Gone Day," the former of unusual delicacy, and the latter sweetly sentimental. Both were very well done.

Miss Leutz played on the cello and again was enthusiastically encored. The climax of the evening was "Daybreak," a dramatic composition the words of which were written by Longfellow, in which the Wind is personified as it "comes out of the sea." The beautiful accompaniment played by Miss West with great skill, added much to the effect. The chorus reached a splendid crescendo in "Awake the day is near!" and the music died down almost to a sob as the wind whispered to the sleeping churchyard, "Not yet, not yet, in quiet lie." The chorus reached a high point of excellence both in technical skill and in feeling in this number.

In the concluding number, "Christ in Flanders," a note almost of the same time was struck, both words and music being of an inspirational character. This number also was repeated. The next concert of the Newton Choral Society will be held in April, when the society will be assisted by its orchestra of fifty players.

Y. M. C. A. SWIMMING MEET

Friday night, Dec. 23rd, at 8 o'clock at the Newton Y. M. C. A. there will be a big swimming meet open to the public. The Malden "Y" senior team comes over for the first meet of the season.

The Newton "Y" team is going to be stronger than ever this year, including such men as Capt. Barnes, Jaquith, Millard, Brown, Noonan, Wallace, Huss, Bang, and Vuilleumier. The events will be: Relay, 20 yds., 40 yds., 40 yd. back, 40 yd. breast, plunge, fancy diving, and 100 yd. swim.
Meets are to be held at home Wednesday nights. Some of the teams scheduled for the winter are Lynn, Lowell, Boston, Cambridge, Worcester, Providence, and Springfield.

Trees Strong.
Trees and plants display a wonderful strength at times. Some of them will lift a heavy stone which blocks their way or even split a rock, but there is one thing which they cannot withstand and that is the stranglehold of another plant which encircles them. A honeysuckle will soon kill a tree which it takes hold of and in the tropical forests there are many creepers which kill the trees they climb and save themselves by reaching out to neighboring trees.

Ingratitude Always Monstrous.
Ingratitude is monstrous; and for the multitude to be ungrateful were to make a monster of the multitude.—Shakespeare.

BOY SCOUT COUNCIL HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The number of Merit Badges secured by scouts throughout the year was 102. There are 48 First Class Scouts, 131 Second Class, and 425 Tenderfoot Scouts. Newton and Wellesley together have the largest number of scouts this year than they have had for six years.

The Court of Honor has been reorganized and is doing fine work in giving articulate approval to scouts who have made progress. It exists to encourage and stimulate, to standardize and interpret, to recognize and reward the boys' efforts to advance and make progress through the scout ranks and tests. These Courts are now held open to the public. Announcements in the local papers from time to time will be made.

Veteran Scout Association has made a notable increase. This is made up of men and scouts who have been attached in some way to the Scout Movement for five or more years.

A Scout Advisory Board has been created in which two scouts from each troop participate as an older boys' Council.

The Scout Reserve Corps begins to take on shape with the new year. The Adult Volunteer leadership of the Council amounts to 153 men who are giving freely of their time for the Boys in the Council and should be appreciated by the public in general.

A monthly paper issued by Headquarters Staff has sent out over 5000 papers to all scouts and men connected with the Council.

The number of scouts dropping from the troops is very small which goes to show how well the scoutmasters and leaders of the various troops know how to interest the boy life of the community. Good leaders always hold the boys.

Mr. Sharratt in conclusion presented a large program for the Year 1922. The Financial Campaign will soon commence and it is expected to go over the top.

Greater service is offered the city throughout the year, and the Council's scouts desire to be of any assistance which the city authorities may desire. A larger Camping program has been prepared for all Troops in the Council.

Greater Publicity by a special Committee is advocated. A special line of literature for general public use will be made.

A total of at least 700 scouts by December, 1922, is the aim for next year. A greater interest upon the part of all churches, both Catholic and Protestant is to be desired and created.

An increase in the number of Scout Merit Badges is proposed.

A special line of literature for general public use will be made.

In other words the program for 1922 is so planned that the Council may be of the greatest helpfulness to the largest number of scouts in its history.

With the citizens of this city behind the movement, Scouting can become one of the greatest organizations for the good of the boy that this city has ever known.

The following men were elected to office in the Norumbega Council for the ensuing year:

President—Mr. James A. Stafford of Newtonville

Vice-Presidents—Mr. Clarence G. McDavitt of Newtonville, Rev. Carl M. Gates, of Wellesley Hills, Mr. W. O. Draper, of Watertown, Rev. Dr. Joseph E. Perry of Weston

Secretary of the Council and Scout Executive—Mr. William B. Sharratt

Treasurer—Mr. John H. Eddy of Newtonville

Scout Commissioner—Mr. John Benbow of Newton

Deputy Scout Commissioners—Mr. Everett W. Varney, Newton Centre, Chairman of the Court of Honor; Mr. W. S. Radway, Chestnut Hill, for South Newton; Mr. Lewis E. Moore, Newtonville, for North Newton; Mr. Walter L. Putnam, Watertown, for Watertown; Mr. Clarence A. Bunker, Wellesley Hills, for Wellesley; Mr. W. O. Kenny, Weston, for Weston.

Assistant Deputy Commissioners for the Court of Honor: Mr. Charles H. Woodworth, Newton, Mr. E. J. Ovington, Auburndale.

The following men were elected to the Executive Board—Mr. Stephen H. Whidden, West Newton; Mr. Morgan H. Stafford, of Newtonville; Mr. David A. Ambrose, of Waban; Mr. L. D. Gibbs, of Newton; Mr. W. H. Lucas, of Watertown; Rev. H. M. B. Ogilby of Watertown; Mr. Josiah H. Goddard, of Wellesley Hills; Rev. Fr. James F. Haney, of Newton Centre.

DEATH OF MRS. HALL

Mrs. Annie Lockwood Hall, the wife of Hezekiah A. Hall, died on Monday at their home, 920 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, following a three years' illness.

She was a native of Annapolis, N. S., and was born in 1850, the daughter of Henry H. and Annie Fain Lockwood. Mrs. Hall came in her girlhood to Boston. She was married in November, 1872.

Surviving her, besides her husband, are three children, Mrs. H. F. Pearsall of Brookline, Dr. Arthur Dudley Hall of Newton Centre. There is also a brother who resides in New Jersey and two sisters who make their home in Hamilton.

Services were held on Wednesday at her late residence, Rev. Richard T. Loring of St. John's Church, Newtonville, officiating and the burial was in Newton Cemetery.

LODGES

"Perpetual Calendar."

The Rev. Francesco Scatigna of Locorotondo, in the province of Bari, Italy, claims to have discovered a "perpetual calendar" which has baffled science for centuries. His calendar consists of two discs, one superimposed upon the other, by the turning of which the correct day, week and month may be obtained. The great astronomer Herschel declared that a perpetual calendar never could be devised.—From the Argonaut.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

HIGH SCHOOLS

About twenty of the English teachers of the West of Boston English Club met in the Technical High School Library on Wednesday, Dec. 14. The subject under discussion was "College entrance examinations: how can we prepare for them?" Coffee, sandwiches, doughnuts and cheese were served by Miss Wetherbee and Miss Doonan.

Division IV H3 from Room 107 entertained the rest of the Seniors at the Senior Assembly, Dec. 16, with a well arranged Christmas exercise.

A very admirable sewing exhibition was held in the sewing rooms of the Vocational High School on Friday, Dec. 16. Sewing done by girls from the three schools was on exhibition and great credit is due both girls and teachers for the skill displayed.

The Glee Club of the Classical High School held its weekly assembly on Wednesday, Dec. 21.

The Junior Class of Technical High School had a meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 21, to nominate its class officers.

The Newton High Schools have sold a great many Christmas Seals this year.

Mr. Palmer, principal of the Technical High School, spoke at the Suburban League Banquet held at the City Club, Boston, recently.

School closed at noon, Thursday, Dec. 22, and will reopen on Jan. 3rd. Newton plays its first hockey game of the season on Jan. 4 in the Boston Arena. The team has had a good deal of practice and should be at the top of the league this year as there are some mighty good puck-chasers out for a birth on the team.

Peirce School

A Mystery Play of unusual beauty, written by Miss Fyffe of the West Newton Music School was presented at the Peirce School yesterday morning by the pupils of the Music School and of the Peirce School.

Miss Fyffe drew her material from the old French Mystery plays of the 13th and 14th centuries which she translated. The music was also of the 13th and 14th centuries, reminding the hearer of the quaint chants sometimes heard even now in the French cathedrals.

Against a simple background of curtains, three scenes of the Nativity were presented with consummate skill in grouping and in costume and with a reverence which must have been seen to be understood.

The first of these represented the Virgin Mary, St. Joseph and the In-hospitable Host, the former seeking shelter. All conversation was sung. The costumes were those of medieval times with halos for the saints. A monk read from the Book of God the story represented in each scene.

In the second scene a field near Bethlehem, the sleeping shepherds were in the foreground, while angels, replicas of the world famous paintings of Fra Angelico, sang of the coming of the King.

The last scene was the manger scene, a picture like one of the altar pieces found in Florence, with the Virgin bending over the Child, the adoring angels in exquisite colors with golden wings and halos in attitudes of adoration, the Wise men and shepherds, and a group of small children hooded in the foreground.

The whole school joined in the singing of "Tidings Glad," and "Gloria in Excelsis Deo."

Too much praise cannot be given for this exquisite production of a sacred theme. This mystery play has already been presented in Boston and is soon to be given in New York.

Williams School

The Williams School has been celebrating Christmas with the true Christmas spirit, that of doing and giving. The windows in all the rooms have been decorated by the children with paper Christmas trees bearing candles.

In all grades gifts for the parents have been made and in the upper grades these gifts were designed by the children.

Grades II and III had little Christmas plays, or dramatizations. The second grade have invited their parents and friends to see them give their play called, "The Enchanted Boxes." The children took part as follows: Emily (elder sister), Miriam (brother), Billy (younger sister), Lois (brother), Ethel (another very young sister), Thelma Robbins; Mother, Grace Spear; Fairy Queen, Janet Sargent; Four Children (as enchanted boxes), Richard Stoddard, Florence Violi, Teddy Dearborn and Ralph Harper.

Burr School

The pupils of the 7th and 8th grades of the C. C. Burr School, presented a Christmas Carol, one of Dickens' best works. The characters were as follows:

Ebenezer Scrooge.....Robert Nason
Jacob Marley.....Hubert Jenkins
Fred Scrooge's nephew, Richard Miller
Bob Cratchit.....Madison Cannon
Tiny Tim.....Lucille Cate Boy.....Stephen Madden
The Ghost of Christmas Past
The Ghost of Christmas Present
The Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come

Merton Howard, Marcus Remick and Gerald Rogers, representing "The Three Wise Men," sang "We Three Kings of Orient Are."

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

Mr. William Melea, a graduate of the Emerson School, class of 1915, was present at the school assembly on Monday morning. He entertained the pupils with selections on the piano. He is now a sophomore in Boston College.

The kindergarten held their Christmas entertainment on Wednesday morning. A beautiful tree laden with hand-made presents and Christmas decorations occupied a prominent place in the rooms. An interesting program of songs, games, and marches, was given after which the presents were distributed. A goodly number of parents and friends responded to their invitations and were present.

On Thursday morning the entire school went to the Hall at 9 o'clock to witness the Christmas entertainment provided for all the pupils. Each class had a part in the program of carols, individual and group exercises, and dramatizations. A pantomime, "Silent Night," was given by 13 girls, dressed in white. "The First Christmas Eve" was presented by the girls in the graduating class. A play, "Christmas Gifts," was given by grade four. Another play, "The Spirit of Christmas," was presented by two classes in combination, Miss Hargan's and Miss Kelly's. Rev. Theodore Ludlow, pastor of St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands, was present and addressed the school at the conclusion of the program.

During the week each class room has had an appropriate Christmas dressing done by the pupils. Christmas trees, large and small, resplendent with tinsel and ornaments and gifts have delighted all. Each class at the conclusion of the Hall entertainments held a party in their home rooms and had a merry time eating sweetmeats, giving gifts among themselves, and trying new toys and new games. Every one was happy.

Mrs. W. A. Marcy is taking the place of Miss Grace G. Hunt who is ill in the Newton Hospital.

Hyde School

On Thursday, the Hyde School greatly enjoyed the presentation of a part of "The Bird's Christmas Carol" by the two eighth grades. The parts were very well taken indeed by the following people:

Mrs. Ruggles.....Dorothy Goddard
Sarah Maude.....Virginia Lee
Peter.....Granger Hapgood
Peoria.....Lida Hubbard
Susan.....Doris Munroe Cornelius.....James Colton
Emily.....Grace McDade
Clement.....Leonard Clark
Kitty.....Isadore Hatch
Larry.....Robert McCabe
Great credit is due Miss Hanscom and Miss Cowen for their fine and efficient coaching.

That afternoon the cast took their stage properties and gave the performance again at the Old Ladies' Home, Newton Upper Falls.

The two third grades, under Miss Jewett and Miss Smith, furnished the other part of the program with a Christmas Wonder Story. A pupil read the story and a selected group acted it out. Perhaps the prettiest feature was the little snow flakes, which fluttered in and out among the trees with their white dresses, bearing white baskets, and scattering paper snow over the scene.

The Hyde School gave a most generous response to Miss Keith's request for food for needy families.

The Stearns School

A display of hand-carved wooden toys made by a group of sixth-grade boys and girls was held at Stearns School on Wednesday, Dec. 21. The class has been instructed by Mr. Henry P. Talbot, of West Newton, who volunteered his services to the Stearns School Centre. The class met bi-weekly and special attention was given to the painting and decorating of the animal cut-outs, and the display included some very attractive and well-made articles. The class will continue to be instructed by Mr. Talbot during the winter term when he will teach boat-building and furniture construction.

The Brownie group at Stearns School was given a Christmas party on Wednesday afternoon by the Girl Scout troop of Newtonville. Toys and candy were distributed to the Brownies in each "Six" and a program of the Brownie formation and games was in charge of the "Sixes," led by "The Wise Brown Owl," Sister Harriet Patey, assisted by Sister Richmond, Sister Barbara Ziegler, Sister Ruth Ziegler, Sister Phelps, Sister Murray, and Sister Edmunds.

Final arrangements for the Community Tree at Stearns School on Sunday evening, Dec. 25, at 8 o'clock, were completed on Wednesday night, when a joint rehearsal of the clubs participating in the program was held in the school. The clubs will be assisted by the choir of the French Church and the North Church and will be led by a group of trumpeters. The large Christmas tree will be lighted at seven o'clock and the carols will be sung around the tree at eight o'clock.

Stearns School

Our building looks very festive with its window decorations of bright red poinsettias.

The school hall will not accommodate the entire school so the Christmas program was divided into two parts, the five upper grades performing on Wednesday and the first three Thursday morning. For the upper grades the stage represented the palace of Father Christmas and children gave the operetta "Christmas gifts of All Nations." The Glee Club sang "Arise and Shine" and "Love's Old Sweet Song" and the carols, "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," and "Silent Night" were sung by the school chorale. The glee club has been only lately organized and thru the efforts of Miss McLaughlin and Miss Lewis has become a very valuable school activity. Its debut at the Christmas exercises was a brilliant success.

The primary grades gave the following program:

I. March.....School Orchestra
II. Song.....School
O Come All Ye Faithful
III. Merry Bells.....Grade I
IV. Motion Song.....Grade I
V. Warning to Santa Claus.....Grade I
VI. Song.....School
Jolly Old St. Nicholas
VII. Punch and Judy Show, Grade I-II
VIII. Round the Christmas Tree, Grade I

IX. Song.....Miss Parker's Room
X. Christmas Dolly.....Grade II
At both entertainments the school orchestra, under the able leadership of Miss Broughton, gave selections.

The members of the football team received the Stearns football S as a reward for their efforts in winning the city football championship. The boys receiving the letter are Conzo, Terrio, B. Lyman, Lombardi, Mackin, Lacroix, Slamin, DeLuca, J. Lyman, Morrell, Clambelli Lanni, Colontano, Coyne, Brooks, James, Rufo, Custean, Binks. An S was also awarded to Margaret Boudreau who so ably led the cheering during the season.

The fifth grades, under the direction of Miss Swann, presented a novel form of entertainment Thursday morning by singing carols outside the doors of the various rooms.

TELLS OF LIGHTNING ZONES

United States Forest Service Corrects an Impression That Has Become Almost Universal.

It is an old saying that most proverbs are only half-truths. Some are wholly contrary to fact.

For instance, there is an ancient saw to the effect that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place." This is absolutely untrue.

The United States forest service, which dreads lightning as a frequent cause of forest fires says that lightning has "zones of frequency," where in it is likely to strike whenever there is an electrical storm. It suggests that such zones might be mapped with a view to special precautions.

These zones have reference to topography, especially in mountainous regions. A hill much more likely to be struck by lightning than any area of lowland because it is nearer to the clouds.

An isolated tree does not "attract" lightning, as is commonly supposed. If it be very tall, lightning is more apt to strike it than to hit objects in its neighborhood because of its height merely.

For a like reason the Eiffel tower in Paris is often been struck by lightning. The lofty shaft erected in honor of the father of his country, in Washington, is a frequent target for thunderbolts, and has to be protected against them by an elaborate system of lightning rods.

A high mountain top is sure to be struck frequently by lightning. But not so if its elevation be great enough to uplift it beyond the ordinary level of thunderclouds. In that case it will have a lightning-struck zone lower down, around its sides.

Often a lightning-bolt discharged into Quartz rock or quartz sand melts the silica and forms a curious little pipe of glass, perhaps an inch in diameter and some inches in length. Such pipes, called "fugurites," are sometimes found in large numbers on mountain tops.

MADE FIRST METALLIC PEN

Unfortunate Frenchman, Victim of Courtisan's Enmity, Was the Inventor, According to Historians.

The invention of the metallic pen belongs to France, the first writing implement of this character being used by the famous state prisoner, La Tude, who called down the wrath of Mme. de Pompadour by his passionate letters. La Tude was the natural son of a prominent court official and was brought up for a military career, but in his mistaken youthful adoration he misinterpreted the smiles of Mme. de Pompadour. In an effort to prove his fidelity his friends devised a harmless toy which exploded noisily when Mme. de Pompadour opened it—after receiving a letter from La Tude warning her of impending danger from her enemies. When the contents of the box were found to be nothing more dangerous than alum powder, La Tude was slapped into a dungeon, where he spent 35 years. In order to occupy his time La Tude tried to write his memoirs by means of an improvised fishbone pen. When this broke he fished a copper coin from the prison priest. This he ground into the shape of a pen by rubbing it against the cell walls. He also made the first known ink tablets by preparing bread crumb pellets with his own blood. This happened about the year 1740, according to the French researchers. Metal pen points were not marketed, however, until nearly 60 years later.

Dig for Fish in Florida.

Izaak Walton scarcely would believe his eyes if he were to walk through the country near here, according to a telegram from New Smyrna, Fla., and encounter negroes digging live fish from the ground as if they were potatoes, and even persons accustomed to the miracles of this age would look twice and then set out in search of an oculist.

But the mudfish, a queer member of the finny tribe, inhabits streams or ponds which have mud banks or bottoms. The fish is black and weighs up to five or six pounds. When the water in a pond evaporates, as it does during certain seasons of the year, leaving only a mass of mud which on the surface is practically dry, it doesn't worry the fish. They merely burrow into the mud to wait for rain and apparently continue to live as long as the earth is wet. The negroes locate them by exploring the mud with their bare feet.

The fish is edible, but is not a favorite because of its stringy and coarse flesh.

Fish Nets From Spider Web.

Native to New Guinea is a giant spider, its body as big as a hazelnut, with hairy legs two inches long. It spins a web six feet in diameter and very strong.

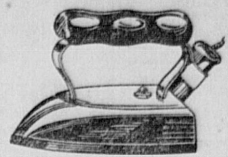

Advantage of this fact is taken by the cannibals of the island, who set up long bamboo sticks in places frequented by the spiders, thereby offering an invitation to the arachnids to spin webs across them.

By this simple means (if one is to believe the story) ready-made nets are obtained which the cannibals use for catching fish.—Philadelphia Ledger.

PROF. POWERS' LECTURE

The second in the course of lectures on World Readjustments was given by Prof. H. H. Powers at the Newton Public Library on Wednesday evening. The subject was "The Near East."

This, the most important question concerned in the balance of power, is characterized by a lack of unity.

The lecturer gave a most interesting diagnosis of the political and commercial relations of the different countries which make up the "Near East," and showed how England, France, Italy, and Greece are hampered in their territorial ambitions by their present impetuosity.

Both religious schism and economic conflict, according to the speaker, contribute toward the difficulties in the way of straightening out the tangle.

The "Far East" offers some possibility of solution, in Prof. Powers' estimation, long before it will be possible to create and maintain peace in the Near East.

OBITUARY

Miss Harriette A. Tinker died at the Framingham Hospital, Dec. 8, 1921. She had a nervous breakdown a year ago last June, caused by too close application to business, and had been in failing health from that time. On Nov. 29, she fell, breaking her hip and her ankle, and died as a result of the accident. She was buried in the family lot at Derby Centre, Vermont.

Miss Tinker was born in June, 1859, at Derby Centre, the youngest child of John and Emily Bass Tinker. About 1884 she went into the millinery business at Derby Line, Vermont, where she remained for fifteen years. Then she bought a millinery business in Newton, Massachusetts, which she conducted until her health failed. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary T. Darling of Milton, Massachusetts, and two brothers, George B. Tinker of South Dakota, and Joseph B. Tinker of New York and Washington.

Miss Tinker had a lovable disposition and made many warm friends wherever she went, but she devoted her life to her family and her business.

CAROL SINGING

The young people of the Methodist Church, Newton Centre, are planning to tour the village on Christmas eve singing Christmas carols. More singers are wanted and all young people are invited to assemble with them at the Methodist Church at 7.30 P. M. Anyone knowing of homes where there are shut-ins, or aged or sick people who would appreciate having carols sung to them are requested to telephone Centre Newton 1493 or 1158-W. before Saturday night.

ALDERMEN MEET

were not due to any one man but had gradually grown up over a period of years.

The resolution is as follows: Whereas the Chief Examiner of the State Division of Accounts in the course of his examination of the accounts of the City of Newton called attention to the fact that for many years it had been the practice of heads of departments to purchase supplies without any appropriation therefor, to accumulate the supplies so purchased in various stock rooms and yards, to add the cost of supplies so purchased to the "Supplies Account" and to draw supplies for particular pieces of work from the stock rooms and yards, debiting the appropriation for the particular piece of work and crediting the cost price of the supplies so used to the "Supplies Account";

And whereas in his opinion of the Chief Examiner, by reason of the fact that in many cases supplies have been withdrawn from the stock rooms and yards without any bookkeeping entries having been made so that as a result more money has been expended by the various departments than has been appropriated by the Board of Aldermen, and at the same time the actual amount of supplies in the stock rooms and yards is much less than is indicated by the state of the Supplies Account;

And whereas by reason of the fact that no accurate inventory of the supplies had been taken for many years it was impossible for the Chief Examiner to determine the exact extent of the shortage in the Supplies Account, so that he set up a reserve for supplies equal to the whole Supplies Account namely $183,928.92, thus withdrawing from the cash subject to appropriation in the Excess and Deficiency Account of the City the whole of this sum; and whereas the Chief Examiner directed that this reserve should be maintained until an accurate inventory should be taken;

And whereas until an inventory is taken a large sum of money which ought to be available for use for the benefit of the tax payers of the City is withdrawn from the cash subject to appropriation in the Excess and Deficiency Account and at the same time it is impossible for the Comptroller of Accounts to prepare an accurate balance sheet;

And whereas the best accounting practice requires the checking of inventories by some other person than the one in charge of the supplies to be inventoried, and whereas it is physically impossible for the Comptroller of Accounts either personally or through his office to prepare or to check an accurate inventory of the supplies in the various stock rooms and yards in the City of Newton as of a given date;

Resolved, that it is in the interest of the City that an accurate inventory be taken of the Supplies belonging to the City of Newton as of January 1, 1922;

That the inventory be taken by some outside organization engaged in the business of taking inventories of property of like character and having a sufficient force of experienced men in its employ to take an inventory of the supplies in the different stock rooms and yards at the same time;

That it is not in the interest of the City that the practice of purchasing supplies without an appropriation from the Board of Aldermen for the purpose be continued after January 1, 1922;

That a copy of these resolutions be sent to His Honor the Mayor and to the Comptroller of Accounts;

Alderman Lloyd presented plans and estimates of proposed changes in Nonantum square, which were referred to the next city government.

The end of the session was made interesting by Alderman Nichols, who commented on the report circulated during the recent political campaign that he had been paid sums of money by the city for work on the income tax matter, stated that any such suggestion was absolutely false and that he had never received a cent from the city for the income tax or any other matter and said that the records of the Comptroller's office would bear out that statement. He then read extracts from a letter from Judge E. B. Bishop, who was former city solicitor, which stated in substance that no such payment had been approved by him. Alderman Nichols said that he bore no ill will towards whoever had circulated this canard but believed it to be his duty to deny it in public.

The registrars of voters reported that the recount of votes cast for ward Alderman in Ward 7 had resulted in the loss of one vote each by Alderman Jewell and his opponent, Mr. B. M. R'ich and a gain of 2 votes in the blank column.

An order was adopted declaring the result of the recent city election.

The board adjourned at 10:55 P. M.

Mason School

Through the Newton Centre Parent and Teachers' Association, a check of $50 has been handed Mr. Paul toward the fund for the new printing press.

The Christmas program given in the Mason Hall on Thursday was as follows:—

1. March School Orchestra
2. Selection School Orchestra
3. Flag Salute, Star Spangled Banner
4. Tableau I, "At the Inn" School
5. Carol School
6. Hark! the herald angels sing
7. Tableau II, "Listening Shepherds" School
8. Carol School
9. It came upon the midnight clear
10. Tableau III, "The wise men and the star" School
11. Carol School
12. Noël School

A set of slides on Hiawatha has just been purchased for the use of the pupils who study the poem. It is the gift of the class of 1921, to the school, voted last June.

Bowen School

This has been "At Home" week at the Bowen School. Many parents and friends have called to see the decorations and to hear the carol singing.

Among the visitors on Wednesday was Mayor Childs. He received a warm welcome from the children.

On Wednesday afternoon the Christmas party was held in the kindergarten. Entertainment was furnished by each grade: Kindergarten, A Visit to the Toy Man; Grade I, Recitation by Ten Children; Grade II, Christmas in Heathland; Grade III, The Best Doll of All; and Good King Wenceslas; Grade IV, Why the Chimes Rang; Grade V and VI, The Old Man-Visitor at the Old Fashioned School. The surprise of the afternoon was the presentation by Santa Claus of a gift to each grade. Among these gifts which were made by the pupils of Grade 5 and 6, was a furnished Doll House.

The refreshments served by the ladies from Newton Centre were greatly enjoyed.

Tuesday afternoon a group of children from Grades 5 and 6 sang carols at the homes of friends in Newton Centre.

Christmas festivities were closed with carol singing in the Old English form by each grade.

Bigelow School

This week different class rooms were gay with Christmas decorations, and there were special exercises in many of the rooms.

The primary grades celebrated in the School Hall before recess on Thursday morning, Miss Childs, Miss Lowe's and Miss Ward's classes contributing to the program.

At eleven o'clock the Christmas play, "Why the Chimes Rang," was given by Miss Dyer's class. Not only were the individual parts exceptionally well taken, but the incidental music, and the electric lighting effects added much to the beauty and smoothness of the performance.

All the acting was good but Tracey Heckman's spirited interpretation of the part of Holger deserves special mention.

RECK-GULESIAN

Miss Margaret Alice Gulesian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian of 859 Commonwealth avenue was married on Monday to James Linus Beck, son of the late Thomas and Harriet Beck. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents and was performed by the Rev. Dr. Addison Moore of the First Church, Unitarian, of Chestnut Hill. A reception followed the wedding.

Miss Mildred Thompson of New York was bridesmaid and Othank MacDonald of Fitchburg was best man. Among the guests present at the reception which followed were Gov. and Mrs. Cox, Ex-Gov. Allen of Montana and his wife and the Hon. Walter C. Wardwell, ex-Mayor of Cambridge, and his wife.

The couple will go to Washington on a wedding trip and will be at home at 1734 Commonwealth avenue after Feb. 1. The father of the bride is well known in Boston theatrical circles and is owner of the St. James Theatre.

CITY HALL NOTES

At a caucus held last night of the members-elect of the 1922 board of aldermen, Mr. Arthur W. Hollis was nominated for president over Alderman S. H. Whidden by a close vote.

Alderman George V. Phipps was named for vice president, and City Treasurer Newhall was unopposed for another term. The selection of a Clerk of Committees in place of J. C. Brimblecom who is opposed for re-election was postponed until inauguration day, January 2nd.

The new city government will be inaugurated on Monday afternoon, January 2nd.

CARD OF THANKS

Indian as Tobaccoist Sign.

The selection of the Indian as a sign by tobaccoists in the early years following the introduction of the "weed" into Europe, was undoubtedly due to the fact that it was generally known that tobacco had first been found in use among the Indian tribes of the new world. Its use was first reported to Christopher Columbus in November, 1492, by a party sent out by him to explore the island of Cuba. The plant itself, however, was not brought to Europe until 1558, when Francisco Fernandez, a physician sent by Philip II, of Spain, to investigate the products of Mexico, brought it with him on his return home.

Not Likely.

Uriah had come to inform me, writes a Labrador Mission worker in Le Petit Nord, that he could not "cleave the splits," for his "stomach had capsize." I felt it incumbent on me to administer castor oil, thinking that that might be sufficient punishment for what I had reason to believe was only a ruse to escape work. It was hard for me to give the oil, but harder still to have the boy look up afterwards with a cherubic smile and ask if it were the same oil that Ellsha gave the widow woman—Youth's Companion.

Nutrition in Fruits.

Fruits are chiefly valuable for their sugar, acids and salts. Bananas, dates, figs, prunes and grapes, owing to their large amount of sugar, are the most nutritious. Apples, lemons and oranges are valuable for their potash salts, and oranges and lemons, especially, are valuable for their citric acids. Some fruits contain two or more acids, such as strawberries, raspberries, gooseberries and cherries. These fruits contain both citric and malic acids.

Old English Farthing.

The farthing is an old English coin, coined in silver first by King John. The Irish farthing of his reign bears the date of 1210 and it is valuable because it is so rare.

KNOW ART OF CONTENTMENT

Cats Set Excellent Example to the Restless Men and Women of the Present Day.

The treasures in the Egyptian section of the British museum were a source of great interest to the crown prince of Japan during his visit to London. These rooms are special favorites of the public, and for the children the Egyptian cats have a special fascination. Curious-looking things they are but they are cats even if their type is not of the type of the present day.

The Egyptians looked upon the cat as the very symbol of contentment, and all who know a hearth where a cat sits before the fire will agree with them, and since contentment is a good thing, the cat should be in demand at the present time. Madam Puss certainly sets an example of making the best of things. In a London drawing-room a workwoman was left alone to fit some chintz covers on the chairs. When she was going she looked at a cat on the rug by the fire, and said, "It is a very friendly cat; it did not at all resent me being here."

The mistress of the house glanced at the cat and replied, "I am glad it gave you a welcome, but as a matter of fact it is as much a stranger as you are. I have never seen it before. It must belong to some people who have recently left the neighborhood, and as there is no fire to sit by at present in its own home, it contentedly goes to the next place where it finds one, and not only makes itself at home but evidently makes other people feel at home, too."—Christian Science Monitor.

BOYS PROVED THEIR HONESTY

Small New York News Vendors "Made Good" Without Having Given Promissory Notes.

One of the great New York newspapers pays an astonishing tribute to the young merchants who sell its wares upon the streets. This newspaper, like practically every other, printed an "extra" after the big Jersey City prize fight. When the papers arrived at Times square the young man whose business it was to sell them to the newsboys, taking their cash in return, found himself overwhelmed by an eager flock of youngsters who grabbed the papers as fast as he could open the bundles and raced away to dispose of them without going through the usual formality of paying for their stock.

Many a boy could have kept all the money he received as profit and neglected to pay for his papers, but, so the paper declares, as soon as the storm of selling was over the boys returned to the neighborhood and settled, until the cash turned in was exactly what it should have been for the number of papers sent out from the office of publication.

That was only ordinary honesty, it is true, but a kind of honesty met with seldom enough to be uncommon. Yet it would be expected by those who are familiar with newsboys. The newsboy doesn't expect to be cheated, and he certainly doesn't intend to cheat anybody. More power to him. —Hartford Times.

Settling a Complicated Question.

One of the queerest requests that has reached state officials for several months is a petition signed by eight beekeepers at Kale, Mo., asking that owners of a sorghum mill near-by be requested to screen the mill so as to prevent great loss to the petitioners because of the death of their bees after visiting the mill. After a long and tortuous journey through federal and state boards, the petition finally reached the board of agriculture, and Jewell Mayes replied that after a careful search of the statutes he believes the beekeepers have no recourse at law, but are liable themselves under the statutes prohibiting trespassing.—Jefferson City correspondence Sedalia Capital.

Stripping Hemp by Machinery.

Many hemp-stripping machines of a simple type are in operation on the hemp plantations of the Davao golf region of Mindanao, and two three-horsepower oil engines connected with sets of four stripping machines each have recently been installed in that region. The machines pull the hemp over a knife in much the same manner that it is cleaned by hand. They are comparatively inexpensive and are operated by one man. With the aid of one of the machines one worker can strip a picul (about 140 pounds) of fiber in a day, which would be a large amount of work for one week if done by hand.

Who Owns a Glacier?

When the retreat of a glacier leaves a piece of ground uncovered, whose is it? The state's, says the law of France and of Italy. The canton's, says the general law of Switzerland. But in the Grisons the commune is held to own both the glacier and the ground it covers, so that a body like a parish council often possesses some millions of tons of good blue ice.—Manchester Guardian.

How Shall They Park?

Akron, O., recently, by ordinance, eliminated all angular automobile parking, with the result that accidents have been cut 25 per cent in downtown sections and street car service has been improved. In Buffalo practically all parking has been changed from the parallel method to the perpendicular, which allows three cars to park where one formerly did.

Y. M. C. A.

Members and friends of the Newton Association are rallying to the Foreign Work of the Association which is world-wide in its scope. The Young Men's Christian Association now has branches in almost every country in the world. The Associations of the United States and Canada are responsible to a great extent for the spread of the work. Many are sacrificing that this work may go forward. A Sunday School class of boys, when asked by their teacher if they would like to send the money which would come to them from the teacher in Christmas presents to foreign work responded in the affirmative, so several dollars is now on its way to the boys of China because of these boys willingness to help.

Attention is called to the New Year's reception which will be held on Monday evening, January 2nd. There will be a band concert by the Constabulary Band, activities in the swimming pool, gymnasium, bowling alleys, and game rooms, and an entertainment in the hall by Toby and Jack accompanied by Miss Page at the piano. The officers of the Association would be glad to see any friends at this New Year's reception.

The Camp Reunion comes on Tuesday evening, December 27th. Many of the old timers are planning to attend and there will be a large quota of the boys and leaders present who were at camp last year. There will be a banquet at 6:30 and in the evening an entertainment. All friends who are interested in the camp are invited.

A number of men who are interested in golf have purchased an indoor golf course and soon anyone who would like to practice strokes during the winter may have that privilege at the Newton Y. M. C. A.

DEATH OF MISS MARTIN

Miss Jennie Martin, widely known to residents of the Newtons and of Auburndale, died at her home, 232 Melrose street, Auburndale, on Monday in her 71st year.

She was a native of Prince Edward Island and was a daughter of Malcolm and Flora Martin. The family went to Calais, Me., when she was a child, and from there she went to Newton Centre about forty-five years ago.

For many years Miss Martin was a telegraph operator and assistant ticket agent at the Newton Centre station of the Boston & Albany Railroad. Later, she was in charge of the post office at Newton Centre, after which she was connected with the post office at Newtonville, under Postmaster John B. Turner. Several years later, Miss Martin became assistant to Miss Louise Imogen Guiney, the noted author and editor, who at that time was postmistress of Auburndale.

When Miss Guiney resigned, Miss Martin became superintendent of the office, remaining in that capacity until a year ago, when at the age of seventy years she was retired under the pension act.

Throughout her twenty-seven years of service there she was never absent from her duties, except for a period of ten days, last winter, when she was obliged to remain away on account of illness.

Miss Martin was a member of the Auburndale Woman's Club. Surviving her are her brother, Alexander Martin of Rosindale, and her sister, Mrs. Margaret E. Martin, with whom she lived.

Services were held on Thursday at her late residence, Rev. Edward Payson Drew of the Congregational Church, Auburndale, officiating, and the burial was at Mt. Auburn.

WISDOM OF TAKING "DAY OFF"

Leisure Time, That Has Been Earned, Means Better Health and Better Work Afterward.

"There is nothing that clears the cobwebs so effectively out of one's brain as a day off," the Young-Old Philosopher was saying. "Just as we plan our work, we should plan our play; only, most of us, in the clamor of the times, forget that to loaf occasionally is as necessary as to drudge; and we confuse leisure with laziness."

"I know in my own case how difficult it is for me to make up my mind, definitely and unobscuredly, that I require, now and then, a morning away from my desk."

"So if the day off means so much to us, mentally and physically, why are we afraid to take it when the opportunity arrives? I like nothing better than to see, in the big town, a group of middle-aged men hastening out in a motor car on some crisp morning, their golf sticks piled beside them, while others trudge to dreary tasks. They have earned their liberty, no doubt—let us hope so, at any rate; and they will be all the better tomorrow for those few hours of delightful sport and health-giving freedom."

"Too soon the curtain is rung down on this glowing world we live in; and it is heartbreaking to consider how many spots there are close at our gates which we never find the time to see and enjoy. Partly it is our own fault. The green earth cries out to us to come and tread the corridors of the countryside; instead, we cling to the granite of the city, and pace desolate hallways—the more desolate because they are crowded with people we do not know. And all of them are hurrying—where?"

"I wonder. And so, no doubt, do they."—From the Outlook.

DATES FROM "DIVINE RIGHT"

"Star Chamber Proceedings" an Echo of the Days When Kings Could Do No Wrong.

"Star Chamber Proceedings" is an expression now almost invariably used to denote an official action which is conducted in secret and, usually, in a high-handed manner.

The phrase comes to us from the fact that centuries ago there existed in England an all-powerful tribunal consisting of a committee of the king's privy council. The custom was either instituted or revived by Henry VII. in 1480.

This council had omnipotent powers and was unfettered by rules of law. It dealt with civil and criminal cases alike by "bill and information," without the aid of a jury, and could inflict any form of punishment short of death.

The original was "star chamber" because in the room where the council met were deposited the Jewish benches known as "stars" from the Hebrew word shekar, meaning a covenant.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Chinese Shoes Homemade.

There are shoemakers among the Chinese and shoes of varying grades are for sale in the shops, but many of the shoes worn by upper-class Chinese are products not of the shops but of the home. For the Chinese woman of good family who has been educated in the old-fashioned way, considers it both a duty and a pleasure to make the family shoes, and she lavishes upon them the money, the leisure, the taste and skill that do not enter into the making of the commercial article, writes Roland Gorboid in Asia Magazine.

The more wealthy Chinese men wear very charming, if somewhat unusual shoes, which might almost be called slippers. The soles, very much turned up at the toe, are made of bamboo and pith covered with white linen and are extremely rigid and light. The uppers of a pair in my collection are of pale blue silk, with an applied toe and motifs of purple and much embroidered in yellow, red and blue, enriched with gold.

Long Career as Statesman.

John Quincy Adams was the only ex-President who had a long public career after leaving the White House. Two years after his retirement from the presidency in 1829 he was elected to the house of representatives where he served until his death, more than 16 years later. He rendered ten years of public service after passing seventy, and was known as "the old man eloquent." Edward Everett Hale, in his "Memories of a Hundred Years," tells of a Down East sea captain who said he wished "they could take the old engine out of Adams and put it into a new hull." Adams was stricken in his seat at the capitol in Washington on a spot that is still pointed out to visitors.

Browning's Poetry.

The truth is that many readers of verse resent any demand upon their intellects; poetry to them being only a pleasing indulgence—an occasional substitute for a sherbet—not to be taken seriously. Certainly Browning's poetry is not for such. No one today who knows "Sordello" derides it, for, difficult as it is to the beginner, it contains many veins of the pure gold of poetry and its pictures of the passionate, tumultuous life of the late Twelfth and early Thirteenth centuries in Italy, with the fierce conflicts of Guelph and Ghibelline by which it was torn, are unequalled in vividness and truth by any historian.—Philip Stafford Moxon.

ALSO "PLAYING THE GAME"

Children Spotted While Their Grave and Reverend Elders Dwell on the Destiny of Nations.

Mark Sullivan writes in the World's Work:

As to at least one who observed President Harding read his message to congress from the press gallery, his most vivid recollection will be of the little son of a Republican member in the fifth row, who, across the backs of four seats, improvised an acquaintance; and then, having exchanged treaties of amity and commerce through mysterious signals imperceptible to older eyes, slipped away from the guardianship of their respective parents, and by the aid of a cautious and ingratiating diplomacy, maneuvered their way past a dozen elders preoccupied with exalted matters of state, to the ends of the rows of seats. There, in the protective obscurity provided by the cavern-like depths of the aisle, they produced a roundish gilded button not so small but what unsaturated imaginations could place it out into a marble whose defects of roundness were fortuitously and admirably corrected by the slight decline in the floor of the aisle. With this equipment they extemporized a delectable game, which they played for an hour under great handicaps and at continuous and imminent risk of awful catastrophe, in happy unconcern of the sonorous words about the destiny of nations that rolled above their little heads.

"DAWDLERS" NOT LONG LIVED

Prominent British Manufacturer Points Out That Active Man of Business Reaches Old Age.

Lord Leverhulme, one of Great Britain's largest manufacturers, asserts that more people shorten their lives by dawdling in England than by bustling. He is a living proof that bustling promotes hale old age. He has always led the strenuous life, and at 70 is still going strong.

He presided at the annual meeting of the British Industrial Safety First association the other day. In his address he drew largely upon his American experience. Steps had been taken there, he said, to ascertain whether it was the bustling, bustling business man who was supposed to shorten his days, or the man who crawled and dawdled through life.

He declared there were men in the United States today of 80, 90 and between 90 and 100 years of age who were still in good health and actively engaged in business, whereas men who had retired early from business had shortened their lives thereby.

He thought the crawl of the dawdler was largely instrumental in shortening the lives of individuals in Great Britain—that the more a man worked, whether professionally or in other vocations, the more he would conserve his life and strength and the life and commerce of the country.

Embarrassing, Indeed!

Economizing might be all right, but first know your location! I went into a two-priced millinery store and after trying on several hats and not caring particularly for any, realized that it was next to impossible to get away without a purchase. Finally I said I had no money, but selected a hat for them to put away for me, and promised I would surely return for it the next evening. I breathed relief when I made my exit, and passing a store a few doors away, entered upon seeing a hat much to my taste, and after trying it on decided I really would buy it. As I was about to take the money from my purse, to my surprise the manager of the first store (he owned both, I later learned), entered, and seeing me, cynically smiled and said: "Don't waste your time on this customer—she's only sightseeing and has no intention of buying." My embarrassment, together with anger, was the limit, and I arose in a rage and left the store.—Chicago American.

Lost "Victory" Recovered.

Dust-covered and forgotten, two big packing cases have been reposing in the yard of federal parliament house. They had been received twelve months ago from London, and had been "dumped" with other stores in an out-of-the-way place. Recently one of the cases was opened and was found to contain a female figure in bronze with a helmet on her head. This was intended to represent Victory and was designed to commemorate the heroism of Australian soldiers. The statue was a gift of the commonwealth by Bertram Mackennal, the Australian sculptor. The smaller case contained the base of the statue. The unfortunate oversight has been rectified and Australia's thanks have been sent to Mr. Mackennal.

Engineering Triumph.

A daring engineering feat was performed in Pittsburgh recently when a nine-story modern building, filled with hardware, was moved a distance of 75 feet by 12 laborers. Ninety-pound rails, 120 of them, made the tracks on which the structure was moved. The sidewalks and basement of the building, including a big engine and boiler, that continued to function, went along with the building. Customers passed to and from the building as though nothing was happening.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

What would Christmas be without children? What would the children be without Christmas? What would the world be without Christmas? Of all the festivals Christmas is at the same time the most human and the most divine. The grown-ups engrossed in "shoes and ships and sealing wax," of which Lewis Carroll sang, too often look upon Christmas as a humbug and a nuisance, until touched by the love of a little child they are brought back not to earth, but to heaven. It is easy to be Scrooges, much easier than not, when there are no children around to keep one in tune. But just let the little child get entangled about the heart strings, and away with the humbugs, away with the nuisance, Christmas becomes the one great end and object of life, that is, making Christmas for it does. And after all the hurry and scurry of secret preparations and surprises is there any greater reward than just to catch the radiant beam in that child's eyes? Is there any radiance to be compared with it? The memory of it carries one along for weeks to come. Must not the world be the better for the sum of all the radiant beams from the children's eyes the world over, thus lifting the human a bit nearer the divine? And so it is well that Christmas comes to crown the year, ere it close, and inspire us to make the coming year better than the last.

Local Announcements

Owing to the holiday the Auburn Review Club will hold its regular meeting on Thursday, December 29, instead of Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. W. H. Blood, 31 Woodbine street, when "Some Island Possessions of Great Britain" will be the topic.

"Guest Night" will be observed by the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Thursday evening, December 29th, at Players' Small Hall. The president will receive, assisted by the officers of the club. The program for the evening will consist of a "Cafe Chantant," and an entertainment of a high order is promised, which will include readings, vocal numbers by a male quartet. An orchestra will furnish music during the evening, and also for dancing, which will follow the entertainment. The affair is being arranged by Mrs. John R. McLean.

January 3rd, will be Guest Day for the Auburn Review Club, when a Minstrel Show will be given in the Methodist parish house, under the direction of Mrs. Lowell D. MacNutt. The following-named persons will comprise the cast: Miss Mary Benger, Mrs. W. K. Corey; Mrs. Charles E. Sweet, Mrs. John B. Shaw, Mrs. H. H. Longfellow, Miss Natalie Longfellow, Mrs. Lyman Gore, Mrs. Arthur Lane, Mrs. H. L. Goodman, Mrs. Charles R. Hendrie, Mrs. J. G. Patterson, Mrs. Raymond E. Perkins, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, Miss Alice Hennessy, Mrs. W. A. Stiles, Mrs. Robert P. Gilman, Jr., Mrs. Harold Grout, Miss Barbara Smith, Miss Muriel Duffus, Mrs. William J. Champion.

Specialties—Miss Ruth Allen, Miss Helene Champlain, Miss Thelma Hersey.

Tickets may be secured at the Auburn Review Club House on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, December 27th and 28th, from 2-5 o'clock. After that, from Mrs. Herbert Farrier, 35 Rowe street.

Clara Sexton Crowley, soprano, a club member, will be the soloist at the Guest Night of the Newton Community Club, January 13, when Baron Scerius A. Korff will be the speaker. Members are reminded that guest tickets should be secured from the treasurer not later than January 5th.

Local Happenings

At the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday afternoon Miss Phyllis Cotton rendered several piano selections. Dr. John C. Bowker gave a very interesting lecture, illustrated by lantern slides, on "Many Encounters, a Study of Humanities." Tea was served.

The Yuletide Festivities attracted a large number of the members of the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls, considering that the streets are still unlighted. Games were enjoyed, and Miss Madeleine Cobb, chairman of the committee in charge, read "The Night before Christmas," which was cleverly illustrated with shadow pictures. Refreshments were served, after which the company sang Christmas carols, and gifts were distributed.

State Federation

Club presidents and delegates on Thursday morning, December 15, filled every available space in the large dining room at Hotel Vendome for the business meeting adjourned from the Worcester convention of November 29th, showing the great interest and loyalty of club representatives in everything pertaining to Federation activities.

In the opening of the meeting Mrs. George Minot Baker told of the sending of a basket of flowers from the Federation to Mrs. Judith W. Smith upon the occasion of her 100th birthday, and read a note of acknowledgment written in bold, strong hand, by Mrs. Smith on December 2nd, in which she asked that Mrs. Baker extend for her to the many clubs who had remembered her birthday her grateful appreciation. It was a solemn and yet beautiful moment—for that very afternoon Mrs. Smith was to be laid in her last resting place, when the gathering rose and stood in silent tribute to the remarkable life.

Mrs. Baker, as the Massachusetts representative upon the executive board of the General Federation, told of matters which had transpired during the past few months, and especially of the plan to purchase the Czechoslovak embassy in Washington as a national headquarters for the Federation. The delegates voted to approve the plan and promised such financial help as was possible, many pledges being made from individual clubs.

May 23, 24, and 25, were announced as the dates of the annual meeting at New Bedford.

The following resolutions were passed by the meeting:

Resolved, that the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs adopt as its state song "America, the Beautiful," sung to the tune of "Materena."

Whereas, it is impossible to estimate the number of persons alive today who owe their existence to the application of methods preventive or remedial, made possible through scientific experimentation on animals.

Be it resolved, that the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, assembled in Boston, Dec. 15, 1921, in gratitude to medical science for past discoveries, beneficial both to humanity and to animals, go on record as favoring the continuance of medical research through animal experimentation.

Resolved, that each club president, or her delegate, write to her senator or representative at Washington to use his influence to defeat the Barbour bill, H. R. 7452, or to so amend it that the new park to be known as the Roosevelt Sequoia National Park have the same protection as the other national parks in regard to the water power acts.

Whereas, the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, realizing the unfortunate condition of the Austrian republic, believes that she should not be allowed to die.

Be it resolved, that we feel that the United States of America should find some way of lightening the burden of debt which Austria owes the United States, until she is again on her feet and her industrial life is in motion, and we hope that this may be taken up at an economic conference for adjustment.

Whereas, the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs stands for all work that is educational, sociological and humanitarian, and, whereas, the statue, "The Pilgrim Mother," personifies and fully represents these ideals, and, whereas, by its purchase and erection, it shall forever impress these principles upon those who come within its scope, be it resolved, that the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs contribute from its treasury $100 for this memorial.

NEW PARISH HOUSE, ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

A NEW PARISH HOUSE IN NEWTONVILLE

A service of dedication was held last Sunday, December 18th, in the new Parish House of St. John's Church, Newtonville. After Morning Service, the choir, singing "The Church's One Foundation," proceeded from the church into the Parish House. The congregation followed on behind.

The service of dedication, which was brief but impressive, marked the culmination of much hope and effort. It was preceded the evening before by a house-warming when the parish turned out in force to inspect the new building. Happiness and satisfaction were the prevailing notes. Refreshments were served, Mrs. Horace Z. Landon, contributed a group of songs, and the Sunday School Orchestra played at intervals during the evening.

The Parish House is connected with the church by a cloister. On the first floor is an Assembly Hall with a stage and dressing rooms. The seating capacity of the hall is two hundred. Downstairs a well-equipped kitchen is a feature together with a work room for the Guild of the parish. There is also a Supper Room large enough for most occasions.

Beautifully architecturally, the Parish House is in keeping with the church. The design is by Mr. Hubert G. Ripley, of the firm of Ripley and LeBoutillier, Boston. The cost was approximately $40,000.

St. John's is now as adequately equipped for the work of an up-to-date parish as the surrounding churches and is to be congratulated on the bright prospects ahead.

DEFENDS SECRETARY WEEKS

Congressman Robert Luce of this Congressional District made the following speech in the House at Washington on December 10th, which will undoubtedly interest Mr. Weeks' many friends in this city.

Mr. Luce said: "Mr. Chairman, yesterday the gentleman from Kansas [Mr. Fincher] discussed some remarks made by a constituent of mine, one of my predecessors in this House, a member of the Cabinet, the Hon. John W. Weeks."

Massachusetts is proud of her daughter State Kansas. She rejoices when Kansas sends here such virile and robust men as the gentleman who addressed you yesterday. [Laughter.] We are delighted to observe that Kansas takes pride in the title of the Sunflower State, and we are pleased when its Representative so accurately corresponds to the nature of its emblem [Laughter.] The sunflower is an upstanding plant, glorious in its beauty and effulgent in its radiance; but I must not carry the parallel further for we all recognize that at the end of the season it produces nothing of practical importance, its only fruit being a large circle of useless seeds [Laughter.] Nor would I continue the parallel by recalling that when a Kansas zephyr blows the point of off the houses, the petals of that flower, waving in the air, seem to menace those within its view. [Laughter.] Rather would I, speaking more seriously, acknowledge the usefulness to this body and to this country of the services of the gentleman from Kansas, which increases all the more my sorrow that he should have seen fit to forget for a rare and exceptional moment the canons of good taste and good judgment in attacking on this floor a man who cannot come here to reply."

The imputation that John W. Weeks, in his views on the attitude of Congress or its action, was moved one iota by its course in regard to appropriations for his own department should and will be resented, not alone by the citizens of Massachusetts but by all who remember his services on this floor and in the Senate, who remember him as one of the ablest men we ever sent here—a man of calmness, a man of prudence, a man of wise judgment, who contributed greatly to the work of this Government during the years that he was here."

The gentleman from Kansas [Mr. Fincher] yesterday expressed the desire that members of the Cabinet might learn by heart the message of the President delivered last Tuesday. Borrowing the suggestion, I have tried to commit to memory one sentence of the President, where he declared—

"There is vastly greater security, immensely more of the national viewpoint, much larger and prompter accomplishment where our divisions are along party lines, in the broader and loftier sense, than to divide geographically, or according to pursuits or personal following."

It was but two days after this that his Secretary of War saw fit to elaborate the same idea when addressing a gathering in New York. When the gentleman from Kansas intimates that there is some disloyalty to the Republican Party, he intimates there is disloyalty to a self-evident truth, acknowledged and recognized by all thinking citizens, irrespective of party. In the course of his remarks, to illustrate his view, my friend from Kansas saw fit to reprimand the Members from Massachusetts and the rest of New England for voting in favor of free hides, and he went forth to the country a misstatement which I greatly regret should be spread upon the record, because he averred that in the matter in question New England Republicans, combining with the southern Democrats, overthrew the will of the Republican majority. What are the figures? The facts are that upon this question 29 Republicans from New England voted as he says, and 108 Republicans from outside New England. Among the strong speeches in favor of free hides, perhaps the strongest was by the gentleman from Oregon [Mr. Hawley]. There might be placed next one from the lady from Oklahoma [Miss Robertson], and, third, one from the gentleman from Ohio [Mr. Burton], who after serving in the House served also in the Senate. Were these three, and were their associates from beyond the ghettos, in the combination of which he speaks? There is no New England bloc, there is no eastern bloc, and I trust there never may be, because I trust we may follow the advice of our President in eschewing these combinations so dangerous to liberty."

We approach the next campaign under sorry circumstances. [Applause on the Democratic side.] We are to be held responsible for acts in large measure perpetrated by the gentleman who just now started faint applause on the Democratic side—faint in guilty consciousness of their own share in the result; and yet it is impossible for us to make the people understand where the votes came from."

I have in my hand a page from the current number of the Outlook, a temperate journal which discusses public affairs chiefly from the Republican point of view, but always with caution and due wisdom. The editorial hereon says in the second paragraph:

"A chorus of disapproval of the special session's work has gone up all over the country."

That is absolutely true. The editorial then names 10 bills for which this special session was responsible. "For five of them I believe it capable of demonstration that the responsibility really rests with the sectional and class combination that has saddled the Republican Party with this burden. We approach the election unable to explain that this thing was done against the remonstrance of many Republican leaders, unable to explain that again and again we have lacked the votes with which to overcome the attitude of this group of sectional Representatives."

It chances that in the same home paper in which I find a full report of the speech of the Secretary I find another address by a Massachusetts man speaking to a manufacturers' association, in which he says of one of the enactments of this group of sectionalists:

"This law is one of the achievements of the so-called agricultural bloc, before which our whole Government machinery now prostrates itself. This effort to substitute sectional government for party government will overreach itself, as every previous effort has."

Mr. Chairman, when the President of the United States, speaking in behalf of the time-honored system of party government, begs us to remember how much vaster the security, how much larger and prompter the accomplishment, where we proceed along time-honored lines, and when those associated with him in administration see fit to spread his views, is it due and proper and meet for a member of his party to rise here and not only assail the arguments but also impugn the motives of the men who we believe will nevertheless lead us safely through the storm?"

CHRISTMAS BANKBOOKS FOR CHILDREN

With the children making up long lists for Santa Claus, many mothers have a hard time deciding just now whether Johnny should have a hobby horse, or his sister the big doll she insists upon. In the end both of them probably will get what they want, but it also might be well to start the youngsters saving for other things they are going to want in the future. The savings bankers are trying to help with this problem by encouraging mothers to give the children savings accounts. A bankbook with a couple of dollars deposited should give any boy or girl the wish to add another dollar, and then another, until the whole book is filled with dollars. This is the practical kind of gift which helps to build character and teaches the children that they must think a little bit for themselves.

The habits formed in childhood last through life, and thrift cannot be taught too early. Many famous men have attributed their success in life to the lessons learned from their mothers.

The savings account opened this Christmas for the budding son or daughter might very well be the first step towards their independence. The savings banks in Newton are issuing passbooks in any name, which can be put in Christmas stockings with the feeling that this present at least will not soon wear out or be thrown away.

WILL SING CHRISTMAS CAROLS

The Highland Glee Club, Inc., will sing Christmas Carols on Sunday morning, Dec. 25th, leaving Newton Highlands at 5 A. M., proceeding to Newton Centre, Chestnut Hill, Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, thence to the Newton Hospital and finishing their trip in Waban.

The Club is to have the services of four trumpeters from the Charlestown Navy Yard. This feature adds much to the effect of this happy Christmas custom, the clear notes of the trumpet sounding more beautiful than rings in the quiet, dark hours of the early morning.

While in the Chestnut Hill section the Club will be the guests for a few moments of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Underhill of Monadnock road where coffee and doughnuts will be served. The Club has been thus entertained for several years and it is much appreciated by the men.

MR. KEATING BURIED

The esteem and affection in which the late George W. Keating was held in this community was strikingly manifested on Sunday afternoon by the number of people who more than filled the Elks lodge room at the funeral services. There was a wealth of beautiful flowers from the organizations of which Mr. Keating had been a member as well as from many friends.

There were two services, the first being that of the Order of Elks, the dignified and impressive ritual being in charge of Exalted Ruler George P. Flood and officers of Newton Lodge. This was followed by the Episcopal service at which Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure of Grace Church officiated. A male quartet sang several selections in a beautiful manner. The pall bearers represented the Newton Lodge of Elks and Mr. Keating's Associates in the Newton Post Office. They were Messrs. Chas. S. Ensign, Burt M. Rich, William Hopkins, Richard M. Lyons, Thomas L. Rodden, George King, James T. Burns, and Michael B. Collins. The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

AUBURN BOY GETS FINE POSITION

Another Auburn boy has scored a big success. He is F. H. Turgeon, who has recently been elected manager of the Somerset Creamery Farms, of Boston. Mr. Turgeon is a brother of George V. Turgeon, the well-known jeweler of Lisbon street; A. E. Turgeon, Shepley street, Auburn, and Charles L. Turgeon of Gamage avenue the same city.

The corporation of which Mr. Turgeon is now manager has creameries in Harmony, Solon, and Norridgewock, Maine. At the recent Dairy Association meeting in Bangor these creameries made nearly a clean sweep of prizes, as they won first, second, and fourth. This was certainly a fine showing and largely due to the energy and ability of Manager Turgeon. The Brookline Chronicle, of Massachusetts, in speaking of this, says:

"Once again the Solon Creamery Co., from which is derived the supply of the Somerset Farms cream, have been awarded first prize by the Dairymen's Association at their convention in Bangor. Not only was first prize awarded to the plant at Harmony, Me., but in addition the Solon creamery was awarded second prize and the creamery at Norridgewock was awarded a fourth prize, making almost a straight sweep."

"This award is much coveted by all dairymen and each year the Somerset Farms have figured as a successful contender. Mr. F. H. Turgeon, the manager of this large industry, is well known in Brookline, and is receiving hearty congratulations from his many business associates, customers, and friends. His efforts to produce the "best" at the market price have resulted in the most modern method of doing business and his Boston distributing plant also figures in the 100 per cent class for cleanliness."

All this will be pleasant reading for the many friends of Mr. Turgeon in these cities, where he is so well known. The cream from these Maine plants is sold in Boston and all the surrounding towns. The Newton Graphic has this to say of Mr. Turgeon and his success:

"We are pleased to announce that the Somerset Farms Creamery of Boston won the first, second, and fourth prizes at the Dairymen's Meeting at Bangor, Me. We wish to extend our congratulations to Mr. Turgeon. The Graphic feels it has a special interest in this as it was through our efforts that the Somerset Farms Creamery Co. was induced to make delivery of its wonderful cream in the Newtons." Whenever Boston has a need of anything that ranks as the best, it comes to Maine! The Journal also extends its congratulation to Mr. Turgeon and the Somerset County creameries.

CAPTURED IN NEWTON

Harry Berwin, who made a sensational escape from the State Prison at Charlestown last Friday morning was captured in Newton Centre late that afternoon. Miss Josephine Ireland, who resides on Ward street, noticed the strange actions of a man who broke into the empty house of L. O. Crane on Eastbourne road, after walking up and down by the house several times. She immediately telephoned the police and they found the man just breaking down the door from the cellar to the kitchen. He was taken to police headquarters and admitted that he was Berwin and was subsequently returned to the State prison.

Alfred Bartlett's Christmas Cards are now sold by him at 248 Boylston St., Boston.—Advertisement.

NEW YEAR DANCE

The Mothers' Rest Association will have its annual New Year's Dance on December 31, 1921, in Bray Hall, Newton Centre.

The Finance Committee, which is in charge of the affair, consists of: Mrs. Harry Bradford, Mrs. Charles Wing, Mrs. Gardner Walworth, Mrs. S. L. Nagel, Mrs. George Holmes, Mrs. Robert Muther, Mrs. William Rand, Mrs. G. Osgood, Mrs. Lewis Spear, Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mrs. Charles Wilbur, Mrs. Edmund Hills, Mrs. F. H. Baird, Mrs. Oram Fulton, Mrs. Dwight Brigham, Mrs. James Ritchie, Miss Frances Stevens.

The matrons will be: Mrs. Alfred Alvord, Mrs. Adams Cladin, Mrs. William Rice, Mrs. G. C. Osgood, Mrs. Harry Bradford, Mrs. Morgan Cooley, Mrs. Calvin Smith, and Mrs. Warner R. Holt.

DEATH OF MRS. JONES

Mrs. Martha M. Jones, widow of the late William H. Jones of Gorham, Maine, passed away Friday morning at the Newton Hospital after a short illness. She left one son, A. Marshall Jones of Chestnut Hill and a sister, Mrs. Edward A. Hooper, of Hollis street, Newton, where she had gone to spend the winter.

Dana Bates of Brookline, a former book publisher, now deceased, was her only brother. She belonged to one of the oldest families in Maine, her ancestors being the McLellan family. Her gentle nature endeared her to all who knew her. Funeral services were held at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, at 4 o'clock Sunday the Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, officiating.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lauren Conger of Galesburg, Illinois, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to William Vaughn Moody Fawcett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick John Fawcett, of Newton.

Miss Conger is a graduate of the Baldwin School, Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, and is a member of the class of 1924 at Wellesley. She is Secretary of the Barnswallows Dramatic Association and an editor of the Wellesley College News.

Mr. Fawcett is a graduate of Harvard University in the Class of 1921, and is a member of the Institute of 1770 and D. K. E. Speakers Club, and the Pi Eta Society. During the War he served in the Infantry at Camp Lee, Virginia, where he received the Commission of Second Lieutenant.

THE BURDEN OF TAXES

Before the war the government of the United States spent about one billion dollars a year for all purposes, including interest on the public debt. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, the first full fiscal year after fighting stopped, the government spent in round figures six billion four hundred million dollars. In the fiscal year 1921, that is, up to June 30, 1921, it spent $5,115,927,689.30, and in the fiscal year 1922, which will end on June 30, 1922, it will spend more than four billion dollars, says Secretary Mellon of the Treasury Department.

These figures include interest on the public debt which amounts to about one billion dollars, but include nothing for sinking fund or other debt redemption. Including both interest and sinking fund, the government will spend more than four times as much, the fiscal year 1922 as it spent yearly before the war.

These expenditures and these heavy charges are a part of the price of victory. Your whole present problem is to curtail them. It concerns you to know just how these immense sums were gathered and how much you paid and are paying toward them, for of course we, the tax payers, the men and women with jobs, the men and women who have what the census calls gainful occupations, paid every cent of it. It was our money until the government took it.

Let us examine the fiscal year 1920. I have not the detailed account for 1921, but it was slightly less than the year previous, as the year ending June 30, 1922, will be a slightly less burden on us than the year preceding. According to a careful analysis made by the late Dr. E. B. Rosa, of the United States Bureau of standards, a government scientist who was deeply and intelligently interested in the subject, every man, woman and child in this country contributes an average of fifty-three dollars in taxes to the support of the national government. Actually it is nearer fifty-four than fifty-three dollars, but I am taking the smaller sum for the sake of the round number. That is, the average family of five persons pays $265 a year out of its earnings to the federal government alone, in addition to what is paid for state, county and city taxes.

The estimated average yearly income of a family of five is something more than $700. But before any of that $700 is spent $265 must be turned over to the general government to run the business of the United States. The actual amount that each one of us paid was $53.77. We paid it through the medium of internal revenue taxes and customs duties on imported articles divided as follows:

	Per Capita
Income and excess profit.....	$37.20
Cigars and tobacco.....	2.77
Transportation and other utilities.....	2.72
Automobiles, candy, furs, jewelry, etc.....	2.52
Beverages.....	1.86
Special taxes on capital stock, etc.....	.99
Estate inheritance.....	.97
Stamps on legal papers, etc.....	.79
Admissions to amusements, etc.....	.77
Insurance and miscellaneous.....	.23
Total.....	$53.77

The taxpayer is next of kin to the treasury. At any rate he is the first person notified when the treasury needs money, and he always has to dig down into his jeans for whatever is needed. Taxpaying, even more than charity, begins at home. The boy's best friend is his mother, but the taxpayer's only friend is himself. The only thing that can be done for him is to disclose as vividly as possible how much his government is costing and let him decide what he will do about it. It all comes down to this: The more money the government spends through defective organization or extravagance, the less you have to spend or save.

So much for the cost of the national business we support. We are all minority stockholders. The concern has no other source of revenue than our contributions. It doesn't make any money. In times like these, when almost everybody feels that he gets too little for what he sells and has to pay too much for what he buys, it seems to me the least we can do is to take an active and intelligent interest in this great common enterprise of ours and make sure that it is well organized; that it doesn't waste or spend extravagantly; that the employees are paid an adequate wage and have proper working conditions; that their morale is kept high and their enthusiasm in our interest unabated; in fine, that as a business it shall be conducted as efficiently and economically and on as modern scientific principles as any large private business.

Is it? That is a question you must answer for yourself after I have acquainted you with the actual situation and condition.

DEATH OF MRS. SYLVESTER

Mrs. Eliza Frances (Rowe) Sylvester, the widow of Captain Isaac A. Sylvester, who was a widely known seafarer, died last week Thursday in her eighty-second year, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. L. Stevens, of Trinity terrace, in Newton Centre. She was born on Jan. 10, 1839, in Palermo, Me., of old New England stock, the daughter of Rufus Rowe and his wife Sally (Marden) Rowe, the former an officer of cavalry in the War of 1812 and who later was one of two personal escorts assigned to Lafayette for his trip across the State of Maine at the time of his second visit to the United States.

Mrs. Sylvester's husband was one of the youngest captains of his time, sailing from the coast of Maine, and she made numerous voyages all over the world with him. During the Civil War, Captain and Mrs. Sylvester made several hazardous trips from New England ports to New Orleans, meeting with many exciting experiences. Following many years of residence in Palermo, Mrs. Sylvester later lived in Quincy, and for the past forty-three years had made her home in Newton Centre.

Even at the age of seventy-two years, Mrs. Sylvester accompanied her daughters upon an extended trip abroad, at which time she renewed memories and acquaintances of her previous visits. During the Great War, in company with others who gathered at the Trinity Church parish house in Newton Centre, she constantly knitted and sewed garments for the soldiers, and was later decorated by the French Government in appreciation of her work for the French wounded.

Surviving Mrs. Sylvester besides her daughter, Mrs. Stevens, are three other daughters, Miss Amanada F. Sylvester of Newton Highlands; Mrs. Mary T. (Sylvester) Spinnay, who is connected with the Bennett School for Girls at Millbrook, N. Y., and Miss Alice H. Sylvester of Newton Centre. Services were held at Trinity terrace on Sunday, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan officiating and the burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

WRESTLED FOR BIG STAKES

Bloodless Combat Between Sons of Mikado, With the Throne as Prize for the Victor.

The sporting Japanese gentleman knows all the fine points about wrestling. His enthusiasms on this subject are informed enthusiasms, and he inherits them from a long line of ancestors, says Julian Street in McClure's. When the Greeks and Romans wrestled, the Japanese were wrestling too. In the Ninth century the Japanese throne was wrestled for. A mikado died and left two sons, and these, instead of going to war with each other, left their claims to be settled by a wrestling match.

The sport is, furthermore, associated in a manner more or less diaphanous with Shintoism. Certain Shinto traditions are connected with it, and the matches used to be held on the grounds of Shinto temples.

The attitude of the sporting Japanese gentleman toward wrestlers resembles that of the sporting American or Englishman toward pugilists and jockeys. It is chic to know them, but not to equal them. One is very genial with them and at the same time a little patronizing, whereas they are expected to assume a slightly deferential manner. Perhaps the attitude of the Japanese sporting gentleman toward his favorite wrestlers is rather more like that of the Spanish sporting gentleman toward bullfighters, for in both countries it is customary for the wealthy patron to give expensive presents to the hero. But whereas in Spain handsome jewelry is sometimes thrown to the bull-fighters in the ring, it is the custom in Japan for the fan to throw his hat, coat, pocketbook, cigarette case or what not to the popular idol, who later sends the trophy back to the owner, receiving in exchange a valuable gift—frequently a gift of money.

WHEN FIRE SWEEPS PRAIRIE

Man and Beast Suffer Alike Under Blistering Heat, and the Prayer for Rain Goes Up.

Hot sunlight, winds as hot, as shimmering heat which distorted objects at a distance and made the skyline a dazzling, wavering ribbon of faded blue; and then the dull haze of smoke which hung over the land, and, without tempering the heat, turned the sun into a huge coppery balloon which drifted imperceptibly from the east to the west, and at evening time settled softly down upon a parched hilltop and disappeared, leaving behind it an ominous red glow as of hidden fires. B. M. Bower writes in "Lonesome Land."

When the wind blew, the touch of it seared the face, as the smoke tang assailed the nostrils. All the world was a weird, unnatural tint, hard to name, never to be forgotten. The far horizon drew steadily closer as the days passed slowly and thickened the veil of smoke. The distant mountain drew daily back into dimmer distance; became an obscure, formless blot against the sky and vanished completely. The horizon crouched then upon the bluffs across the river, moved up to the line of trees along its banks, blotted them out one day and impudently established itself halfway up the coulee.

Time ceased to be measured accurately; events moved slowly in an unreal world of sultry heat and smoke and a red sun wading heavily through the copper-brown sky from the east to the west, and a moon as red which followed meekly after.

Men rode uneasily here and there, and when they met they talked of prairie fires and fire guards and the direction of the wind, and of the faint prospect of rain. Cattle, driven from their accustomed feeding grounds, wandered aimlessly over the still-unburned range and lowed often in the night as they drifted before the flame-heated wind.

MAGNITUDE OF BILLIONS

I have been throwing the incredible figures at your head. Neither you nor anybody else has the faintest conception of what one billion dollars really is. We speak familiarly of billions as a commonplace, but most of us live our lives in terms of hundreds.

I have shown you that every one of us, man, woman and child, in this country, paid last year $33.77 each toward the support of the government. Of course, every person does not pay exactly $33.77. A great many pay more and some pay less; but those who pay the most try to take it out of those who pay the least by increasing the prices of what they have to sell, or of services rendered or work performed, so that it averages out at $33.77. Some pay more than their share, others pay less. This is called an incident of taxation. The whole point is that we all pay; that we pay now more than we ever paid before; and there is no present prospect of our paying less for some years.

In this way we have all paid our share in the World war. The net cost of that enterprise to date has been $24,100,000,000, or, including our loans to foreign governments, which have not been repaid, $33,455,000,000. These are official treasury figures. Do not let your eyes run over them lightly. Thirty-three billion four hundred and fifty-five million dollars is an almost incomprehensible sum. The cost of running the national government is now around $5,000,000,000 a year. The experts say that for the next two or three years the cost of the government will not descend below about $4,000,000,000 a year.

I want you clearly to understand the immensity, the magnitude, the overwhelming size of such sums. We chatter about billions nowadays without in the least knowing what is a billion. Let me try to bring it home to you. It is now,

MISTRESS OF HIGH FINANCE

One Feels That Indianapolis Woman's Abilities Are Almost Wasted in 'he Home.

Some wives are real business women and their husbands are the only ones who do not know it. But Indianapolis holds one who recently proved her business ability to her husband. Now, she had, ever since their marriage, charged things and he had paid the bills, but when he learned that her charges were growing weekly he decided to try a new plan. He went to her, "Now, Ellen," he said, "I'm going to try a new plan. Half of my salary is yours and half mine. We'll each spend just what is necessary and see which can have the most money in the bank at the end of the year."

Delightedly the wife agreed. At the end of the first month she announced her bank balance and her husband was delighted at its size. The next month it was still larger and he was more delighted. But when the third month brought the statement that she had saved more than her half of the money his pleasure knew no bounds. Half fearfully he went after his own statement. What would he do if her bank account now was higher than his—the man who prided himself on his economy?

Then he found that he had no balance. First horror, then amazement and then something indescribable followed his discovery for that condition of affairs existing. His wife had diligently drawn out his savings (they had a double checking account) and applied them to the next month's expenses and saved her own share.—Indianapolis News.

3EATS MARY'S FAMOUS LAMB

Woolly Lawn Mower Proved of Practical Value to Cincinnati Man During Hot Spell.

Louis Goecke, better known as "Pat" an amateur circles, was mowing the grass on the lawn of his home in Cincinnati recently. In the course of the work he was cutting alongside a hedge with a pair of clippers. "Ba-a-a," came from the other side of the hedge. Goecke looked up. A neighbor was sitting on the porch reading. Goecke resumed his clipping. "Ba-a-a!" sounded again. Goecke straightened up and shot fierce glances at his neighbor. But the latter's face was concealed back of the newspaper. The clipping proceeded, and then again came "Ba-a-a!" Finally Goecke threw down his clippers, stepped to the neighbor's porch, and said: "Are you guying me?" The other looked up with surprise. "Guying you? Why, no! What makes you think so?" "Well, stop that 'ba-ing!'" Goecke said.

"Oh, that's it. I'll show you what that is," and the neighbor went back among the bushes and pulled out a lamb. "I bought it yesterday," he explained.

Immediately Goecke was seized with an idea. "Lend it to me, will you?" he asked. The neighbor was obliging. The lamb finished the grass cutting job, and Goecke enjoyed the cool and quiet of a shady nook on his porch.

The regular business of the meeting, including reports of department superintendents, showed that much work is being done for the soldiers, sailors and lumbermen. A very touching tribute was paid to the late Mrs. H. K. Burrisson, who for many years was a member of this union. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Jeannette H. Mann of Boston, who was most enthusiastic in her talk on enforcing the eighteenth amendment and citizenship.

Many members of this union are going to help the Boston Flower Mission in their Christmas work for the blind, sick and shut-ins.

A social hour followed the business part of the meeting and a most profitable evening was spent by all who were present. Six new members were received.

Mrs. B. E. Hoar and Mrs. Melvin were hostesses.

Plans have been completed for a New Year's Party at the State Armory, West Newton, on Saturday, December 31st, under the joint auspices of the Veterans of Company C and Company H, 101st Infantry. A committee comprising members of the two organizations is now arranging some novelties for the occasion. The proceeds of the affair are to be devoted to financing the ceremonies connected with receiving the bodies of Company C men who were killed in action during the war. Dancing will be from eight to twelve.

—The Christmas Carol under the leadership of Miss Leonard, which were sung by the young people of the Methodist Church last Sunday evening were much enjoyed not only by those taking part but by all who attended the service. The young people were dressed in white and carried lighted candles, the effect of which was very beautiful.

—The Christmas parties of the Eliot Church School were held as follows: On Thursday 2:30-4:30 Kindergarten and Primary Department; Thursday 7:30-9:30 Young People's Division; this evening 7-9 P.M. the Junior Department will have a party at which the Juniors of the North Village Church are to be the guests. Christmas Eve there will be carolling by the members of the Young People's Division.

—The First Christmas will be presented in the Eliot Church on Christmas Sunday afternoon. The pageant is to be given in connection with the entire congregation with the Church School in the main auditorium of the church promptly at 4:30. All parents and friends are invited and teachers are requested to sit with their classes in the section reserved for the school. The pageant proper is in three parts with a short introduction as follows: The Promise of the Future, Part I.—The Shepherds on the Star-Lit Hill. Part II.—The Magi in King Herod's Throne Room. Part III.—Adoration in the Manger Stable. The pupils of the school will be assisted by members of the Eliot Church choir. The cast includes: Mrs. Alden H. ### INCOME ENGINEERING

With the advent of a New Year, the importance of a household budget system becomes more pressing than at other times, and we take pleasure in presenting to our readers the following article written by Mr. Earl G. Manning of Newton Highlands, a recognized expert on household budgets. The National Government at Washington for the first time in its history has adopted a budget system. Briefly, this means that before any money is expended for the various branches and departments of the Government each departmental head must send in his estimate of what he thinks is necessary for the running of his department for the year.

For the first time in history the

PI ETA SHOW

That "Don't Mind If I Do," the musical comedy which is being given at Players' Hall on Monday evening, January 2, by the Pi Eta Society of Harvard, is one of the best in the series of productions of the club, many of which have been given in this city, was indicated by the reception given it at its first performance in Cambridge before the holidays.

Clark Macomber, '22, of Newtonville, has one of the leading parts in the show. As Mr. Piper, a millionaire plumber from Berlin, Kansas, sojourning in Switzerland, he provides much of the comedy in the show. One of the specialty acts which made a hit at the first performance was the dance.

READ FUND LECTURES

The trustees of the Read Fund, Messrs. J. B. Jamieson, Grosvenor Calkins and Arthur W. Hollis have arranged an excellent course of free public lectures for the coming season. They will be given in the Hunnewell Club assembly hall.

The course includes a lecture by Dr. Loring Underwood on "Historic Gardens of New England," fully illustrated by colored slides and will be a companion to the lecture given last year by Dr. Underwood on the Arnold Arboretum. This lecture comes on Monday, January 9th.

Le Roy Jeffers, the well known mountaineer will give a fully illustrated lecture on "Mountaineering in North America" on Monday, Jan. 23rd.

COACH DICKINSON HONORED

Large and Enthusiastic Gathering at Testimonial Banquet in Temple Hall

The football banquet and testimonial to Coach Allie Dickinson and his championship Newton High eleven was put over in glorious fashion last Friday evening at Temple Hall, Newtonville. It was a fitting tribute to a remarkable coach and to a remarkable football team, a tribute that neither coach or team will ever forget. Over 700 Newton sport enthusiasts crowded Temple Hall to pay tribute to the man who has been so successful, not only in turning out championship gridiron teams for the Orange and Black, but in moulding and forming the characters of all Newton boys who have been so fortunate as to come under his instruction.

Everything about the banquet made one feel that he was at a real football game. The hall was marked off with tables forming the ten yd. lines and at each end of the hall stood the goal posts decorated with the Orange and Black of Newton. Coach "Allie" Dickinson was captain of a team that numbered some crackjack "players," each of whom carried the "ball" ten yds. down the field. Samuel L. Powers, former congressman and a Dartmouth grad, refereed the game and Reggie Bankart acted as umpire.

Every player on this novel Dickinson team made good in much the same fashion as do the boys on a real Dickinson team.

HELP KEEP HOME LABOR BUSY

The money that you and your neighbor and your neighbor's neighbor place on deposit in this institution is put right back into circulation here at home.

It is loaned out to build homes, here. It goes to pay the carpenter, the stonemason, the plasterer, the plumber, the electrician and the painter. Isn't that a sound reason why you should put your savings in an institution like this, rather than in some channel that might take the money out of town?

No investment could be safer, nor is there any of equal security and convenience that offers so liberal a return 5½%, compounded quarterly.

If You Took an X-Ray of Your Pillows

Unless you've had your pillows thoroughly washed lately, you'd be a bit shocked by what an X-Ray would reveal.

Feathers have a particular affinity for dust particles. Dust and soil quickly penetrate the thick ticking and lodge inside—simply beating pillows won't clean them. Thorough washing is necessary.

We have a special way of washing pillows in their own ticks, with great quantities of pure, rainsoft water and mild, white soap. We have the proper facilities for rinsing them—another very important item. And then we dry them by tossing them gently in a soft breeze of warm, fresh air, until every feather is sweetly clean, dry and fluffy. The better the feathers the better our work.

It's most economical, too. Send us your pillows tomorrow, and you'll be delighted with our service. Phone, and our representative will call.

COACH DICKINSON HONORED

inson eleven. Before the start of the game, Referee Powers said that it was the duty of each player to gain his ten yds. by a nifty little talk. There were to be no long drawn out orations and penalties were to be inflicted on any player who "stalled" for time. Needless to say, every player made the distance, although Coach Charlie Linchman of Rindge was penalized 5 yds. for dropping the ball, a gold football that the Rindge coach presented to Allie Dickinson in behalf of the Suburban League coaches. But Charlie didn't mind the penalty in the least and only fought the harder to make the necessary 15 yds.

James R. "Buck" Chandler, president of the Dartmouth Club of Boston, got loose on a nice run and he had the audience in continual laughter while he carried the ball. Buck Chandler, together with Referee Powers and Umpire Bankart, seemed to have things pretty much their own way, for all three are Dartmouth men and for once player and officials worked well together. Coach Ed Robinson of Brown, Allie Dickinson's Alma Mater, did some nice line plunging at mid-field and remarked that Dickinson was causing the college coaches no end of worry for when a college coach has an off-season, the cry is "Let's go get Allie Dickinson of Newton to coach our team."

There was a Malden man playing on this Newton eleven, but unlike the Malden boys who stacked up against Newton in that battle royal of last November this Malden player did all he could to make Newton victorious. The Malden player was none other than Lt. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller and he certainly did some classy broken-field running. Then came our own Mayor Childs who gained his ten yds. in noble style and presented the gold football to the members of the 1921 champions. The cheering section gave the Mayor a great ovation as he pushed the ball to the ten yd. line. Then the great gathering stood as one man and cheered "Allie Dickinson" above the hall over for the touchdown. Right through the center of the line went the crack Newton coach and amid the wild outburst of approval from the cheering section, planted the ball behind the goal posts. The Victory had been achieved.

There were several other players who starred during the course of the game, including, Lehigh, Wilmington, captain of the Harvard football team of 1910; Allan Davidson, the Amherst football captain; Henry J. Nichols, Headmaster Palmer of Newton Tech, and last but certainly not least, Capt. Alfred "Jake" Stafford of the Newton High Champions.

Coach Dickinson received a purse of $1500 and a gold watch, the gifts of the citizens of Newton. The Football team gave him a pair of field glasses and the Suburban League coaches gave him a gold football watch fob as a token of their appreciation. "Shad" Osborne was given a fountain pen for showing the most proficiency in punting during the past season and Eddie O'Donnell got a similar gift for showing the greatest improvement last fall in drop kicking.

The Newton high school boys who received gold footballs in recognition of their efforts on the gridiron this season included: Capt. A. Stafford, Charles Blair, George Bowen, John Bowen, Edward Dewing, Allen Dunlop, Clement Estey, Herbert Garrity, Dwight Goddard, Philip Hardy, Gordon M. Jenkins, Clare Johnson, Julius Kohler, Sheldon Leith, Harold Leahy, Clarence McDavitt, James McQuinn, Shattuck Osborne, Edward O'Donnell, George Pierce, Charles Regan, Robert Savory, Robert Salinger, Cedric Valentin, Clark Weymouth and Manager G. Doane Arnold.

Because they showed the most improvement throughout the season in their various specialties, Shattuck Osborne, in punting, and Edward O'Donnell, in drop-kicking, received special awards, each a fountain pen.

At the head table were:

Leut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Coach Ed Robinson, Captain of the Harvard football team of 1910; Allan Davidson, James R. "Buck" Chandler, president Boston Dartmouth College Club; Capt. Allen Davidson of the Amherst football team of the past fall and ex-Newton High end, Coach Charles Linehan of Rindge Technical School, representing the Suburban League coaches; Henry (Hank) Garrity, an ex-Newton High athlete and member of the Princeton Varsity eleven for the last three years; Ex-Capt. Robert Garrity of the Newton High 1920 eleven, who was at Princeton Prep the past fall; H. R. Bankart, an ex-Dartmouth tackle; Irving O. Palmer, headmaster of the Newton Technical High School; Clement Coady of the Exeter eleven last fall; Joel Leete of Amherst eleven, also an ex-Newton player; "Burr" Seavey of the Dartmouth eleven, former center at Newton High, and Edgar Seavey, sub end on the Harvard Varsity eleven last fall.

How did the man of the hour take this wonderful ovation? Just as we expected he would; in that same modest, unassuming yet compelling manner that has made him so greatly beloved. The praise that was heaped upon him may have made him feel a trifle nervous, for at times it almost seemed as if Allie wished that he was out on Clafin Field getting his boys ready for one of the big games of the year. But like the man that he is, Coach Dickinson took all the praise in manly fashion and certainly that was the only way to take it, for what belongs to a person is his and his alone. Allie Dickinson has done more for the City of Newton than the citizens can ever hope to repay and it is recent testimonial has in some small way helped to show him how greatly he is appreciated by the people of Newton its purpose shall have been accomplished.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION

The recently elected officers of J. Wiley Edmonds Camp, Sons of Veterans, will be publicly installed at G. A. R. headquarters, Masonic Building, Newtonville, on Thursday evening, January 5th. Division Secretary Harry Weiler will be the installing officer.

Some Qualities That Applicant for a Job Had to Show in a Character Test.

A New Yorker who, for reasons of delicacy, must be nameless, was recently gratified with a tempting offer of employment.

The firm which sought his services required from him a scientific character reading by an expert. He was referred to a local psycho-analyst retained by the concern.

The expert rated him high on latent ability, but deficient in the essential business qualities of "self-esteem and selfishness."

He did not get the job, says Leslie's. "Sorry," he was told, "but your character shows there isn't enough iron in your makeup."

Ho, for the good old days when a mean man was still an "ornery cuss" and generosity was yet respectable. Time was when a man's kindness recommended him for a job and gave him reasonable hopes of advancement. Now, a growing number of employers insist that his worth be weighed in advance with a pair of apothecary's scales and gauged with a machinist's micrometer. And woe to him if the acute psycho-detective discerns in him a tendency to meekness or human sympathy! He suffers the besetting business vices of modesty and unselfishness!

How deeply, we wonder, have the doctrines of these latter-day prophets penetrated the collective business mind of the country at large! Must the model citizen who listens dutifully on a Sunday morning to a sermon on the brotherhood of man hurry home to a learned treatise on how to despise his neighbor?

What a theme for G. K. Chesterton—or Nietzsche!

HER LIFE AN INSPIRATION

Difficulties Overcome by Helen Keller Should Shame Any One From Discouragement.

Mark Twain once said, "The two most interesting characters of the Nineteenth century are Napoleon and Helen Keller." Helen Keller, the Detroit News recalls, was a normal child until 19 months old. At that time a serious illness left her blind, deaf and dumb. Even during these early years in the dark she learned many things through the sense of touch. Her chief playmates were a little colored girl and an old setter dog.

She was nearly seven years old when a teacher was found to undertake what seemed an impossible task. This teacher, Miss Anne Sullivan, began at once to talk into her little pupil's hand with her fingers. The first word Miss Sullivan spelled into her hand was "doll"; the next word was "cake." The words were quickly spelled back, even before the little girl knew what they meant. Very soon, however, the spelled words with the hand language were connected with a real doll and real cake. Within a month she knew thirty words and could talk them back with her fingers.

As soon as she grasped the thought that all objects have names she learned very fast. Within three months her vocabulary had increased to about 300 words, and within a year to 900 words. She is now a noted writer and lecturer.

Indian Name Restored.

The United States geological board has restored the ancient Indian name to the Cataract canyon and creek in Grand Canyon National park. This is Havasu, the Sky-blue Water.

Havasu canyon, in the western section of Grand Canyon National park, is destined within a few years to become one of the scenic points, which visitors to the national park will desire to see. In its depth there is a primitive Indian tribe living. They are the Havasupai, the people of the Sky-blue Waters.

Less than 200 Indians live in this blooming garden where old fig orchards yield enormous crops and corn grows 10 feet high. The tribe has just held its own for many generations.

English Sparrows Eat Dandelions.

At least one good mark may be set down for the English sparrow, so commonly regarded as a pest. He is fond of the seeds of dandelion, and when the flowers have given place to the fuzzy "blow-balls" spends much of his time cleaning them from the lawn. In this country, as in England, the sparrow is also fond of young peas, and often ruins the early crop by picking off flowers and leaves. In some Chicago suburbs it is now impossible to raise peas without protecting them with a net. Whether the sparrows' good offices in ridding the lawn of dandelions will offset his attack on the peas is a problem.—Science Service.

Transylvania Silkworm Culture.

Silkworm culture in Transylvania, which was highly developed under the Magyar regime, but which declined during the war, is again engaging attention, and the department of agriculture has taken steps to forward the industry. According to Hungarian law, still effective in this district, the products of this industry must be delivered to the government for a fixed amount. It is estimated that 150,000 kilos of silk cocoons, representing a value of 5,000,000 lei, can be purchased this year.

Railroad Electrification.

There are 257,618 miles of railroads in the United States. Less than 1,000 miles have been so far electrified.

ing of Albert Palmer of Newton, who took the part of a French hobo, Louis Pierre de Soupe-Hibon.

The scene of "Don't Mind If I Do," is laid in Switzerland, and the action takes place shortly after the departure of the Harvard Glee Club from that country last summer. The plot centers on the adventures of Reginald Bacon, a member of the club, who, through an unfortunate mishap, is left behind with the baggage when the club goes away. During his enforced stay in the middle-European republic, Bacon has the varied experiences of running a hotel, straightening out the political tangles of two small principalities, Plagatavia and Czecho-Khorsaet, acting as social mentor for the plumber-profiters from Kansas, and falling in love with a Swiss flower-girl.

All the scenery for the production was designed and painted by D. M. Oenslager, a member of the society, who has also done sets for the Harvard Dramatic Club, and for Professor Baker's 47 Workshop. The first scene is a hotel lobby, done in a striking color scheme; the second is an Alpine exterior, done in the "new manner" with conventionalized mountains, trees, and clouds.

PROF. POWERS' LECTURE

The last lecture of Professor H. H. Powers on Readjustments After the War was given at the Newton Public Library on Wednesday evening.

Speaking of conditions in Europe following the Armistice, Prof. Powers said that a good peace could not have been made at the time owing to the intensity of the feeling among the different nations.

He compared the situation of England after the war with that of France, showing how the former was dependent for her food supply upon normal trade relations between countries, and how Germany being before the war one of the principal customers, she was desirous of giving Germany a chance to get on her feet as soon as possible, and to minimize the preparations required of her.

France, on the other hand, is a self contained country not absolutely dependent upon trade with other countries, and greatly in need of money with which to rebuild her factories. She feels keenly that Germany should be made to pay to the uttermost. Thus, there is almost a deadlock between these two countries on the question of reparations.

A common danger brought England and France together, but now differences between the two countries are beginning to be felt. With the destruction of the German navy, England is practically secure, while France is in terror of another German invasion. She, therefore, is anxious to keep her army as strong as possible, and to increase rather than diminish her submarines.

In regard to the recovery of Germany, Prof. Powers expressed the opinion that Germany was needed industrially in Europe, there being no other nation who can take her place as leader. The chopping up of the countries of Europe, he said, was one of the deplorable results of the war.

In conclusion, the lecturer feared that it would be many years before "sweet reasonableness would prevail in the councils of the world."

GIRL SCOUTS

The first meeting of a training course for Girl Scout Leaders will be held on Friday morning, January 6 in the parlors of the Unitarian Church, West Newton at 10 o'clock. The course has been especially planned for Council members and for those who are planning to be officers in Girl Scout troops, but the course is open to anyone who is interested in Girl Scout work and wishes to learn more about it. The class will be divided into Patrols and the course will be run as a Troop with the formal troop opening, business meeting and Court of Honor. In this way the Committee members will get Scouting first hand and those who are to become officers in Troops will get a very practical

EDITORIAL

Seven members of the present board of aldermen retire from office at the close of the year. President Henry I. Harriman has served for seven years, and has been president for two years. The writer has had unusual opportunity during the past thirty-six years to study the members of our city government and has no hesitation whatever in ranking Mr. Harriman with the ablest of the many able men who have served the city. The community is indeed fortunate, in having had the good judgment and sound advice of Mr. Harriman for so long a period. Alderman Percy M. Blake of Newtonville retires after five years of active and energetic service. Mr. Blake was instrumental in bringing about the much delayed widening of Walnut street and took a keen interest in many of the pressing problems before the city, although truth compels us to say that the work rather than the cost was usually uppermost in his thoughts. Alderman C. Haviland Morse of Newtonville has served three years, one year of which he was chairman of the committee on Licenses. While the work of this committee is of comparatively little importance, Mr. Morse has given it his close and careful attention. Alderman Leon B. Rogers of West Newton has served two years but during that time has given ample evidence that his friends made no mistake in thinking he was well qualified to serve as mayor. It is most unfortunate for the best interests of the city that the voters did not have a similar point of view. Alderman Harry L. Cook of Newton Upper Falls has served four years and has been one of the most faithful members of the board. Alderman Albert H. McAuslan of Newton Centre has served for three years, and has been chairman of the important committee on Public Works for the past year. This committee requires a large amount of time and work, both of which Mr. McAuslan has given most generously, and in which his expert knowledge of real estate has been of great value to the city. While Alderman Henry D. Lloyd of Newton has served but one year, we have no hesitation whatever in saying that his defeat for re-election was a misfortune to the city. Mr. Lloyd in his brief term has proved to be wide awake and well informed on the city's needs and problems and gave great promise of becoming a most valuable member of our city government. We hope the voters of Newton may sometime correct the mistake they made in causing his present retirement.

One of the serious problems confronting our Playground department is the constantly increasing numbers of people from Waltham, Watertown and other nearby communities who are skating grounds which are maintained at the expense of the city of Newton for its own residents.

The problem is serious as it involves an increase in police protection as well as the crowded condition of the smaller skating surfaces.

We dislike to be un-neighboring but can see no good reason why Newton should supply skating for other communities who are financially able to do the same if they see fit.

Another striking instance of the public spirit and generosity of the late Frank A. Day and his family is shown in the offer to convey to the city a valuable lot of land adjoining the High School, for the sum paid for the land in 1907 by the late Mr. Day.

The property is worth much more at the present time and Mr. Day and his estate have paid taxes on it for all these years.

The land will be a much needed addition to our high school plant.

While most of our residents usually observe the ordinance requiring removal of snow and ice within 24 hours after the snow ceases to fall, there are still a number of people who either neglect their duty in this respect or try to get by in the hope that a favorable thaw will relieve them of the necessity of doing this work. These persons should realize that they are greatly inconveniencing their friends and neighbors for every hour they violate this necessary ordinance.

May it be a Happy New Year to everyone.

Write it 1922.

FOLEY-BLAKENEY

A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the Church of Our Lady, when Miss Rose A. Blakeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Blakeney of 77 Court street, Newtonville, became the bride of Mr. Albert Foley of West Newton, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Lawrence Slattery.

The bride's gown was of white Canton crepe caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and bridal roses. Miss Helen Blakeney, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore gray Canton crepe, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. John Foley, brother of the groom, was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the couple was showered with many beautiful and costly gifts. Friends from New York, New Hampshire and Boston were present.

Both the bride and the groom have a wide circle of friends in Newton, and were the recipients of many wishes. Mr. Foley is a World War veteran, having served overseas with the Yankee Division, and was severely wounded in action.

After a wedding trip to New York, the couple will make their home in West Newton.

DEATH OF MR. WELLINGTON

Friends of Mr. Henry Hill Wellington were greatly shocked to learn of his unexpected death yesterday at the Bryn Mawr (Pennsylvania) Hospital. Mr. Wellington had been making a business trip in Pennsylvania and contracted pneumonia about 10 days ago and was taken to the hospital.

He was born in Belmont, May 6, 1860, but has lived in this city almost all his life. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Wellington (Helen Hill) of Church street, Newton. He married Miss Blanche Davis and is survived by her and one daughter, Ethel. He was a member of Fraternity Lodge of Masons.

Mr. Wellington was a man greatly liked for his genial personality and he leaves a wide circle of friends to mourn his untimely death.

Y. M. C. A. SWIMMING NOTES

Saturday afternoon, Dec. 31, at 4 o'clock the Beverly "Y" Intermediate swimming team will swim the Newton "Y" Intermediates. Last year Beverly had a championship team and is equally as strong this year. Newton also has a strong Intermediate team so there ought to be something doing when these two teams get together. The public will be admitted.

Following is a summary of events of the Newton-Malden meet.

20 yards—Bang of Newton first; Barnes of Newton second; Baker of Malden third. Time 10 seconds.

40 yards—Noonan of Newton first; Wallace of Newton second; Appleton of Malden third. Time 22 1-5 seconds.

40 yards breast stroke—Millard of Newton first; Jaquith of Newton second; Appleton of Malden third. Time 27 2-5 seconds.

Plunge—Jaquith of Newton first, 56 feet 10 inches; Wallace of Newton second, distance 53 feet; Irving of Malden 49 feet.

100 yards—Millard of Newton first; Appleton of Malden second; Barnes of Newton, third. Time 1 minute and 5 seconds.

Fancy diving—Vuilleumier of Newton first; Barnes of Newton second; Hills of Malden third.

160 yard relay—4 men on team—Won by Newton, Noonan, Wallace, Barnes and Millard. Time 1 minute, 30 1-5 seconds.

DEATH OF MR. MONTGOMERY

Mr. Alexander Montgomery, a civil war veteran, died at his home, 125 Warren street, Newton Centre, last Saturday, in his 81st year.

Mr. Montgomery was born in Glenburn, Me., but came to Newton 36 years ago. At the time of his death he was president of the American Steam Packing Co. of Boston. He was a devoted member of the Methodist Church, Newton Centre, and a much beloved and respected member of the community.

Mr. Montgomery's wife died last year, and his nearest relatives are Mrs. Stephen B. Clark of Norwood, a niece; Mrs. Frank E. Pierce of Bucksport, Me., a niece; and Mr. George W. Goode of Boston, a nephew.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery were noted for their beautiful garden, and for their generosity in supplying friends and neighbors with flowers.

Services were held on Wednesday at the Methodist Church, Rev. Ralph E. Davis, Dr. William E. Huntington, Rev. James E. Wagner, former pastor of the church, and Bishop Edwin H. Hughes officiating. Music was furnished by a male quartet. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

DEATH OF MR. WATSON

Mr. Frederick Albert Watson, died at his home on Cook street, Newton Highlands, last Saturday in his 71st year. Mr. Watson had lived in Newton about 35 years and was a machinist.

He was a member of the congregational church in Newton Highlands and of the Men's League and of the Home Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Surviving him are his widow, Dolena Watson, William Watson, a son, and Mrs. Houghton R. Briggs of Cleveland, Ohio, a daughter.

Services were held in the Congregational Church on Monday, the Rev. Samuel H. Woodrow officiating, assisted by the Rev. George G. Phipps. There was also an Odd Fellows' service with music by the Odd Fellows' quartet. Miss Blakemore of Newton Centre soloist. The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS

The Highland Glee Club, following its custom of the past eight years, sang Christmas carols in various parts of the city last Sunday morning.

Over thirty members of the Club under the leadership of Mr. George Wight of Newton Centre met in Newton Highlands square at 4.45 that morning and with a quartet of horns which Mr. John F. Capron had brought from the Charlestown Navy Yard that morning, started on a trip of the city which included Eliot, Newton Centre, Newton, Newtonville, West Newton and ended at the Newton Hospital. Breakfast was served at the home of Mr. P. Underhill on Monadnock road, Newton Centre.

The Club sang several times in the various wards of the Hospital to the great pleasure and delight of the patients and nurses.

LODGES

At the meeting of Garden City Encampment held on Friday night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: A. A. McKenzie, Chief Patriarch; W. R. Nason, High Priest; G. W. Stark, Senior Warden; Charles F. Dow, Secretary; Rinaldo Neal, Financial Secretary; A. F. A. G. Libby, Treasurer; Charles E. Roach, Junior Warden; George W. Fewkes, Trustee for three years; and A. F. A. G. Libby, Charles F. Dow, George A. Fewkes and Joseph J. Silverice, representatives to the Grand Encampment.

SING AT HOSPITAL

On Christmas morning the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Newton Highlands, under the direction of Mr. Carl Switzer, and accompanied by their pastor, Rev. Theodore R. Ludlow, visited the Newton Hospital, rendering a number of cheering Christmas Carols to the sick.

As each ward was reached the choir, numbering some twenty-five mixed voices, gathered around the little organ, presided by Miss Elsie Tapper of Floral place, and the hearty singing and character of the music made itself plainly visible in the countenances of those whose Christmas would have been much less cheery but for the thoughtfulness of the little band.

The choir has been brought to its splendid stage of efficiency through the efforts of Mr. Carl W. Switzer, a promising young musician of Beaconfield, Brookline, and a pupil of Prof. John Orlin, the well known concert artist, and one of the few living pupils of the great master, Liszt, today, Mr. Switzer is also a composer of no mean ability, and teacher of pianoforte and organ.

One of the most interesting things to the choir members was the mothers and the babies. Old and young reached their crescendos of joy as each was viewed. All were very much impressed with the matron and her staff of nurses, to whom much credit is due for their efficiency and hospitality.

Automobiles owned by members of the church brought the singers to and from the hospital, after which breakfast was enjoyed in the Parish House.

N. H. S. ALUMNI BEATEN

Chiefly through its team play, Newton high triumphed, 2 to 1, over an alumni sextet on the Brae-Burn Country Club rink yesterday morning at West Newton. Minus a few of their stars and forced to draw young Newton from the undergraduate line for the goal, the alumni found their individual work too loose for effective driving.

Changes were frequent during the game which was played right through a 40-minute stretch, although the shifts in the line-up gave the boys a chance to rest. Capt. Drowne did not play the whole game for Newton, while Dunlop, regular defence man, was out, too. The same teams play tomorrow at Brae-Burn, while Newton expects to open its interscholastic league hockey season against Somerville at the Arena Monday afternoon.

WILBUR THEATRE—Alice Delysia, heralded by reports from London, Paris and New York as being an attractive and unique musical comedy star will be seen for the second and last week at the Wilbur Theatre, Boston, beginning with a New Year's Day matinee, Monday, Jan. 2nd. She is appearing under the direction of F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest. This is her first appearance in Boston. Miss Delysia's offering is an intimate musical extravaganza "Algar" in which she appeared at the London Pavilion, London, and the Folies Bergere, Paris, and all last season at the Central Theatre, New York. The book of "Algar" is by Fred Thompson and Worton David, and the music is by Charles Cuvillier. There are many amusing incidents and bright lines, very catchy French songs and unusual costumes designed and created in Paris by Paul Poiret, the famous modiste of Paris.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—With a special Monday matinee, celebrating the New Year, Mr. William Hodge will begin his second week at the Plymouth theatre in his latest success, "Dog Love," originally known as "Beware of Dogs," which title Mr. Hodge changed as he thought that the title was misleading. The usual Thursday and Saturday matinees will be given. In passing it may be stated that in the character of George Oliver, Hodge admirers will see their favorite in a part entirely different from anything he has yet done. In comparison with his past achievements, its nearest approach is his Freeman Whitmarsh in "Sag Harbor." Then he was a village painter and gossip while in "Dog Love," he is a young business man seeking health in the country. Mr. Lee Shubert has provided a fine supporting company for Mr. Hodge, the cast including Ann Davis, Edith Shayne, Mrs. Charles Craig, Harda Dams, John Webster, George Barber, Leighton Stark, Philip Dunning, and others.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO YOU

1922 opens full of promise.

The Disarmament Conference, sitting at Washington, has exceeded all expectations in its magnificent undertaking, and gives us much cause to believe that the ravages of wars, with their burdensome taxation, will be relegated to the past.

European conditions are gradually becoming stabilized, and the clouds of business depression in our own country are slowly but surely lifting.

We look forward to a New Year full of promise and prosperity, and believe that 1922 will abundantly reward the red blooded fighter.

We wish for you—a Happy New Year.

SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the aldermen was held Wednesday evening to pass an order authorizing the purchase of land adjoining the Technical High School owned by the estate of Frank A. Day. It will be recalled that some 15 years ago, there was a popular subscription to purchase the Cladin estate for recreational and educational purposes. At that time there was only money enough to purchase part of the estate and Mr. Day, who was deeply interested in the matter, bought the remaining land with the understanding that it could be taken by the city within the next two years for the sum of $15,000, the price he paid for it. The property was not taken and Mr. Day and later his estate has paid taxes on it ever since. In view of a demand to develop this property, the Day estate have again offered to sell the land to the city for the original amount, and the aldermen unanimously passed the necessary orders, at the meeting on Wednesday, and will pay for the same in 15-year bonds.

The board also appropriated $900 extra for Mother Aid.

CITY HALL

City Hall officers and assistants had with a Christmas tree set up in the aldermanic chamber. Mayor Childs made one of his happy little speeches and Mr. Joseph Edwards distributed joke gifts, ranging from pieces of mistletoe to frankfurters. An impromptu orchestra rendered a few musical selections and refreshments were served.

The following statement of election expenses have been filed with City Clerk Grant: Edwin O. Childs, $154.48; Leon B. Rogers, $318; Elliott B. Church, $113.38; C. Haviland Morse, $113.15; Albert M. Lyon, $93.75; Roy V. Collins, $29.25; C. Sinclair Weeks, $113.38; Harold F. Young, $11; E. J. Winstow, $113.39; Harry B. Ross, $21; Wm. N. Noone, $33.50; A. D. Colby, $116.84; Thomas W. White, $17.50; Henry D. Lloyd, $113.42; Theo. E. Jewell, $18.60; B. M. Rich, $5; George M. Angier, $105.96.

Children as well as adults are invited to this service. All will be given candles, which will be carried lighted into the streets, to symbolize the spread of the Light of the World into the dark places of human life. And the struggle with the wind is the symbol of the struggle to keep the divine light within us from being extinguished.

SHUBERT THEATRE—"Irene" is chock-a-blo with the three or four big musical hits of the last twenty years. It is nothing in the world but that wonderful, bewildering thing "charm," a quality that it is as hard to put your finger on as a perfume. But audiences always quickly recognize and love to be mastered by sheer charm, when it sweeps over the footlights and takes their hearts by storm. The book by James Montgomery is a human document of wit and naturalness that could stand by itself, but to it fittingly is a tuneful, rollicking score by Harry Tierney and some particularly attractive lyrics by Joseph McCarthy. The song-hits include "Alice Blue Gown," "We're Getting Away With It," "Irene," and "The Last Part of Every Party," all with ravishing dance accompaniments. On its return visit to Boston at the Shubert Theatre it is proving even a greater success than at the Wilbur Theatre, where it was the sensation of Boston for eight weeks, over a year ago.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

After the temporary lull of the holiday season the club activities will be resumed in increased vigor with the turn of the calendar. Strictly speaking this is not the New Year for the clubs, yet it is none too early for forward-looking officers to be planning in their minds at least, lines of work far in advance of the months just ahead. Rome was not built in a day, neither does the "desert blossom as a rose," unless the soil is first prepared or firm foundations have been laid upon which to build. So it is with any undertaking of the present day, that which is worthy of the modern club, must be carefully considered and quietly worked at long before the public at large knows anything about it. Undertakings, which upon the surface seem to have sprung full-grown from the brain of Minerva, if the full truth were known, have been simmering in her brain months or even years or they could not possibly have been the success that they were. Officers new to club responsibilities often have had their hopes dashed upon the rocks because of having launched some enterprise before the time was ripe, while a little more time for making the ground ready would have insured success. Yet such need not be disheartened, if only they remember that courage and enthusiasm coupled with patience and persistence can accomplish all things. What better thought can there be for the New Year?

Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls will hold another open meeting, when Mrs. Isabella Taylor will give a dramatic recital of "The First Lady of the Land."

"Present-Day Handicaps of Youth" is the subject of the lecture to be given by Dr. Alfred Stearns, of Phillips Andover Academy, before the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, January 3. The teachers of the high schools will be the guests of the club that afternoon. There will be music arranged by Mrs. W. F. Ferrin.

It is understood that all is in readiness for the Minstrel Show to be given by the Auburndale Woman's Club at the Methodist Parish House on January 3rd. The guests of the club are looking forward to the merry evening promised by our black-faced comedienne, while the "specialties" expect to provide no small part of the varied program. Mrs. H. S. Dawson will be the interlocutor, and Mrs. W. A. Stiles, Mrs. Harold Grout, Mrs. Robert P. Gilman, Jr., Miss Muriel Duffus, Miss Barbara Smith, and Mrs. W. J. Champion, end-men.

Rev. McIlvay H. Lichter will speak on "The Vaudeville Mind" at the meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, which will be held in the Congregational church Tuesday, January 3rd, at 2:30 P. M.

The Newton Social Science Club will hold its monthly business meeting on Wednesday morning.

The Community Service Club of West Newton will hold an open meeting in the parish house of the Unitarian Church on Wednesday, January 4, at 2:30 P. M. There will be a Forum with Miss Mabel C. Bragg, assistant superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Louis Bell, chairman of the Civics committee, as the speakers. Miss Bragg's topic is, "The Schools and the Children," and Mrs. Bell's "A Persistent Neglected Opportunity." There will be music by Miss Virginia Farmer, cellist, and tea will be served. All interested are most cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Norreys Jephson O'Connor will resume his talks upon current literature before the Literature committee of the Newton Community Club at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday, January 4, at 3:30 P. M.

Mrs. Grace M. Poole will continue her series of lectures on current events before the Newton Community Club on Thursday, January 5, at 2:30 P. M.

Members of the club are reminded that guest tickets for Baron Korff's lecture on Friday evening, January 13th, must be secured from the treasurer not later than the 6th, as all remaining tickets will be placed on public sale at Hubbard's after that date.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will hold its regular meeting in G. A. R. hall, on Thursday, January 5th.

Mrs. H. S. Drew of Harvard street, Newtonville, will be hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club on Saturday, January 7. Miss Marion White will conduct the quiz on "The Friendships of Shakespeare's Women."

The Fortnightly Club of Newton Centre will hold its next meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. P. Gray. Tea will be served by Mrs. Robert Anderson and her committee. Mr. Cyrus Dallin will talk on "Reminiscences of Life on the Frontier."

LODGES

At the meeting of Aleppo Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine on Wednesday evening, Messrs. Frank L. Nagle and Joseph A. Bryant were elected trustees.

HERMIT'S LIFE HIS CHOICE

Man Who Has "Flocked by Himself" for Twenty-Five Years Will Have No Other.

A hermit leads a fascinating life. So W. D. Clark says, and he ought to know, for he has been a hermit in the arctic wilderness nearly a quarter of a century.

"Once a hermit, always a hermit," says Mr. Clark. "A hermit wants nobody's pity. He enjoys his solitude and wouldn't trade it for the pleasures and excitement of cities. I have been in civilization a year now and I am going back home to the wilderness as quickly as I can. There are no fakirs, swindlers and thieves there."

Mr. Clark's home cabin is on the headwaters of Peel river, 180 miles from Herschel Island and 110 miles from Fort McPherson. His nearest neighbor is 50 miles away. They see each other once a year. With the exception of this man, Abe Schafer, Mr. Clark is the only human being in a thousand square miles of country. The Indians do not go that far north and the Eskimos do not come that far south.

"I have seen 10,000 caribou in a herd," Mr. Clark said. "They go to the arctic coast in the spring to have their young and in September they return south to the edge of the timber, where they can find shelter and moss on which they live."

The mercury goes 75 degrees below in winter, Mr. Clark says, but it is the most healthful climate in the world. Old-timers up there, he declares, do not know what sickness means.

WORD HAS MANY MEANINGS

When One Mentions "Fish," the Syllable Is Susceptible of More Than One Construction.

"All is not fish that swims" reflected the sapient philosopher as he beheld a summer girl taking to the ocean. The sapient philosopher was formulating a great truth when he came to that conclusion.

The whale, for instance, although it unquestionably swims, is more closely related to the cow than to the minnow. The seal is closer kin to the dog than to the fluke.

To a great many fishermen the word "fish"—see Latin "piscis" and Dutch "visch" (the same word)—possesses only the verb form, "to fish." Catching fish is not a necessary part of the process of fishing. The thing is "to fish," and is not primarily to catch fish. (See fishermen on the banks of the Seine in Paris, "fishing" all day without even getting a bite from a minnow.)

A famous Englishman by the name of Izaak Walton was one of the most persistent patrons of the verb "to fish." The word "fish" was also extensively used during the war in an effort to save meat for the fighters.—Exchange.

Bigamy for a Lodging.

A Le Mans signalman has just been condemned to two years' imprisonment for bigamy which, he avers, he committed in order to find in the present "crise de logement" somewhere to lay his head.

He is a man of fifty-five and he recently married a widow of seventy-five who offered him a room in her cottage on the firm condition that he should marry her. This he did, declaring that his wife was dead. One of his wives was dead, but the police tracked down another, who deserted him some time ago. The unfortunate man has now had "crise de logement" solved for some time, at least.—Paris Figaro.

Blackbird Fed Thrush.

A lady of Penzance who is a great lover of birds, says Mr. W. H. Hudson in his recently published book, "Adventures Among Birds," noticed that a blackbird and a thrush always came together to her lawn where she was in the habit of placing food for the birds. Then she noticed that the blackbird fed the thrush, picking up the crumbs of bread and putting them into its mouth. Looking more closely, she discovered that the thrush's beak had been cut off close to the head, probably by a steel trap or a sudden-death spring trap, such as the children in Cornwall commonly use to catch or kill small birds. The thrush was incapable of feeding itself.

Osmiridium in Tasmania.

Recent exploration and development have revealed enormous deposits of osmiridium and gold-bearing gravels in the valleys of the large rivers of the western division of Tasmania, which is the sole producer on a large scale of point metal osmiridium. For the first half of 1920 the production was 1,003 ounces, valued at $41,642. In March, 1920, the local price reached $42 10s. per ounce, states the London Times Trade Supplement.

A Super-Hero.
"Anything unusual in the court of domestic relations this morning?"
"A young woman who married a bogus war hero wants a divorce."
"That has happened before."
"But this fellow has large ideas. He claims to have won the battle of the Marne."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Reward of Merit.
"What's the most attractive feature of farm life?" asked the city dweller.
"Knocking off work on Saturday and going to town in the driver," said the truthful agriculturist.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

WHERE YOUR MONEY GOES

I am indebted to the late Dr. E. B. Rosa, of the United States bureau of standards, whose analyses of government expenditures I have already quoted in these articles, for the following comprehensive survey of how the taxes you pay to the government are apportioned in expenditures. It will give you the clearest and best idea of where your money goes. For his purpose Doctor Rosa took the actual appropriations for the fiscal year 1920, amounting to a total of $5,686,005,706, as given in the regular supply bills and three deficiency bills prior to May 1, 1920. For convenience he divided the purposes for which this money was spent into six groups as follows:

Group I.—Obligations arising from recent and previous wars, including interest on the public debt, pensions, war-risk insurance, rehabilitation and care of soldiers, deficit in the operation of railways, expenditures of the shipping board, European food relief and the bonus to government employees to cover partially the increased cost of living due to the war, a total of $3,855,482,586.

Group II.—War and Navy departments—expenses somewhat above a permanent peace-time basis—$1,424,138,677.

Group III.—Primary governmental functions, including congress, President and White House staff, courts and penal establishments, departments of justice, state, treasury, interior, commerce, labor, interstate commerce, and other commissions, one-half the District of Columbia, including all the necessary functions of government other than defense, except the commercial activities of Group V and the research, educational and developmental work of Group VI—$1,087,225.

Group IV.—Public works, including rivers and harbors, public buildings, reclamation service, post roads, national parks and railway in Alaska—$168,203,557.

Group V.—Commercial or self-supporting activities, including the post office, land office, Panama canal and housing corporation, which, taken together, earn their expenses.

Group VI.—Research, educational and developmental, including the wide range of work of the Agricultural department, geological survey, bureau of mines, coast and geodetic survey, bureau of standards, bureau of fisheries, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, bureau of labor statistics, women's and children's bureaus, vocational education, colleges for agriculture and mechanic arts, library of congress, Smithsonian institution and the public health service—$57,093,661.

Total groups I to VI—$5,686,005,706.

Summary.

Group	Description	Amount	Per Cent
Group I	Expenditures arising from recent and previous wars	$3,855,482,586.50	67.81
Group II	War and Navy departments	1,424,138,677.57	25.02
Group III	Primary governmental functions	1,087,225.41	3.19
Group IV	Public works	168,203,557.46	2.97
Group V	Commercial and self-supporting activities	57,093,661.93	1.01
Group VI	Research, educational and developmental	57,093,661.93	1.01
Total		$5,686,005,706.97	100.00

The first two groups together amount to 92.8 per cent of the total; public works amounts to 3 per cent, primary governmental functions 3.2 per cent, and research, educational and developmental work, 1 per cent. The population of the country being about 110,000,000, the total budget is about fifty dollars a year per capita, of which fifty cents a year per capita is expended for the wide range of research, educational and developmental work included in Group VI.

"That is, of the fifty dollars a year per capita collected for all purposes, a dollar and a half a year per capita," Doctor Rosa went on to point out, "was spent for what is here called primary functions of government; nearly as much more was put into public works, and fifty cents a year was put back into research, educational and developmental work, to promote scientific research, to increase production and efficiency, to develop wealth, to promote the public health and to conserve our natural resources. That is a very small part of the total—hardly enough to be regarded as a burden on the nation."

"Indeed, one is led to wonder whether the total burden of taxation would not be lighter if the expenditure for scientific and developmental work were increased; if, for example, it were one dollar a year per capita instead of fifty cents. In other words, if $110,000,000 were expended annually for this creative and productive work, would it not be easier to collect the five and a half billions for other purposes?"

The big money, of course, goes for war, past, present and future, and that is where the saving must be made.

Thirty thousand persons are killed or injured in the United States every day.

WAR'S HORRIBLE WASTE

Mr. R. C. Leffingwell was the assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of finances during the war. While he was in the treasury he became deeply impressed with the magnitude of government expenditures and the looseness, inefficiency and waste that are a part of government method. All the secretaries of the treasury since the outbreak of the war have shared this feeling of apprehension and concern with Mr. Leffingwell. I quote here a recent utterance of his on war expenditures:

"Of the $4,000,000,000, exclusive of interest on the public debt, spent in the fiscal year 1921, $1,101,615,013.32 was spent by the War department, $650,373,835.58 by the Navy department, $800,000,000 on the railroads, $230,000,000 by the bureau of war risk insurance, and $357,814,897.01 by the Interior department, mostly, I take it, for Civil war and Spanish war pensions—a total of $3,080,000,000 under these heads."

"In the fiscal year 1920 the War department spent $1,610,000,000, and the Navy department $740,000,000, a total of $2,350,000,000. Secretary Mellon estimates that in the fiscal year, 1921, the War department will spend $1,025,000,000, and the Navy department $700,000,000, a total of $1,725,000,000; and that in the fiscal year, 1922, the War department will spend $570,000,000, and the Navy department $545,000,000, a total of $1,115,000,000. This makes a three-years' total of $5,190,000,000."

"Germany went to war to realize on her investment in arms and armies. The burden of universal military service, expenditures on the army and navy, subsidies and doles, became intolerable. She thought she would repeat the exploit of 1870 and make war so profitable in territory and indemnities as to recoup herself for the outlay of 40 years' preparation. The splendid resistance of the Belgians and the French and of the little British expeditionary force made the short war a futile dream. The untrained manhood and unmortgaged resources of the Western World, of the British empire overseas, and finally of America, determined the issue. Germany suffered economic collapse, though her armies, beaten but not routed, were still on enemy soil. So Germany's military preparedness was her cause for making war and was the cause of her defeat. In the issue, it was economic preparedness that mattered most."

"Today, men, women and little children are starving to death in Europe because of the war's horrible waste and because of the still more horrible waste of after the war. Two years and a half after armistice, nearly two years after peace was concluded between Germany and the allies, millions of men are under arms, eating and wearing the produce of the fields and of the labor of a civilian population which must bear the load of taxes and inflation necessary to maintain those armies in economic idleness. The people of continental Europe are staggering under the load of armaments, far too great before the war and intolerable now. Their rulers hold themselves in power by subsidies and doles, by playing, now on their fears, and again on their avarice, still again on nationalistic ambitions or ancient racial hatreds. The allies have undertaken to insure Germany's economic recovery by insisting upon her disarmament and the payment of reparations which means the development of a huge export balance; but for themselves they reserve the doubtful privilege of remaining armed to the teeth."

"We have demonstrated our military power. We have shown what may be done in a few short months to make an army and transport it to wage a foreign war. We have no need to be aggressors abroad, we are invulnerable at home. Let us accept the responsibilities of the position of leadership which is ours, show the world how to beat swords into plowshares, relieve the peoples of the world of apprehension and lead them back into the ways of peace and plenty. If we prepare for war we shall have it. If we lead the world in preparation for peace we may have that."

Steel Barrels.

If the statements of the makers are well founded, it is probable that steel barrels will eventually take the place of wooden ones. The steel barrel is composed of staves of that material locked together by an ingenious device; the hoops and heads are also of steel. It is claimed that the steel barrel is more durable and more compact than the wooden one. As it is said to be lighter and cheaper, it has already had favor in various quarters. About 300,000,000 barrels are needed annually in normal times, to supply the demand in the United States. Flour mills use about 90,000,000, the sugar industry 40,000,000, and the cement industry 75,000,000.—Christian Science Monitor.

WHAT PERSHING THINKS

The appropriations of the five great powers for military and naval purposes in the year 1920 alone reached a total of $16,442,251,101, a sum only about $2,000,000,000 more than the total for the whole fourteen years before the war.

It all comes down to this so far as you are concerned:

Every morning when you go to work, or when you stay at home sick on a working day, or even if you are out of a job, it has been arranged for you to pay your fair share out of what you earn or should earn, of over $5,000,000 a day for the support of the army and navy. That is the estimate for the fiscal year 1922—over $5,000,000 a day. I have General Pershing's word for it. You will have to pay it. Five million dollars every working day is a pile of money to spend for insurance against attack. And of course that is not all the cost. What is the big idea? What do you think about it? You will have to pay the bill. Do you think about it at all? General Pershing does. This is what he thinks:

"As we consider the causes of the World war and comprehend its horrors, every thinking man and woman must feel that measures should be taken to prevent another such calamity. One step in that direction would be to reduce expenditures for armament. Our own estimates for naval and military purposes contemplate an appropriation for the fiscal year 1922 of over $5,000,000 for every working day in the year. It is a gloomy prospect that the nations plan expenditures greater than ever before in peacetimes."

"It would appear that recent experiences should be enough to convince everybody of the danger of a renewal of this competition. But one nation cannot reduce armaments unless all do. It is time that enlightened people everywhere should undertake to reach some rational agreement which would not only relieve the world of its heavy financial burden but which in itself would go far toward the prevention of war. We are not a warlike people. We do not wish to expand at the expense of any other nation, and we have no designs on anybody. If other people feel the same toward us and toward each other it seems unreasonable that they should be unwilling to consent in principle to some limitation of armaments, to be carried out when other nations succeed in establishing stable governments and are willing to recognize the wisdom of such a course. Otherwise, may we not seriously ask ourselves whether civilization is a failure, and whether we are to regard war as an unavoidable scourge that mankind must suffer?"

"There are other considerations which should prompt us to make every effort to bring about a curtailment of these expenditures throughout the world, particularly in the war-torn countries of Europe. The people of Europe have always been our best customers and are largely dependent upon us for certain necessities. We must look to them to buy the products of our farms, mines and factories. The prosperity of our people depends in no small measure upon the uninterrupted flow of commodities abroad. We have stocks of cotton, wheat and other products greatly in excess of our own requirements, which the people of Europe sorely need but which we cannot sell and they cannot buy because their fiscal systems have broken down, their currencies have depreciated, and their purchasing power is exhausted."

"The first step to take in the rehabilitation of the finances of all these countries is to reduce the cost of government so that expenses will not exceed the incomes. Expenditures must be lowered everywhere if financial stability is to be restored and if the nations are ever to pay their debts. Until stability is restored none can have prosperity that comes from a free and uninterrupted flow of products from one country to another. But this cannot be done if huge sums continue to be appropriated for the maintenance of large armies and large navies. The safety of humanity in the future, indeed the peace, the happiness and the prosperity of the race—all appeal alike for an early consideration of the question of limited armaments."

Broadly speaking, it is the man who profits, and not the simple average man who endures, who is behind all this movement for ever increasing armament. If you doubt this, just go into your own neighborhood and ask men who were actually in the war, who saw service in the line, whether they want any more of it.

Scientific Query.

When we read about monkey stars getting salaries of $1,000 a week in the movies we wonder whether evolution is what it has been cracked up to be.

Are Your Trees Damaged?

It is a well-known fact that injurious insects have devastated many valuable trees and shrubs—which could have been saved by attention at the proper season.

It is a deplorable sight to see many of our majestic trees rapidly declining through neglect and the work of the "Tree Butcher," when timely attention and efficient workmanship would have produced satisfactory results.

Do you realize that practical and theoretical knowledge of plant life are absolutely essential for successful tree surgery.

NEWTON COMMUNITY HOUSE

We are glad to report that the work is still going on in a small way; yet we are in hopes of getting larger quarters where we can carry on this work in a more definite way. Articles of clothing are being received and I am finding a great field for distribution; your cast-off clothing can be used by some of the needy right here in the Newtons. I plan on fitting up a reading room in the Boy Scouts Building for the boys; and if you have any books that you do not care for I shall be glad to have them, literature or fiction. I can use them in my social work. Also if any persons would like to help me financially but want more information I shall be glad to give the same cheerfully. I can furnish girls for house-work or young men for chore-work. Just call Mr. Hill, 1445 Washington St., West Newton. Tel. 904-J. Advertisement.

MR. ASPINWALL DEAD

Mr. William Henry Aspinwall, member of the real estate firm of Aspinwall & Codman, 50 Congress street, died Tuesday at his home in Chestnut Hill.

He was born in Brookline on Aug. 31, 1861, the son of William and Arlene Southgate (Porter) Aspinwall, and a descendant of Peter Aspinwall, who came from England in 1640.

He prepared for college at Nobles' school, Boston, and was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1883. Immediately after graduation he entered the brokerage business, later taking up real estate, trusteeship and the management of estates, with Russell S. Codman of 59 Marlboro street as his partner.

Mr. Aspinwall was president of the Congress Street Safe Deposit Company, treasurer of St. Luke's Home for Convalescents and a trustee of the Congress Street Associates, the Cross Roads Associates and the Empire Building Trust, Atlanta, Ga.

He was formerly a member of the 1st corps Cadets and also belonged to the Somerset, Union, Exchange and Country Clubs. His summer home was at Magnolia.

A son, Lt. Augustus Aspinwall, Harvard '20, was killed in France in 1918. Surviving Mr. Aspinwall are a son, George Lowell Aspinwall, Harvard '14, and a daughter, Miss Lucy Aspinwall.

—The Stone Institute and Home for Aged People was the scene of a very enjoyable time Saturday evening. The first part of the program consisted of Christmas carols and old time songs after which to the music of a march, the ladies assembled in an adjoining room where they were cordially greeted by Santa Claus and his wife. In the center of the room stood a tree laden with all kinds of packages large and small that were distributed by Mrs. and Mr. Santa Claus. Beside the tree was a large pie that was the occasion of much fun when the ladies received their share. After the presents were given out Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus gave some old time dances. Much credit is due to the matron, Miss Frost, who had charge of the affair. She was ably assisted by the two nurses of the Home, Mrs. Snow and Miss Hogan, who represented Santa Claus and his wife.

Objection to Classic Dancing.

Jud Tunkins says he doesn't like amateur classic dancing because it reminds him of the way summer boarders act of an evening when the mosquitoes are bad.

DEATH OF MRS. FLOOD

Mrs. Kate Elizabeth Flood the wife of Mr. John Flood died Monday afternoon at her home on Washington St., Newton, after a long and painful illness of over a year. Mrs. Flood was born in Newton December 20, 1852, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick and Mary Doherty, and has resided all her life within a short distance of her birthplace.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Miss Katherine R. A. Flood, who is well known in Grand Army work, and one son Mr. George P. Flood of this city.

The funeral services on Thursday morning were attended by a throng of people and gave ample testimony of the regard and esteem in which she was held in this community.

There was a solemn high mass at the Church of Our Lady, with Rev. Fr. L. W. Slattery as celebrant, Rev. M. J. Burke, deacon, and Rev. E. J. Burke, sub deacon. Rev. Dr. Paul Waters was master of ceremonies, and Rev. Austin Doherty of Cambridge, a cousin, was seated in the sanctuary.

The pall bearers were Messrs. John F. Griffin, John T. Joyce, Albany Boudrot, C. H. Keefe, Edward J. Burke, and P. S. Fitzgerald. The interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.
